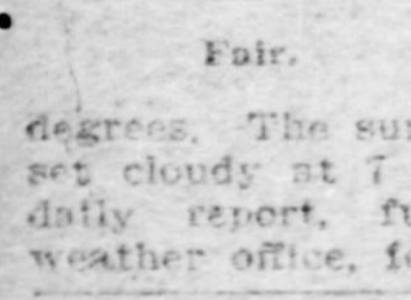
SOUTH AFRICA OPEN TO CHINESE COOLIES

LONDON, Aug. 14.—(Special Cable.)—The new tariff for Cape Colony goes into effect tomorrow, and British South Africa will then be open to Chinese coolies. It is now a foregone conclusion that the Boers will acquiesce in the introduction of Chinese labor, as the committee of inquiry into the labor problem is notoriously in favor of such a course. The complaisance of the Boers practically kills all opposition to Asiatic labor and the rand is looking forward to better times.

THE WEATHER



Fair.

Failing to make good his prediction for rain in Pittsburgh yesterday, the Washington weather man takes a new tack and predicts fair conditions in this section today, but remains on the fence as to the kind of weather he will deal out tomorrow. Yesterday's maximum temperature was 80 degrees, and the minimum 59 degrees. The sun rose clear at 5:08 and set cloudy at 7 o'clock yesterday. The daily report, furnished by the local weather office, follows:

REVOLT WOULD AID THE CANAL

Senator Cullom Suggests Way to Circumvent Colombia.

DEPENDS ON PANAMA

President Consults Illinois Statesman on Unwelcome News Concerning Status of Treaty.

CALLERS AT SAGAMORE HILL

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 14.—President Roosevelt was in a measure prepared for the bad news about the Panama canal treaty. The feeling in the inner circle of our diplomacy has been that the treaty would be ratified by the Colombian congress, but with amendments which would be equivalent to killing it. In view of this outlook the president sent for Senator Cullom of Illinois, chairman of the committee on foreign relations, to talk over matters. Senator Cullom had charge of the treaty in the last congress and at the extra session of the senate and succeeded in getting it ratified so far as the United States is concerned.

Senator Cullom came here today, accompanied by his son-in-law, William B. Ridgely, comptroller of the currency. He and Mr. Ridgely remained to luncheon. Secretary Hitchcock and T. B. Burns of Minneapolis were also in the party.

The president privately discussed with Senator Cullom the Panama treaty and the Cuban reciprocity treaty. He also talked about the date of the extra session and the prospect of inducing congress to agree on a currency bill.

Treaty Outlook Bad.

The outlook for the canal treaty is so bad at Bogota that it is extremely probable there will be a third question to be taken up at the extra session and that it will be the isthmian canal. These are three large questions and it is doubtful if they all could be disposed of before the regular session meets if congress got to work tomorrow instead of the first week in October.

One might expect, from statements previously made by the president to the effect that he considered either canal route practicable, and from the two reports of the isthmian canal commission, one of which favored Nicaragua and the other Panama, that the administration, as soon as the Colombian congress killed the treaty by amending it, would be willing to follow out the act of congress under which the canal is to be built, and turn to Nicaragua. No such intention can yet be discovered. The administration is still wedded to the Panama route. It does not yet seem to be willing to go so far as to invade Panama as soon as Colombia acts adversely and with an armed force to protect the workmen, proceed to dig the canal, but there has been significant talk in administration circles of getting around the matter in some other way. This intention, which is not clearly defined, was voiced this evening by Senator Cullom in an interview which he gave The Gazette soon after he left Sagamore Hill.

Cullom Has Hopes.

"What is the outlook for the treaty?" Senator Cullom was asked.

"It does not seem to me to be encouraging," was the reply.

"Do you regard the contemplated action of the Colombian congress in amending the treaty as killing it?"

"Such action would certainly make the task of perfecting the treaty a very difficult one. I understand that it is proposed to make seven or eight or nine amendments to the treaty and it may come back to us in a very unsatisfactory form."

"In that event will the administration follow the isthmian canal law, and having failed to negotiate a treaty with Colombia, turn to the Nicaragua route?"

"I do not think we are ready to aban-

EXPRESS SPED INTO A SWITCH

One Killed and 15 Hurt on Ft. Wayne at Van Wert, Ohio.

TELESCOPED FREIGHT

Nine Postal Clerks Are Among Those Injured on Ill-Fated Train.

CAUSED BY CARELESSNESS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Van Wert, O., Aug. 14.—Fifteen minutes late and running at the rate of 45 miles an hour the limited New York express on the Pennsylvania road ran into an open switch at the Burt street crossing late this afternoon. One man was instantly killed, another fatally injured, while 14 others were more or less seriously injured.

THE DEAD:

CHARLES B. EATON, Fort Wayne, crushed beneath his engine.

THE INJURED:

A. W. BOGGS, fireman, Fort Wayne, Ind., fatally scalded and crushed.

B. W. HEALY, postal clerk, Plymouth, Ind., head cut and internally injured.

N. T. TRAVEL, postal clerk, Canton, O., back injured and badly bruised.

FRANK MONTGOMERY, postal clerk, Ada, O., head badly cut, leg and back injured.

C. F. STAHL, postal clerk, Chicago, rib broken, ankle dislocated, bad cut on leg and face.

HARRY WRIGHT, postal clerk, Chicago, bruised and injured.

WILLIAM BOWON, postal clerk, Chicago, bruised.

JOHN OLOPHELL, postal clerk, Valparaiso, Ind., knee cut, back badly injured.

H. D. WIGAND, postal clerk, Columbia City, Ind., slight bruises.

A. F. KYLE, brakeman, Fort Wayne, Ind., severe cut and back injured.

CLARK CHANNELL, baggageman, Crestline, O., back injured and badly bruised.

B. F. AMSTED, Chicago, porter, severely cut on head and internally injured.

D. J. H. JENKINS, Rushmore, O., slightly injured.

J. H. BARNES, Rushmore, O., slightly injured.

The train consisted of a mail car, baggage car, combination express and baggage car, two day coaches and a dining car, in addition to three Pullman coaches.

When the engine entered the switch it first struck a flat car, and ran over top of it. The first mail car in turn climbed over the engine, and was followed by the other three cars, all of which were reduced to kindling wood. The rear cars remained upon the track.

It is presumed that Engineer Eaton saw the open switch as the steam was afterwards found shut off in his engine and the sand had been applied.

All the injured were removed to their homes on various trains. It is not definitely known how the switch came to be open, but it is thought the crew of a local freight which had been switching a short time before failed to close it.

FIVE TRAINMEN HURT.

Passenger from Pittsburgh Collides With a Freight Near Wheeling.

WHEELING, W. VA., Aug. 14.—(Special.)—The afternoon passenger train from Pittsburgh on the Baltimore & Ohio collided with a freight two miles east of this city. Those seriously hurt are:

ABE DILLEY, baggagemaster, struck in ribs with trunk.

F. R. HARVEY, brakeman, thigh dislocated and head injured.

D. R. HOBBS, freight fireman, severe bruises.

WILLIAM WOODSTOCK, engineer, badly cut and bruised.

When the crash came both crews leaped for safety, and the engines telescoped.

The passengers in the coaches were thrown from their seats, but none were seriously hurt.

KNOCKOUT IN TENTH ROUND WOUND UP A VICIOUS FIGHT, WITH JEFFRIES AGGRESSOR

Champion Won Easily, Corbett Being Unable to Inflict Any Damage—Loser's Blows Lacked Steam.

RECEIPTS THIRD LARGEST IN HISTORY OF PRIZE RING

Corbett Fails to Show in a Single Instance Any Improvement in Form Over That Shown in His Former Battle With the Champion.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

San Francisco, Aug. 15.—Jim Jeffries retains his title as champion of the world by knocking out Jim Corbett in the tenth round. The punches which did Corbett were a left and a right, each of them landing in the stomach and each sending Corbett to the floor. While he was sitting on his haunches and in evident distress, Tommy Ryan jumped into the ring and acknowledged defeat. Just as soon as Corbett could speak he said to Jeffries:

"You are too strong for me. You licked me fairly and squarely, and I want to say that I was never in better condition in my life."

Jeffries Admits That Corbett Fought Well

Jeffries said after the fight:

"My fight tonight will demonstrate to the public that I am a better man than I ever was, and gives the lie to the reports which have been circulated in some quarters that I am a physical wreck, through drink and other dissipation. I trained faithfully for this fight, and the result shows that I am the natural champion. I outboxed Corbett in every round and carried the fight to him at every stage of the game. I must say, however, that Corbett put up a better fight than I thought he would. His punches had no steam, and when they did land, which was not often, they did not faze me. At no time was I distressed, and I felt confident of winning from the first. I would have put him out in the fourth if my glove had not busted. The half minute's delay to replace the glove did Corbett a world of good, and he was able to continue the contest. Though he knew I was his master and lost his old-time confidence, he occasionally showed his old agility. I fought harder with my trainers during the conditioning season than I did with Corbett, and I finished the contest as fresh as when I entered the ring. I have no plans for the future. Those matters are left to my manager and trainer."

The fight had a Jeffries flavor throughout. He was as fast as his trainers had claimed him to be, and Corbett was unable to keep out of his way for any length of time. When Corbett saw it was useless to run he began to duck into clinches and hold on. Jeff held his arms down and fought while Corbett was holding on. Corbett displayed great cleverness in ducking Jeff's left swings for the head. He also used his elbows effectively three times in blocking the champion's body smashes, but when he became tired Jeff sent in the punishing blows.

Jeff Rested a Little.

In the eighth and ninth rounds Jeff was either tired or else made up his mind to rest. He allowed his gloves to rest almost to his hips, and Corbett pecked away at him with both fists. Corbett's left jolts and right slaps on the chin only made Jeff grin, but the gallery noted the champion's inactivity and thought he was hurt. Every little whack from Corbett was cheered tumultuously under the impression that Jeff was on the toboggan to defeat.

At the close of the ninth round, the one in which Corbett had been busiest and had shown to best advantage, Corbett was pale-faced and wild-eyed from his own exertions. To add to his distress Jeff caught him a stiff left arm jab about the midriff just as the gong clanged, and Corbett strode to his corner in a heavy-footed manner.

He did not freshen up to any extent by the time he went to the scratch again. He still worked a jolty left and a snappy right, but they had not the slightest effect. Jeff grinned and bored in and finally got in the first of the heavy body smashes which brought defeat to Corbett. Corbett fought timidly throughout, and it was evident that he had the greatest respect for the champion's blows. He was knocked down in the sixth round with a right on the jaw, but he was not dazed.

Jeffries Best Man, Corbett Freely Admits

Corbett said after the fight:

"I did my best and lost. I fought the best I knew. Jeffries was too big for me, and he is the best man in the world. If the public is satisfied with my fight, I am. I am glad to give Jeffries all the credit that is his due. I have no personal feelings in the matter. I have fought my last fight."

Blows Had No Effect.

He made frequent use of a right hander which reached Jeff at a point under the heart. It is safe to say that it had no more effect on Jeff than if it had been delivered by a boy a dozen years old. The champion fought a winning fight throughout.

Referee Graney says he could see that Corbett was done for when he received the body blow during the ninth round.

When the fight was all over Billy Delaney said to those at the ring: "It does not amount to much, I suppose, but I claim first blood for Jeff. He got it in the very first round when he landed on Corbett's mouth.

Corbett received many telegrams from eastern friends, principally theatrical, offering him lucrative engagements, win or lose.

During the fight Corbett talked continuously to Jeffries and to the referee and made a number of facetious remarks. He was game to the end, and whenever Jeffries landed a blow would make a jesting remark. In the sixth round, during a clinch, just after Jeffries had punished him severely, he remarked to the referee:

"Watch him, Eddie, he's trying to knock me out."

He also said: "He can't knock me out; go ahead and try it."

Jeffries only grinned and waded into his man all the harder. Corbett's system of training was undoubtedly beneficial to him as a physical point of view, but it apparently detracted from his speed. He did not keep away from Jeffries in the manner that was anticipated, but closed clinching at every opportunity. He also did some clever ducking, thereby avoiding deadly blows, but all his cleverness was of no avail.

He fought his fight, and when time came Jeffries delivered the necessary blows and installed himself more firmly than ever on his pedestal as champion heavy weight pugilist of the world.

The crowd that witnessed the contest was undoubtedly the largest that ever assembled at a similar entertainment in California. Corbett was the gallery favorite and every tap that he landed on Jeffries was greeted with cheers. It was a sad crowd that watched a native-born San Francisco man succumb to the superior strength of the giant from Southern California.

BIG CROWD GATHERS EARLY TO DISCUSS FIGHTERS' MERITS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

RINGSIDE, 8 p. m. (11 p. m. Pittsburgh time.)—The crowd gathered early. The plain people were in line when the galleries opened at 6 o'clock, and it did not take long to fill the upper rows. Down Larkin street, where the main entrance is located, great throngs gathered while daylight lingered. A big force of police kept sidewalks and streets clear for passers-by. Two long lines were formed on either side of the doorway before 7 o'clock, and when the doors were opened a stream of humanity poured steadily into the big building.

Many of those who came so early did so merely to avoid the big crush in the doorways. Once inside the building they did not seek seats, but stood around in knots, discussing the possibilities of the fight. Some wildcat rumors came along from the betting sections. One was to the effect that there was no Jeffries money in sight and that some of the Corbett bettors had offered odds of 7 to 10 without takers. This report was knocked galley west by a man who had just come in from the pool rooms. He said:

"That story is ridiculous. I made the circuit of the betting quarters before I started out here and found things going very slowly, with Jeff still a 2 to 1 favorite. Some of the pool men told me the betting was lighter than on any previous world championship fight."

Box Office Receipts.

While the crowd was pouring in various estimates were made as to the

CHRISTIANS SLAUGHTERED

Turks Burn Macedonian Village and Kill Inhabitants.

EXECUTE MURDERER

Russia's Demand Satisfied, but Consul's Widow Refuses $80,000 Indemnity.

AMMUNITION SEIZED IN SERVIA

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Vienna, Aug. 14.—Fighting in Macedonia is going forward on a more extensive scale and in one or two instances at least the insurgents have felt themselves strong enough to make an open fight against the Turkish troops.

Several thousand Albanians have marched to reinforce the Turkish troops who have recaptured Krishevo and have massacred the whole Christian population. The Mohammedans in surrounding villages surrendered their arms to the Bulgarians. The insurgents have killed many Wallachians at Kutza because they acted as Turkish spies. Albanians in revenge for the destruction of the Albanian villages of Salo and Zaitsha by the insurgents have burned the Christian village of Karbonstza and have slaughtered its inhabitants.

Friends of the Macedonians here explain the report that Krushevo has been retaken by the Turks by saying that it is no part of the plans of the insurgent leaders in the field to garrison and fight for the possession of the cities. Their men can be put to more profitable use, they say, and beside, it is absurd to hope that any city could be held against the overwhelming forces the Turks could bring against it.

Official reports confirm the report that a general massacre of Christians in Bulgaria is not improbable. It is taking all the power of high Turkish officials to prevent it. News from the other Balkan states indicate that they are in a ferment, and it is reported that the Russian and Austrian governments have pretty nearly abandoned hope of any settlement of the troubles short of intervention.

SALONICA, Aug. 14.—A railway bridge between Florina and Kenali, was blown up last midnight. A revolutionary force numbering 1,500, has appeared in the Czernarka district.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 14.—A court martial held at Monastir condemned the gendarme, Halim, to death for the murder of M. Rostkovski, the Russian consul at Monastir. The sentence was immediately carried out.

The imperial troops have occupied Krushevo, 21 miles north of Monastir, which was recently seized by the insurgents. A force of 4,000 troops besieged the place and bombarded it with artillery. The fighting with the revolutionists is still proceeding outside the town. Consular advices from Monastir and Salonica indorse the belief that any overt movement in those towns on the part of the revolutionary committees will lead to a massacre of the Bulgarian inhabitants by the Musselmans.

Mme. Rostkovski has declined to accept the $80,000 offered by the Turkish government as an indemnity for the assassination of her husband.

BELGRADE, SERVIA, Aug. 14.—A large quantity of ammunition intended for the Macedonian insurgents has been confiscated in the custom house here. It was packed in wooden cases, marked "hardware" and "nails."

Rushing Work on Capitol.

HARRISBURG, Aug. 14.—(Special.)—Contractor Payne is rushing work on the new capitol. Today arrangements were made to put 21 more bricklayers to work next week. Workmen are now engaged in laying the brick work for the electric power house, the foundation having been completed this week.

During the week additional shipments of granite and structural iron have been received and are ready to be put in place.

SCHWAB WILL CLOTHE NATION

Tailoring on a Gigantic Scale Engages His Attention.

TO OPEN 100 STORES

Company Will Establish Hundreds of Branches and Will Employ 500,000 Men.

DETAILS OF BIG ENTERPRISE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Aug. 14.—A New York news agency tonight says: "The latest is a tailoring company and Charles M. Schwab, the steel king and millionaire, is behind it. The facts came out today when P. A. Schwab, an uncle of the former president of the steel corporation, and David J. Welch, for many years the right hand man of a big woolen mill concern, began to make contracts on a mammoth scale. Both these men have spent many years in this line of business and are experts.

The company under the name of "The United Tailors" will begin operations on August 22 in New York city, opening seven stores simultaneously. These will be increased from day to day until a hundred retail branches are established in Greater New York, where there is already 12,000 tailors. Branches will be also immediately established in the big cities through the country and extended as quickly as possible to every city in the union of 25,000 inhabitants. Pennsylvania will have branches in Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Erie and other cities. In two years' time the company expects to have this vast chain of branches in working order and will then be giving employment to 500,000 men. A great central school will be established in New York at which cutters, choppers, trimmers and salesmen will be educated and then sent out through the country to the branches where they may be needed. The company will, as soon as possible, own its own mills, both here and abroad. At present it has secured the output of one mill in Massachusetts and is now negotiating for more. A majority of the details will be worked out by Mr. Schwab at his offices at No. 71 Broadway, where he has an entire floor of the building.

DANIELS IS SKEPTICAL.

Will Oppose Financial Measures Built on Aldrich or Fowler Specifications.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—(Special.)—Senator John W. Daniel of Virginia declares himself uncompromisingly opposed to the present Republican program of financial legislation. In view of the fact that Senator Daniel is the ranking Democratic member of the senate committee on finance, his attitude is of importance.

Senator Daniel, while he does not regard as an impossibility the task of framing a bill that will meet the approval of the Democrats, Mr. Daniel does not believe there will be any financial legislation this winter unless the Republicans devise a measure radically different from the Aldrich bill and the Fowler asset banking proposition. He is opposed to both of these measures and believes he will have the support of his Democratic colleagues on the finance committee.

PLUCKY WOMAN HELPS CAPTURE FLEEING THIEF

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—(Special.)—Early today Mrs. Annie Oxman caught hold of the pedal extremity of a man who was trying to leave her apartments unseen and unheard. The burglar dragged Mrs. Oxman to the window, and then, by striking her in the face, freed himself and jumped to the ground. Mrs. Oxman went down under the blow, but did not lose her nerve. She jumped, too, and landed on top of the fugitive. She enveloped him in her arms and screamed for help. The burglar fought free and ran into the arms of Policeman Neary.

BLEICHNER IS ON THE SLATE

South Side Alderman Selected by Democrats for Prothonotary.

WAS NAMED BY CLARK

Fusion Ticket Is Now Complete, Unless Harry S. Calvert Refuses the Shrievalty.

CITIZENS BOSSES CONFER

Alderman J. A. Bleichner has been slated by the Democratic leaders as the fusion candidate for prothonotary. He is being given the nomination in payment for political debts long since overdue. His slating was secured by County Commissioner James A. Clark and the selection has been approved by the other members of the Democratic combine.

Bleichner has been ordered to keep under cover until Tuesday, when the joint slate-making conference is to be held at Citizens headquarters. The 'squire left Tuesday for the quiet little village of Cheathaven, in Fayette county. His brother says that he will return to the city Tuesday.

So far Harry S. Calvert has not given his promise to accept the shrievalty nomination. Harry L. Goehring has been agreed to for district attorney. Cornelius Casey of Sharpsburg is settled on for jury commissioner. Some countryman is to be named for director of the poor. The ticket will then be complete, if Calvert sticks. He is to give his answer to the Citizens bosses not later than Monday.

Paying an Old Debt.

Bleichner is the alderman of the Twenty-fifth ward. He is a young Democrat who has rendered valuable services to the fusionists in the three fights. Especially was he active in the interest of Clark and the commissioner expected to care for him with a police magistracy. Charles A. Fagan and W. J. Brennen captured the two magistracies allotted to the Democrats and Bleichner found himself on the "overlooked" list. When Bigelow allowed the Democrats to name the prothonotary Clark declared that he must be a German. He at once signed his colleagues for Bleichner and then took a train for Atlantic City to remain until it is time to return and put through the fusion slate.

Casper Mayer was mentioned for the prothonotaryship and Bigelow said that he thought he would be named. The Citizens leader had hoped that the Democrats would select a countryman to assist in balancing the machine slate geographically. The Democratic combine refused to stand for Mayer. The chief objection urged against his slating was his independence. As one of the bosses put it, "He is too hard to manage. If we did succeed in electing the ticket, Mayer might take a contrary spell when it came to naming the clerks and we would have another Stenger on our hands."

Worked on the Slate.

There was a meeting of the Citizens fusion committee yesterday afternoon at the offices of Murry A. Verner. There were present Thomas S. Bigelow, M. A. Verner, Mayor W. B. Hays, Mayor James G. Wyman, Director E. J. McIlvain, T. C. Jones and C. M. Bock. Wyman was the only one who is not a member of the committee.

Mayor Hays said that the meeting was held to discuss the plans for the fusion conference of Tuesday. According to him Wyman was invited to meet with the conferees and give his impression of conditions in Allegheny. The mayor says that there was nothing definitely decided about the ticket. He announced that Calvert had not given his answer on the shrievalty, and another meeting would be held Monday. In addition to Goehring, there was a discussion of Assistant United States Attorney D. M. Miller for district attorney, but no vote was taken on the two men. The candidacy of John C. Brown for sheriff was also talked about. The mayor says that in the event of Calvert's declination the candidate has not been agreed upon.

The mayor said that it was the intention to leave the slating of the prothonotary to the Democrats, but in his opinion a countryman should be nominated. It may be that the Citizens leader will eventually insist upon this program. Mayor Hays denied that there had been any information submitted to the conferees about the $100,000 campaign fund Goehring is supposed to have ready in the event of his nomination for district attorney.

New Candidates Mentioned.

Some of the friends of R. H. Jackson of Allegheny are urging him to become a candidate for district attorney on the Republican ticket. In some of the North Side fights Mr. Jackson was identified with the Citizens. Those who are endeavoring to get him to enter the Republican contest say that he is undecided about his course. L. B. Cook, W. A. Blakeley and John S. Robb at present have the field to themselves.

Capt. John A. Fairman of Allegheny, who has been prominently mentioned as a Republican candidate for sheriff, has advised his friends that he will not enter the primaries. 'Squire Edward Riffle of Shaler township, E. J. Braun and Councilman C. G. Deverts of Allegheny are still being talked of as candidates. So far J. B. Hamilton of Elizabeth has a clear field for prothonotary.

County Chairman T. J. Ford last night left the city for a vacation of 10 days. Senator C. A. Muehlbronner, secretary of the committee who has been absent for two weeks, will return today and take charge of the committee work. Yesterday Chairman Ford notified the county committeemen to select their district campaign committee of nine members.

Charles S. Crawford, president of common council, returned yesterday from his vacation. He has discovered that many things have happened during his absence.

SWORE BY THE HOLY ARK.

Aged Russian Rabbi Solemnly Denies Use of Christian Blood in Hebrew Ritual.

VIENNA, Aug. 14.—(Special Cable.)—Several high Jewish rabbis who have just returned here from the conference which took place at Cracow on Monday and Tuesday last declare that the conference was a great success. Several hundred rabbis were present and resolutions were adopted thanking the United States for trying to reach the ears of the czar in the cause of justice.

The Kishineff massacres were sharply condemned, and all present declared that it was an unforgettable sight when on the last days of the conference a Russian rabbi nearly 100 years of age opened the holy ark, and in the presence of Gentile officials took a solemn oath that the accusations raised against Jews of their using Christian blood for ritual or any other purpose is a base calumny and in direct opposition to every Hebrew law.

KAISER IS FURIOUS.

Rebellious Poles Destroy Targets and Shooting Lodges of the Prussian Army.

BRESLAU, Aug. 14.—(Special Cable.)—Incensed by the refusal of the Prussian government to remove the military targets and shooting lodges from Josephsberg, near Kattowitz, an uprising took place here today, and the poles destroyed every trace of targets and buildings, leaving in their place large posters declaring that the Polish nation would always protest against Prussian bullets being fired across "holy Polish soil." The matter has been reported to the Kaiser, who is furious, and has given orders that the targets be replaced immediately and the leaders of the mob summarily punished.

The police have no idea of who the leaders are, and those who know will never tell.

BETRAYED HIS TRUST.

Confidential Clerk of Law Firm Arrested for Theft of $12,000 of Their Money.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—(Special.)—The story of a confidential law clerk declared to be unfaithful to his trust is revealed by the arrest of George B. Creighton, 29 years old, of Brooklyn. He is charged with having stolen $12,000 from his employers, the law firm of Townsend & Wandell, while the Chemical bank and the Washington Trust Company also are victims.

Creighton, who is married, entered the employ of the law firm 14 years ago as an office boy. Half a dozen years ago he was made confidential clerk and intrusted with the handling of most of the firm's money and that of their clients. It was not until two weeks ago that he was suspected of wrong doing.

BLAMES THE CHRISTIANS.

Premier Balfour Says the Turks Are Not Alone Responsible for Atrocities.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—Both houses of parliament assembled early today to wind up the business of the session.

Regarding the complaints that the government was showing a lack of sympathy with Macedonia, Mr. Balfour pointed out that one of the deep sources of mischief was the dissensions among the Christians. It was not the Turk alone—deep as his guilt undoubtedly was—who was responsible for the miserable conditions. The government was still of the opinion that the best policy was to support the Austro-Russian endeavors to improve the administration.

After reading the king's speech parliament was prorogued until November 2.

ANOTHER VICTIM DEAD IN BALL PARK DISASTER

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 14.—(Special.)—Robert C. Hill, chief of the bureau of building inspection with several assistants, inspected the stands at the American league ball park, this afternoon, with a view to preventing any disaster similar to that at the National league park on last Saturday.

William D. Garwood, the twelfth victim of the disaster, died early this morning. Five others injured in the fall of the balcony are in a serious condition.

BLUE LAW DECISIONS TO BE HANDED DOWN

Justice J. J. Walker of Wilkinsburg will render his decisions at 7 o'clock this evening in the cases against the officers and employes of the Penn Ice company, which were entered by the committee of five for violating the blue laws. Twenty two decisions will be given, as some of the defendants have had two informations made against them.

OSBALDESTEN IS DUE HERE TODAY

Former Well-known Pittsburgh Mosseur Who Killed Two Men in Germany, Returning.

SENT THREATENING LETTERS

Woman He Claimed As His Wife Now Wife of Another and Fearful of What He Will Do Puts Police on Guard.

"The scene of the trouble has been removed to America, and all will have to be gone over again." This message, wrapped in a bloody piece of an undershirt and a piece of blue serge cloth with a bullet hole in it, was received by Mrs. Frank Lugas from Prof. Edwin Theobald Osbaldesten on Thursday. The letter is dated at New York, August 9, and it was mailed from that city August 11. The message contained the further interesting information that Osbaldesten would arrive in Pittsburgh on Saturday morning, August 15.

Last night Frank Lugos, who recently married a woman named Day, who Osbaldesten alleges is his wife, appeared before Magistrate E. C. Negley and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Osbaldesten, charging him with "threatening some one's life."

Policemen will be on the lookout this morning, and should Osbaldesten appear he will be immediately arrested. The letter stated that he would arrive at the East Liberty station on the train arriving from New York in the morning. The time of the arrival of the train from New York at East Liberty is 8:20 o'clock.

Threatening Letters Sent.

Lugas stated last night that Osbaldesten had sent several threatening letters to the woman whom he claims as his wife. Osbaldesten killed two men in Oberstein, Germany, about 18 months ago. He was acquitted on the ground of insanity. The reason for his killing of the men is alleged to be his jealousy of the woman who is now Mrs. Lugas. On June 20 last he was released from prison and he has been heard from frequently since that time. Nothing was known of his arrival in this country until this message was received on Thursday.

The piece of bloody shirt and cloth with the bullet hole in it are supposed to be parts of the clothing worn by the victims of the tragedy at Oberstein. It is the custom in Germany to distribute such evidence among the lawyers, witnesses and others connected with the case after the case is concluded. Osbaldesten, it is supposed, has in this manner got possession of these articles and sent them to Mrs. Lugas, evidently with the intention of making a threat on her life. At least it was so construed, and the warrant was accordingly sworn out.

Mrs. Lugas Made a Statement.

Mrs. Lugas recently made a statement to the effect "that all reports, letters and statements made by T. Osbaldesten are without foundation. He has no claim on me whatever, as I was kept a prisoner by him as long as we were together. He made me work at times as in slave days and would steal my money from me at nights when I was asleep in my room; ill-treating me if he could not find anything in his searches.

"I can name a number of people who have seen marks over my body, inflicted by Prof. Osbaldesten with his fists. The papers which he produced in the courts of Germany alleging that I was his wife were all forged. I will uncover his doings to the public as soon as he lands, as he only showed his good side to the world—the other side being hidden. He always concealed his temper."

The story of Osbaldesten and his doings in Germany are well known to Pittsburghers. Over a year ago the cable advices from Rhenish, Prussia, told of the shooting, at Oberstein, of a wealthy manufacturer, named Buntz, by a man named Osbaldesten of Pittsburgh. He had accused the man of ruining his home. He had followed his alleged wife from Pittsburgh and finding her on the street with Buntz, cut loose with a revolver.

Made the Murder a Double One.

At the third shot Buntz fell mortally wounded. A crowd of workmen tried to stop the murderer, but he kept shooting at those who tried to arrest him, and one of the crowd fell dead with a bullet through his head. Immediately after the shooting, Osbaldesten made for the woods near Oberstein, where he successfully fought off pursuers for two or three days, when he finally surrendered through exhaustion. He was locked up and given a preliminary hearing, when his final trial was fixed for last October.

During his term in prison, awaiting trial, the authorities at Oberstein came to the conclusion that the man was slightly demented, and when petitions arrived from Pittsburgh, signed by many of the best-known residents, and so attested by the consulates, that he was not altogether in his right mind, they paid more attention to his condition. Various alienists examined him and pending a complete report from them the trial was postponed. The experts finally reported to the court that in their judgment the man was hopelessly insane, and acting on this report, he was released from the custody of the court. The word of the release came to Pittsburgh through the Austrian consulate, which had interested itself in his behalf, some time ago, and through which the petitions and help were forwarded from Pittsburgh.

Had Friends in Pittsburgh.

In the letter which was received here telling of Osbaldesten's release, it was stated that after this he was taken in charge by some society there which would take care of him until funds arrived from friends in Pittsburgh to enable him to come home, if that was his intention. He was utterly without money, the letter said, and was expecting some help from here as soon as it was known on this side of the ocean that he was free. Contrary to American laws, the prisoner acquitted of a murder by reason of insanity is not committed to an asylum. In Prussia they simply turn the prisoners loose and let them go where they will.

Osbaldesten was the best-known massage artist in the East End, or in fact in the two cities, when he left Pittsburgh. He was an intimate friend of the late Dr. William H. Daly, the well-known soldier and physician who surprised the world by committing suicide in his Howe street house on Sunday morning about two years ago. At the time of Dr. Daly's death Prof. Osbaldesten had quite a time with the police and county authorities. He tried to show that his friend had been murdered and was not a victim of his own hand. The authorities could not see it that way, however, and refused to listen to Osbaldesten.

CHOIR ORGANIST SUED ON ALLEGED BEER DEBT

WHEELING, W. VA., Aug. 14.—(Special.)—Magistrate A. J. Wilson has given a judgment against Paris R. Myers in favor of the Reymann Brewing company for $24. Myers is the organist of St. Matthew's Protestant Episcopal church, which has the most fashionable congregation in the city. When the action to recover money alleged to be due for 20 dozen bottles of beer was brought, Myers was at Myers Lake, O., where the St. Matthews choir boys were holding their annual outing. When he returned hundreds of persons had read the official notice of the magistrate, which had been conspicuously posted. He did not appear for trial.

MARRIED IN COUNTY JAIL; SERENADED BY PRISONERS

UNIONTOWN, PA., Aug. 14.—(Special.)—Mrs. Addie Handford, of Connellsville, this morning, in the presence of Sheriff Frock and deputies and all the prisoners at the county jail, married West F. Prior of Connellsville, who was committed to jail yesterday on the charge of assault and battery and disorderly conduct. After the ceremony the bride kissed her husband, who retired to his cell. The couple was serenaded by the prisoners.

IMMIGRANTS FIND HOMES IN EAST

Many Austrians and Hungarians Locate in Pennsylvania.

NEW YORK IS WELL SUPPLIED

Empire State Can Boast of More Foreign Born Inhabitants Than Any Other State—Percentage to Population in 1900 Was 26.1 Per Cent.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—The bureau of statistics has about finished an investigation showing the distribution of immigrants throughout the country. It is shown that 62 per cent from Austria-Hungary are located in the North Atlantic division, comprising Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Pennsylvania. Of the Bohemians only 14 per cent are located in this section, and 76 per cent are found in the north central division, which includes Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas.

In the North Atlantic division there was found 77 per cent of the French Canadians, 44 per cent of the Canadian immigrants of Egnilsh extraction; 52 per cent of the natives of England in the United States, 33 per cent of Germans, 73 of Hungarians, 67 of the natives of Ireland, 73 of Italians and 66 per cent of the Russians.

New York has a larger proportion of foreign-born persons than any other state. In 1850 its foreign-born population was 651,801 persons and in 1900, 1,900,425. The percentage of foreign-born residents of New York state in 1850 was 21.1 per cent, and in 1900, 26.1 per cent. Thus the proportion which the foreign-born population formed of the total population of New York state has slightly increased this decade. Next in rank after New York state is Pennsylvania, with a total of foreign-born population of 985,250 in 1900. Next comes Illinois with 966,747, followed by Massachusetts, with 846,324.

GERL'S BODY IDENTIFIED BY TWO OF HIS FRIENDS

Believed That He Was a Victim of Foul Play—Mrs. Gerl Is Prostrated.

Simon Kuhn, a brother-in-law of Adolph Gerl, the Allegheny man whose body was found in the Hudson river, at New York, Wednesday morning, and William H. McGuire, both of them members of the Royal Arcanum organization in Allegheny of which Gerl was the treasurer, called at the New York morgue yesterday and positively identified Gerl's remains. Gerl's body was found with a knotted handkerchief tightly bound about the neck. There were two deep abrasions over the eyes and a wound in the back of the head, which, at first, was thought to be a bullet hole. There were no marks on the clothing by which the body could be identified.

Mrs. Gerl last night received a telegram from Kuhn containing the information that the identification was positive, and that the body would be brought home for burial.

Mrs. Gerl is suffering severely from nervous shock and is confined to her room. None but her near relatives are permitted to see her. It is the opinion of the relatives and friends of Gerl that his mind was temporarily unbalanced. A sister of Mrs. Gerl said last night:

"There is no doubt in our minds but that Adolph was murdered. It is our opinion that he completely lost his identity the night he left home, and that he has been a victim of foul play in New York."

FIGURING ON A CANDIDATE.

Allegheny City Republicans to Decide Next Friday Night on the Shrievalty.

The executive committee of the Allegheny city Republican organization held its first meeting in the new headquarters in the Diamond last night. The meeting was called for forming plans preparatory to the selection of a candidate for sheriff. A committee of five was appointed and will make a report to the executive committee next Friday night.

Vice Chairman John L. Henderson presided at the meeting last night in the absence of Chairman Francis J. Torrance. Mr. Henderson appointed Dr. James Dickson, William Muehlbronner and Charles F. Kirschler a house committee, and instructed them to arrange for a jollification to mark the formal opening of the headquarters. This committee will report next Friday and the date for the opening will be set. The report of the finance committee was read, and shows that already more than $5,000 has been contributed, unsolicited, to the Republican campaign fund.

All ward chairmen were instructed last night to call meetings of the district chairmen in every ward in the city. These meetings will be held between now and next Friday night. The sentiment of the city committeemen will be learned and the pulse of the entire city felt regarding this nomination. The decision of the executive committee next Friday will express the choice of the Allegheny Republicans for sheriff.

MILLIONS IN IT.

Promoter Cullen and His Private Secretary Were Hungry, but Full of Business.

"There's millions in it, and I know it," declared Richard Cullen of Duluth, Minn., at Sixth street and Penn avenue last night.

Detectives heard the words and questioned Cullen and his private secretary, Burt Cameron of Watertown, N. Y., who was with him. The men said they were selling stock in the Cullen Iron Manufacturing Company of Duluth at $1 a share. They were arrested.

Cullen is 43 years old and his secretary is 18. The latter told Supt. McQuaide of the bureau of detectives that he had eaten nothing in three days, "but when we sell some stock everything will be all right."

Cullen said that he was in the real estate business in Duluth, having been there 20 years. The property he was trying to raise money on was that of his mother. Both men said they came here five weeks ago, but were unable to give the location of their boarding houses. They had printed certificates of their concern running from 10,000 to 1,000 shares each.

Cameron said he met Cullen in New York and entered his employ at $18 a week, with a promise of $500 a week when they floated some stock. They were not successful in New York or Philadelphia and came to Pittsburgh. Cullen said he had not sold any stock in this city.

PROMPT PAYMENT STOPPED RUN ON WINDBER BANK

JOHNSTOWN, PA., Aug. 14.—(Special.)—A run on the Windber National bank was checked today. Some one started the rumor that the bank had no funds and at the hour of opening this morning there was a large crowd, mostly foreigners, gathered at the doors. The officials of the bank had heard of the contemplated run and were prepared. On the desk all the available money was stacked, and after an hour the frightened depositors saw that the bank was prepared to meet all claims. This afternoon those who had taken out their money began to redeposit it with the bank.

KNOCKOUT IN TENTH ROUND WOUND UP A VICIOUS FIGHT

amount of money that would be taken in at the box office. The promoters figure on $50,000, and that if the gross receipts reach this figure the sum taken in will exceed the biggest previous sum by $18,000 to $20,000. It is very evident that the sale of seats is exceedingly large, as additional sections have been erected in various parts of the building to accommodate the holders of the extra tickets.

The gathering is one of the most representative that has ever attended a San Francisco fight. Among those present was Harry Thaw of Pittsburgh. Every large city is represented and the crowds in the sporting circles remind one of New Orleans when the Crescent City was the boxing hub of the universe.

The pavilion has been laid out in a careful fashion and the arrangements are such that it looks as if there would be no confusion in the seating of the club's patrons. The size of the ring attracts attention, it being much larger than the one usually used in local contests. It is full 24 feet square and is as smooth as a billiard table. It is well padded with felt, over which is stretched a mat of brown canvas. The ropes are new. They are white and contrast to the vermilion of the iron corner posts. The ring proper is a stakeless one. The brown mat has been thoroughly dusted with powdered white resin.

The First Preliminary.

The first event of the evening between Smith and Sheridan was decided a draw at the end of the sixth round. Both very tired. The second event was between Jack Evans and Jerry Fairbanks at 120 pounds.

Captain Mooney of the police department announced that the big contest would not go on until every man i the house was seated.

Spider Kelly refereed the second preliminary. In the first round of this event there were a number of fierce mixes, with Fairbanks the aggressor. The fight so far had been a very pretty one from a scientific point of view. Fairbanks went after his man like a tiger in the second but weakened perceptibly. Evans sent him to the floor with a terrific righthander and repeated the operation. Fairbanks was so badly gone that he did not recover for some time.

By the time the ring was cleared of the preliminary fighters, the big pavilion was packed from end to end. It could hardly be called a sea of faces, but the tiers and tiers of them rising on all sides. It was beyond doubt the banner gathering of the year so far as a San Francisco event is concerned. The promise that the big fellows would leave their rooms at 8:30 was not kept.

Jeff. Enters the Ring.

Jeff came along shortly after 9:15. He was in his ring costume, black trunks and American flag. He was loudly cheered. Corbett came right after him clad in a long light-colored bath robe. The seconds of the men were: For Corbett—Tommy Ryan, Yank Kenny, Tom Corbett, Sam Berger, Prof. Dare. For Jeffries—Billy Delaney, Jack Jeffries, Bob Fitzsimmons and Joe Kennedy.

Corbett shook hands with Jeff. and also with Billy Delaney. Referee Graney put in an appearance and shook hands with the men. Corbett and Jeffries both seemed thoroughly at their ease. When Billy Jordan introduced Corbett there was tumultuous applause. Champion Jeffries received a similar greeting.

Jeffries shook hands with friends over the ropes. He held up his left hand with the fingers extended, as if in answer to a question the apparent intimation that he would win in five rounds. Corbett took the northwest of the ring and Jeffries the southeast. Fitzsimmons and Referee Graney inspected the bandages on Corbett's hands, Jeffries meanwhile standing in his angle of the ring with his elbows resting on the ropes.

Jeffries himself took a notion and stalked across the floor and pinched and otherwise examined the bandages Corbett wore.

The bandages were pronounced all right. When Corbett threw off his bath robe Jeffries bent his head and eyed him critically across the ring.

Corbett's Flesh Pale.

The hue of Corbett's flesh was pallid in comparison with that of the champion. His legs seemed like pipe shanks alongside Jeff's, and he suffered in every way in physical comparison. Corbett received plenty of encouragement from the persons close to the ring who kept singing out, "You can't lose, Jim."

Both men posed for a photograph. Then the heavyweights returned to their corners. Billy Delaney took off Jeff's belt and Tommy Ryan stood chatting to Corbett in the opposite corner. They stepped forward for the first round at 9:30.

ROUND 1—They came to the center, Jeffries feinting and Corbett stepping lively. Jeffries swung left over Jim's head. Jim came in quickly to a clinch and they were very slow about breaking. Jeffries put light left to Jim's ribs and they refused to break. Jim put right over the heart and clinched. Corbett stayed close in and put hard short arm right on the body. They were exceedingly careful in the break. Jeffries forced his man across the ring and put left light on the body. It was noticed that Corbett did very little footwork, but stayed close and put two right solidly over the heart. Jeffries missed right for the body, but put it on the chest lightly. As they broke Corbett quickly stepped and put right to the heart. Jeffries laughingly remarked, "Ah." The first round indicated that Jeffries is very fast and that Corbett did not do any fancy work.

ROUND 2—Jeffries came up quickly, missed left for the head and they came to a clinch. They would not break, Jim claiming Jeffries was holding on. In the break Jeffries swung left on back of the head lightly. Corbett had failed thus far to land a single left hand blow. He attempted it at this stage, but was too close in. Jeffries forced him to the ropes, coming dangerously near the jaw with a left hook. They immediately came into a clinch, in the break of which Corbett hooked a smashing left to the jaw. Corbett sent in left and right to the body, but got left hook on the head. Jeffries came on quickly, but Corbett clinched. Corbett sent in a peculiar right hand half uppercut for the jaw, but was a trifle low. They fought carefully to the end. Corbett had shown very little speed so far, while Jeffries showed improvement in speed and cleverness.

ROUND 3—Both came to the center, Jeffries missing a left and Corbett clinching. Jeffries hooked left to the neck and Corbett jolted him over the ribs with short right. Corbett increased in speed somewhat and had to run to avoid a rush. He turned quickly and put right over the heart hard. There was a lot of clinching, neither man taking a chance in the break. Jeffries barely missed right for Corbett's jaw and roughed him in the clinch. There was much hooting from the galleries. Jeffries forced him, fighting fiercely. Corbett began using left hook on the jaw, landing three times, and a left to the stomach. The blow did not hurt Jeffries and he only smiled and forced his man about the ring. It was a rough round, in which honors were even as to the matter of blows landed, but Jeffries gave indications of forcing matters at in-fighting.

ROUND 4—Jeffries went after Corbett, but clever clinching and blocking prevented damage. Referee Graney stopped the fighting to look at Jeffries' glove which was bursted, but told them to go on with the round. Jeffries fought hard in clinches, but Corbett got in too close to get any damage. Jeffries swung hard left to the chest and got left on the mouth and right over the heart. There were calls that Jeffries was fighting foul, but the proceedings did not warrant any such claim. Corbett got in close, jabbing Jeffries with left several times, but the blows were so light that Jeffries laughed and came back. Corbett slipped to his knees from a left in the stomach. Jeffries came back with another one, but Corbett blocked it. Corbett was strong and ran to his corner at the close.

ROUND 5—Police Capt. Mooney entered the ring to look at Jeffries' glove. Fitzsimmons and Ryan went to Jeffries' corner and cut the glove off. Another was immediately substituted, but not until 30 seconds of the fifth round had expired. Jeffries fought for the body, Corbett doing some fast stepping to keep away. Corbett did not seem to have a bit of force behind his left hand hooks and alternated with a short right over the heart, which seemed to be the best he had. Jeffries stood up straight and hooked Jim twice in the stomach. Corbett put the best blow thus far on Jeffries' ribs, but got a left on the neck in return. Jeffries put a hard left hook on Corbett's jaw, following it up with left and right for the body. Corbett held on and the gong rang. Corbett seemed tired. He did not seem to have any force behind his blows. His old cutting left stabs were not in evidence.

ROUND 6—Jeffries took his crouching position for an instant and put left on head. He then stood straight and put left on the chin. Corbett went down for nine seconds. He got up and stalled for a moment, then clinched. He took left on the body and another on the head, but fought back gamely. He crossed Jeffries with right to the jaw, but without damage. Fighting at close quarters Corbett uppercut Jeffries to the chin.

ROUND 7—Jeffries went after Corbett fiercely. Corbett used his feet to good advantage at this stage. He tried to use his once lightning left, but it was a lame excuse. He came in quickly and sent his right to the heart, but Jeffries came back with left on the body. Corbett was holding on, saying: "He can't knock me out, he can't knock me out. Go on, Jim, see if you can knock me out." They clinched repeatedly. Corbett landed several short-arm lefts on the head. As quickly as they came into a break Jeffries was on top of him, forcing him to a clinch. Corbett took a left on the head and uppercut to the chin. Corbett was fighting faster on his feet at this stage, using his fancy boxing tactics, but they were of no use against his burly opponent.

ROUND 8—Corbett staggered Jeffries with a left to the nose and ducked Jeffries' left. Jeffries hooked right to the body. Corbett sending in half a dozen lefts and rights on Jeffries' face, which he accepted pleasantly. Jeffries was coming toward his man all the time, and in a breakaway almost landed right on the jaw. Jeffries put hard left to the body, got two lefts on the face and came back with left on the head. Corbett endeavored to stab Jeffries in the eyes, but thus far his blows had not raised a bump. Corbett fought cleverly at this stage, sending in half a dozen lefts and rights on the jaw. He seemed to improve a hundred per cent, and the great crowd was in a state of wild excitement. They cheered him to the echo. This was Corbett's round. He has changed his style and is using some of his old-time cleverness in ducking and blocking.

ROUND 9—Jeffries came at Corbett with a rush like that of a mad bull. Corbett put left on the face and avoided a return. Jeffries leaned heavily on Corbett in the clinch. Corbett seemed as strong as ever and there was a long series of clinches. Corbett put three rights on the body at close quarters. He hooked Jeffries on the jaw three times with left and crossed with right. He blocked Jeffries' efforts and at close quarters put three rights on the body and one on the jaw. He repeatedly stabbed Jeffries on the mouth with lefts. Corbett's left cheek showed a lump from one of Jeffries' close arm blows. Jeffries had a similar mark. Jeffries hooked left to the body and the referee had trouble in separating them. At the close Corbett stabbed Jeffries' mouth with his left three times, but they were weak efforts.

ROUND 10—Jeffries stood straight up and came after his man without hesitation. Corbett seemed to be making a waiting fight. They exchanged lefts to the face and Jeffries made a vicious effort. Jeffries sent a left hook to the stomach and Corbett went down for nine seconds. He got up and received a left in the stomach and right on the jaw. He went down, and after the count of seven Tommy Ryan threw up the sponge. Corbett was suffering pain and a chair was brought for him. After a minute's rest he recovered and got up and shook hands with Jeffries.

ONE MAN HURT WHILE WATCHING BULLETINS.

Wagon Drove Recklessly Into Crowd of Prize Fight Enthusiasts in Fifth Avenue.

While the crowd was packed before The Gazette bulletin boards about 12:15 o'clock this morning waiting for news of the prize fight, James A. Dougherty, the driver of an express wagon, drove pell-mell into the crowd. Six men were knocked off their feet and Thomas McIron, a bridgeworker, was run over. Great excitement was caused, and had it not been for the timely arrival of the police Dougherty would have been mobbed.

Dougherty was seen driving rapidly across Smithfield street. He turned down Fifth avenue, and when he got near, eye-witnesses say, he whipped up his team of mules and drove down on the crowd. Somebody who saw him coming shouted an alarm, and the crowd pressed toward the curbstone. Six men on the edge of the crowd were brushed off their feet by the wagon, but McIron did not get away in time. He was knocked down by the near mule and fell on his face. The mule stepped on his back and the near front and rear wheels over his body lengthwise, from his hips to his head. The crowd thought he was killed, and a man wearing spectacles jumped on the wagon and partly lifted the driver from his seat and started to throw him out, while the crowd shouted "Mob him!"

Several policemen were scattered through the crowd on the sidewalk and the street, and one sprang at the man who was holding the driver, ordered him off the wagon and struck at him with his club to expedite his motions. The stranger jumped off. A policeman got into the wagon and drove it to the Central station with the driver on the box and McIron in the wagon.

Dougherty gave his name, but declined to give his address, and when the turnkey tried to put him into a cell he kicked at the officer and put up a strong fight. McIron was able to sit up, but he complained of pain in his back, and a doctor was sent for.

EARLY CROWDS WANTED TO HEAR THE RETURNS

Pittsburghers Interested in Corbett-Jeffries Fight Blocked Fifth Avenue.

Despite the fact that no returns of the Corbett-Jeffries fight could possibly reach Pittsburgh before 1 o'clock this morning, great crowds gathered in Fifth avenue in front of The Gazette office as early as 8 o'clock last night and read the first bulletin, which told when the first returns might be expected. Perhaps never, except on election night, was such a large crowd seen in Fifth avenue and Smithfield street as was the case last night.

Pittsburghers evinced great interest in the pugilistic contest and many bets were made. There were many wagers made between friends in Fifth avenue last night. Corbett was well liked in Pittsburgh at the prevailing odds. Most of the enthusiasts doubted the fight would last 10 rounds.

The crowds stuck at their posts and waited patiently for the first real news of the fight. When it was bulletined that the first round had begun a cheer went up in Fifth avenue. When the last returns from the fight came in there were still quite a number of persons eagerly reading each fresh bulletin, determined to wait until the fight was over.

HAD DOUBLE ESCAPE.

William McConley Found Unconscious on Railroad After Falling 40 Feet.

William J. McConley, 29 years old, of Bedford avenue and Gum street, narrowly escaped being killed on the Pennsylvania railroad tracks last night. He was found unconscious and bleeding on the tracks under the Ellsworth avenue bridge, East End, by Officers Woods and Kennedy. He was taken to St. Francis hospital.

At the hospital McConley said that he found a gate open at the east end of the bridge, and thinking there were steps leading down to the railroad he stepped out into the darkness. He dropped to the railroad, a distance of 40 feet, and received several severe scalp wounds and a long gash over the right eye. Had he not been found by the officers it is likely he would have been run over by a train, as the section of the railroad at that point is very dark.

TWO MORE BANKS FAIL.

One Minnesota Institution Forced to the Wall Through Another's Failure.

DULUTH, MINN., Aug. 14.—The alleged embezzlement of $45,000 of the funds of the Commercial Banking Company, for which E. E. Johnson, the trusted clerk of the bank, is under arrest, has brought about the failure of the Merchants bank of Duluth, which closed its doors after today's business.

MONTGOMERY, MINN., Aug. 14.—The Farmers and Merchants bank of this place was not opened for business today, and the whereabouts of the cashier, B. A. Brainerd, is unknown. The deposits run from $50,000 to $80,000, and the liabilities are estimated at $150,000. No one here knows what the assets amount to.

OIL PROPERTY WILL CHANGE OWNERS SOON

BOSTON, Aug. 14.—(Special.)—Directors of the United States Coal & Oil company are considering a proposition to sell its oil properties in West Virginia. The directors propose to make of this company a strictly coal enterprise, and with its oil properties disposed of it will start off with about $1,000,000 working capital to handle its Island Creek properties.

DEATH CERTAIN WITHOUT RELIEF

Thousands of Persons Have No Food or Shelter in Island of Jamaica.

DEPENDING ON AMERICANS

Unless Foodstuffs Are Sent Immediately from the United States Many Are Expected to Perish from Starvation. Terrible Devastation.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

KINGSTON, JAMAICA, Aug. 14.—There are heart rending scenes all over the eastern and northern portions of the island of Jamaica. At Port Antonio thousands of homeless and starving people have sought shelter in the old prison and the few other buildings which survived the hurricane. Those who could not be accommodated are cowering in the lee of the ruined walls and dismantled piazzas. The railroad sheds and waiting rooms are filled with women and children.

The merchants of the place are feeding the hungry to the best of their ability, but the majority are depending upon unripe bananas knocked down by the storm. The bananas are boiled in kerosene tins over open fires made from the debris of destroyed buildings. This is their sole food supply, and it will be exhausted in nine or ten days.

Similar conditions prevail in Annotta bay, Buff bay, Orange bay, Port Maria, Manchionwal, Morant bay, Bowden and other smaller seaports. In the interior the distress is equally acute. Scarcely a peasant's home is standing. Even the dwellings of the planters, which are built of substantial stone, have been unroofed with few exceptions.

The misery of the peasant families is indescribable. Their homes and belongings have been literally blown away and they are contriving rude shelters from fallen trees, palm boughs and banana leaves. Owing to the continued unsettled weather, with occasional torrential rains, these shelters afford practically no protection.

Efforts are being made at Kingston to relieve the immediate wants of some localities by subscriptions of food and clothing, but the local efforts at best are totally inadequate. Unless immediate shipments of foodstuffs come from America deaths by starvation are inevitable.

The local hospitals in the wind-swept districts are crowded with the injured and the death list is increasing. Some localities have not yet reported. One man was beheaded at Port Antonio by a flying sheet of galvanized roofing. Many were seriously wounded by falling houses, trees and walls. Several houses on the banks of the streams were carried away by the floods. The fate of their inmates is unknown, but it is feared that there have been many deaths from this cause.

The bulk of the Blue Mountain coffee has been ruined, and the pimento groves, which stood for centuries, have been obliterated. It is estimated that the loss on the island will reach $15,000,000.

BOY SAID HE WAS HUNGRY.

His Excuse for Stealing Proved Later to Be False.

After saying that he had committed a theft because he was tired and hungry, Edward Hollern, 13 years old, of No. 411 East Lacock street, Allegheny, last night refused to eat what was offered him at Central station.

"If I was hungry I would buy a meal. I don't need to eat your slop," was what he told the sergeant when food was offered him.

The boy was arrested on Ninth street for snatching a pocketbook from Miss Gertrude Miller of No. 5802 Kirkwood street. Miss Miller was walking down Liberty avenue, and at Ninth street the lad snatched her pocketbook and started down Ninth street. He was overtaken by Officer M. J. Reilly and taken to the lockup. There he said he did it because he was tired and hungry.

The police say the boy is not new at stealing, but is likely one of a gang of youngsters that have given the police some trouble of late by just such thefts. Miss Miller will appear before him this morning.

BOOKBINDERS FEAST.

Local No. 73 Hears Addresses by Prominent Labor Leaders at Smoker.

Songs, speeches and boxing contests formed the chief part of the amusement for several hundred members of Local No. 73, International Brotherhood of Bookbinders, last night in Moorehead hall.

President E. S. Meighan and T. J. Lynch and others spoke. Reese C. David conducted the entertainment program. There was a mandolin solo by Master Christy Martin, a song by Harry G. Johnston, a farce by members of the St. Charles Literary club, a song by W. H. Quick, a sketch by Will Knox and selections by the Consolidated Mandolin club.

SUES PRESIDENT'S COUSIN.

Lawyer Claims $35,000 Is Due Him for Professional Services.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—(Special.)—Samuel M. Roosevelt, a cousin of the president, has been sued by a lawyer to recover $35,000 for services. Today Edmond Kelly applied to Justice McCall in the supreme court to send the case to a referee. The motion was opposed by Edward Stephens, who claimed that Kelly had been paid. Justice McCall took the matter under consideration.

Kelly alleges there is due him $24,000 for professional services to Mr. Roosevelt and $10,567.85 for moneys disbursed by him in connection with Mr. Roosevelt's business, which he looked after during Mr. Roosevelt's absence from this country.

Brother Held for Murder.

The inquest in the death of Basil Powell, who was shot and killed by his brother, Alfred Powell, at their home in Adelphia street, Morningside, on June 28, was held yesterday morning by Coroner Jesse M. McGeary. The jury ordered a verdict that Powell be held to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of murder. Powell claims to have shot his brother in self-defense.

St. Margaret's Deaf-Mute Mission.

The Rev. Austin W. Mann will officiate for deaf mutes in the chapel of Trinity church, Sixth avenue and Smithfield street, tomorrow at 10:45 and 3 p. m. Communion will be celebrated at the morning service. Mr. Mann preached at St. Ann's church for deaf mutes, New York city, last Sunday, shortly after the close of the convention at Johnstown, at which he officiated twice.

STOLE FUNERAL MONEY.

McPhillomey Took the Cash That Was to Save a Pauper from Dissection.

James A. McPhillomey, who was arrested at Marshalsea Thursday for robbing the inmates, was committed to the workhouse yesterday for 90 days. In addition to giving the officials at the county home a great deal of trouble, McPhillomey has disturbed the mental ease of Andrew McCartney, an inmate of the institution. McCartney dreaded the thought of having his body turned over for dissection after death, and he had gathered together $35, which was to be expended for his burial. McCartney kept this money on his person all the time.

Several weeks ago McCartney was taken ill and his mind became unbalanced. His clothing was removed from him and turned over to McPhillomey to be put away. The latter took possession of McCartney's savings. A few days later McCartney regained his memory and asked for his clothing. It was given to him and when he discovered that his money was gone he became frantic. He pleaded with the officers to have his money returned.

Director James W. Clark was compelled to assure the man that his body would not be turned over to the Anatomical society, but he would personally see that it was interred. McCartney's peace of mind was restored by the director's assurance.

A number of newspaper clippings of the famous Blevins murder case at New Castle were found in McPhillomey's room. It is alleged that McPhillomey and another man were wanted as witnesses to that tragedy, but they could never be located. McPhillomey was taken to the workhouse yesterday.

OPPOSED TO RECEIVER.

Board of Directors of Susquehanna Steel Co. to Fight Denny's Application.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 14.—The officials of the Susquehanna Iron & Steel company held a meeting today and at its conclusion counsel for the company announced that the petition of John G. Denny, a director and former general manager, asking for the appointment of a receiver, would be contested. The company's statement was in part as follows:

"This is simply a factional fight, and the bill in equity presented in Lancaster is the work of the minority stockholders. We will fight it to the bitter end and an answer will be filed within the next few days."

MONEY WILLED TO POPE IS CONTESTED IN COURT

NAPLES, ITALY, Aug. 14.—A parish priest named Milone willed his whole fortune of $80,000 to the reigning pontiff when Leo XIII. was at the point of death. The priest has since died and his family now set up the claim that the will is invalid. Cardinal Rampolla, as papal secretary of state, has directed a local attorney to represent him, claiming that the priest collected the money by virtue of his office, and that it should go to the church. Trial of the action occurred today and the judge reserved his decision.

To Open P. & L. E. Extension.

UNIONTOWN, PA., Aug. 14.—(Special.)—It is stated on good authority that the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie extension from Marchand to Brownsville and the new Monongahela River railroad will be opened August 31. General Superintendent J. B. Yohe, Chief Engineer J. A. Atwood and other officials arrived in Brownsville this afternoon to make a tour of inspection.

Counterfeiters' Den Raided.

ST. MARYS, W. VA., Aug. 14.—Constable E. M. FRANCHISE FATE IS NOW DECIDED Mayor Hays and President Crawford Think Alike on the Duquesne Way Ordinance.

AMENDMENTS AGREED UPON

Pennsylvania Railroad Must Grant Certain Privileges to Other Corporations for a Reasonable Remuneration—Prospect of Early Passage of Measure.

With the return of Charles S. Crawford, president of common council, the fate of the Duquesne way franchise of the Pennsylvania railroad has been practically decided. It is true that the common council has already passed the ordinance, but as it still has to pass through the select branch and there was an understanding that the mayor, in conjunction with members of the select council, had determined to prevent the passage of the ordinance in the shape it left common council. Mr. Crawford has been considered a factor in the situation. It was believed that any compromise he might advocate would not be looked upon askance by the faction in common council which fought the ordinance because no compensation clause was attached and because there was no provision permitting other railroads to use the tracks.

Mr. Crawford arrived in the morning, and among the first things he did was to call on Mayor Hays, but the mayor was engaged in opening bids. It is known that the mayor wants to talk to him about the Duquesne way franchise.

Agree Upon Amendments.

On that subject the mayor and the president of the common council think very much alike. The mayor thinks the ordinance ought to be amended in select council, and Mr. Crawford is said to approve the amendments desired by the mayor. His opinion is of considerable importance, as after being amended in the select branch the ordinance will have to go back to the common branch for concurrence.

The opponents of the ordinance in its present shape wanted to fix a compensation of $50,000 a year for the franchise, and to stipulate that other railroads be allowed to use the tracks. The mayor did not go so far. He never expressed himself against the railroad's claim that the abandonment of the Liberty avenue tracks was sufficient compensation for the new franchise, but he asserted that there ought to be some provision by which other railroads could use the tracks. The opponents of the franchise have chosen to believe that the mayor's opinion on this use by other railroads coincided with theirs, but yesterday it was learned that the mayor is willing to compromise on a stipulation that the Pennsylvania railroad agree that the freight cars of other companies shall be transferred over the Duquesne way tracks at a moderate charge.

Bigelow Also Satisfied.

For several days past the mayor has had talks with those Republican members of select council who are also supposed to be standing with him against finally passing the ordinance in its present form. It is now believed that the measure will be amended in select council to include the right of other railroads to switching privileges and for a moderate compensation, ranging from $5,000 to $20,000 a year. Director E. M. Bigelow has agreed to these amendments.

It is not known whether the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will accept the ordinance thus amended, nor whether the opponents of the present ordinance will be satisfied with the amendments proposed by the mayor, agreed to by Mr. Crawford and Mr. Bigelow, and supposed to be assented to by the Republican members of select council.

W. H. Stevenson, who was one of the 15 members who fought the ordinance in common council, has not returned from his vacation, but his friends say that the granting of switching privileges to other railroads will not satisfy him or his colleagues in the fight; that Mr. Stevenson believes the time may arrive when all the railroads coming into Pittsburgh will be consolidated and competition between railroads abolished, and that therefore the Duquesne way tracks should be preserved as a thoroughfare by which new railroads may not only enter the city, but by which they can use a portion of a trunk line to connect Pittsburgh with the north and south and east and west by any new railroads that may be constructed in the future.

NO SUNDAY FUNERALS.

Allegheny County Undertakers Will Again Endeavor to Abolish Them.

The agitation to abolish the Sunday funeral business is again receiving considerable attention from local undertakers. The directors of the cemeteries some time ago agreed to close the cemeteries if every undertaker in Allegheny county would sign a paper that it was his wish. A petition to this effect was circulated and was signed by every funeral director except Hudson Samson, now deceased. He refused to sign the paper and the matter fell through for the time being. Now it is again being agitated and it is believed that this time every funeral director will sign the petition.

"Sunday funerals will surely be abolished," said James M. Fullerton, a funeral director of No. 187 Ninth street yesterday in speaking of the matter. "The local association meets on October 12 and the subject will again be brought up."

The National Association of Funeral Directors will meet in Minneapolis next week. The sessions will last from August 19 to 22, and one of the principal things to be considered is abolishing Sunday funerals throughout the country.

BIDS FOR CITY WORK OPENED BY OFFICIALS

A large crowd attended in common council chamber yesterday the opening of bids for the improvement of streets, laying of sewers and furnishing of supplies. The bids were opened by Mayor Hays and Director E. M. Bigelow. No awards will be made until the bids have been tabulated and the lowest bidders have been determined. The chief contract for which bids were made is the construction of the new water main from the Herron hill observatory to the Twenty-second ward. The work is estimated to cost $54,000.

PAYING LARGE SUMS FOR GRANT BOULEVARD

Warrants for the distribution of the $493,082.50 available for payment on the Grant boulevard were made out yesterday in the mayor's office, and countersigned by Controller John B. Larkin. The boulevard was estimated to cost $380,000, and the total cost so far has been nearly $[illegible]00,000. Before the litigation, to which the boulevard gave rise, has been adjusted, it is supposed the cost to the city will be $1,200,000.

BRIDE AND BRIDEGROOM GONE WITH THE EARRINGS

Watchman for Mrs. Berlin's Bondsman Got Hungry, and the Defendants Escaped.

Mrs. Eva Berlin, charged by a former suitor with larceny by bailee of a pair of diamond earrings, failed to put in an appearance at the hearing yesterday afternoon before Alderman S. J. Toole. William Cohen, her bondsman, said that she had gone back to New York, with her husband, Dr. Berlin. Attorney W. J. Brennen, attorney for Cohen, asked Alderman Toole to continue the hearing in the case until September 10, and in the meantime he would try and have the defendant located and brought to the city for a hearing.

It is believed that Mrs. Berlin and her husband left the city at 10 o'clock Thursday night. Bondsman Cohen was somewhat in doubt about Mrs. Berlin appearing at the hearing, and he had a watchman placed in front of the couple's boarding house at No. 1029 Fifth avenue. About 9 o'clock that night Dr. Berlin came out of the house and spoke to the watchman.

"I want to get something to eat," said the guard, "but don't like to go away. I have a friend coming to the house."

"Well, I am going to be here all evening, and will tell him you will return in a half hour," replied the physician.

Satisfied with this, the guard left his post. Dr. Berlin and his wife had their trunks removed to the Union station in a hurry, and when the guard returned the couple were on their way to New York.

Samuel Golden, who made the information against Mrs. Berlin, was a former suitor for her hand, and says he sold Mrs. Berlin the earrings, which she never paid for. Mrs. Berlin says they were a present from Golden, who is now angry because she wedded another.

OLD DISPUTE RENEWED.

Quo Warranto Proceedings Will Be Instituted by Eighteenth Regiment Veteran Corps.

The legal fight to prove the identity of the Original Greys will be renewed. Attorney E. L. Kearns, representing the Eighteenth regiment, will soon institute quo warranto proceedings against the independent company before Attorney General Carson at Harrisburg, requiring the organization to show by what right it claims the charter privilege of the original Duquesne Greys. Mr. Kearns likewise represents the veteran corps of the regiment, and says that there is no doubt that the Eighteenth has all the charter privileges of the Greys, as the veteran corps is in fact the successor to that original body.

The Duquesne Greys were organized in 1831 and in the civil war furnished many distinguished officers for the Union army. Afterwards the company was incorporated in the Eighteenth regiment and the seal and charter were stolen from the armory. No suits were entered and the charter was returned, but the seal was lost. The charter is in the possession of the veteran corps of the Duquesne Greys, Eighteenth regiment.

The independent company, which will be the defendant in the forthcoming proceedings, is known as the Duquesne Grays, the "a" in the spelling distinguishing the two organizations.

CIRCUS TRAIN VICTIM WAS A PITTSBURGHER

A letter was received at police headquarters yesterday from B. F. Hicks, the city attorney of Durand, Mich. In it he stated that one of the men killed in the wreck of the Wallace Brothers' circus train there last week was identified as Joe Keys of some place near Pittsburgh. He asks that an effort be made to locate his family. Keys is described as being about 40 years old, red hair and moustache, weight about 185 pounds, high forehead and a natural crease in the chin. The initials J. K. are tattooed on his left forearm.

ONLY FIVE-YEAR LIMIT SAVES SWITCH OWNERS

Inside of That Must Pay License Fees in Full to the City—Controller Larkin Hopes to Collect $68,000.

If Controller Larkin can collect all the money which he claims to be due the city for switching privileges enjoyed by many business firms and corporations, some of the shortage of funds which seem to threaten the city on account of insufficient appropriations may be obviated. Last year $18,000 was collected, while in previous years the average collections hardly ever exceeded $2,000. The controller estimates that there are 200 private switches in the city; that each owner of a switch must pay $75 a year license, and that, therefore, the amount annually collected ought to be $15,000.

But the controller is not satisfied with collecting the annual fees as they become due. He is now trying to recover the annual license fees that have not been paid for years past, but, on account of the law of limitation, his efforts must be confined to the last five years.

As described in yesterday's Gazette, the controller urged the department of public safety to put its ordinance officers to work collecting the amounts due, and as a result letters were sent out to the owners of switches that this year's license fee was payable. The controller, however, insists that every firm or corporation that forgot to pay its switch license any time in the last five years shall pay up now.

"Why," he said yesterday, "$68,000 is owed to the city by owners of these switches, and I intend to do my best to have the money collected."

An ordinance is pending in select council that grants the controller the right to appoint four ordinance officers. What that branch will do with the ordinance, the controller says, he does not know, but he considers the ordinance officers proposed as necessary. On entering office he found that the switch license fees were not collected; that the city was not getting the money due it for wharf privileges; that police magistrates were remitting fines that ought to go to the city, and that there were little leaks of funds that the city would secure if it had officers whose sole duty was to look after the collections. The fact that $68,000 for one class of privileges alone was not received by the city in five years is considered by the controller a good reason for the creation of the proposed new ordinance officers.

The verdict of life imprisonment returned against Jett and White is a very inadequate penalty for deliberate assassination, committed as part of a series of crimes involving the murder of 27 people within the past two years. This is the first conviction and it should have been exemplary. Life sentences have a way of becoming term sentences, and the friends of Jett and White will now turn to work for a pardon or to a reduction of sentence. Hanging is the only conclusive way of punishing such crimes, and never was the penalty more richly deserved.

In these days Mr. Bryan's paper is too busy attacking Democrats to devote much attention to Republicans. In this week's issue the leading article attacks the reorganizers and protests against any departure from the Kansas City platform. Another leading article attacks Senator Gorman. Other articles have a whirl with the Chicago Chronicle, the Brooklyn Eagle, the Atlanta Constitution and the Nashville American, all Democratic papers, which are under the ban because they do not accept their Democracy from Mr. Bryan. For a wonder, Cleveland does not get even a mention, but Mr. Bryan atoned for this neglect by giving out an interview in the course of the week describing Cleveland as a bunco-steerer. It is a great fight and the razors are a-flying through the air.

City Controller John B. Larkin calls attention to the uncollected switch licenses, the remitted fines of police magistrates, the neglected wharfages and other sources of revenue which he thinks can be made to pay returns if he is given authority to appoint four ordinance officers. Without the officers the controller thinks he can realize on a part of the revenues that should come from the sources named, especially the switch licenses. The present state of the city's exchequer makes additional revenues welcome and the controller is entirely right in his effort to develop such sources of income. They will not enable a reduction of the tax rate to 10 mills without crippling the public service, but a proper attention to such matters and the taxation of franchises would produce ample revenue for every proper purpose of government without the necessity of increasing direct taxation upon real property.

Joseph Tucker Bispham, appointed by Gov. Pennypacker to the vacancy on the bench created by the death of Judge McCarthy, has just said in Paris that he cannot accept the appointment. His decision will be regretted by the people of Philadelphia, for they were greatly pleased by his appointment. The declination creates a new situation. The governor must guess again. Meantime, however, the tender to Mr. Bispham has forced the hand of the Philadelphia organization and compelled it to call a nominating convention. It is not too late for the organization and the governor to get together. The governor has set the pace by naming Mr. Bispham and the organization has learned the grade of man that must be named if an agreement is to be had. But why not? Mr. Robert von Moschzisker can afford to wait. He can well afford to follow Mr. Bispham's example and take himself out of the field. That would leave the way altogether open for the organization and Gov. Pennypacker to agree upon the true judicial plane for the advantage of themselves and of the people.

It is reported that the Panama canal treaty has been virtually defeated by the amendments adopted by the Colombian congress. As might have been expected the amendments principally relate to a big increase of compensation, although that provided for in the treaty was an exorbitant amount, much in excess of the sum the Colombian government assured our government would be accepted at the time [illegible] it was the policy of Colombia to induce this country to adopt the Panama route. If we had bought out the Panama Canal Company and gone ahead under its rights this difficulty would not have occurred, but congress put the whip in Colombia's hand by conditioning the purchase of the canal company's property on the ratification of a new treaty. A press dispatch says that the result will be that President Roosevelt will choose the Nicaragua route, but that route is so difficult and unstable that it is extremely improbable that an inter-oceanic canal will ever be constructed through it. There is only one route that is really practicable and that is the Panama route, but we must adopt a different policy toward Colombia.

The great economy to be effected by reduction of water waste is evidenced by the experience of New York. Notwithstanding the great increase of the city the daily consumption has declined 1,500,000 gallons, and a saving of $803,000 a year has been effected in the cost of the water department. This has been accomplished by study of actual conditions and stopping the more noticeable cases of waste. The water commissioner reports that extension of metered service will effect still greater economy and recommends action to that end. Pittsburgh is as preeminent in the costly wastefulness of its system of water as it is in the badness of its quality, and while other cities are improving a service far better than our own we are doing nothing. We believe that the incompetency of municipal administration, which prevails in this city, cannot be equaled in the civilized world. We notice that Manila is just issuing a five million gold loan for improving the water supply and the sewage system. It is a safe prediction that the work will be accomplished before Pittsburgh gets through talking about doing something, although the purification of the water supply has been under consideration since 1896.

The Railroad Ordinances.

After several conferences yesterday it was given out that Mayor Hays, Director Bigelow and President Crawford of common council are agreed that no further amendment of the Duquesne way ordinance is needed than to provide reasonable switching charges. That is a sensible conclusion. That amendment was suggested by The Gazette while the ordinance was under consideration in common council. It will be far more effective in safeguarding the interests of Pittsburgh shippers and receivers of freight than any chimerical provision for joint use of terminals that will be hardly more than adequate to accommodate the traffic of one system. We believe the Pennsylvania railroad may be induced to accept a plain stipulation of that kind, but not one that would make it liable to a fresh hold-up with every turn of the political wheel, such as an ambiguous provision for joint use of tracks upon terms to be arranged by the powers that might happen to be at the moment.

It will be well if select council shall accept the conclusion of the gentlemen named without further ado and pass the ordinance. But it remains to be seen whether the select council can act upon a business question in a business-like manner. It is seen that it is not difficult for three men prominent in the public eye to reach a sane conclusion. It is quite a different thing, however, for an irresponsible body, in which authority is so diffused as to lose its identity, to unite in such action. Members are actuated by diverse motives and responsible only to their wards for what they do. And this illustrates our argument that the system is wrong—that business questions such as franchises should be negotiated by a board of estimates and submitted to councils for approval or disapproval as a whole.

It is said, as the time approaches for councils to resume meetings, that the Baltimore & Ohio ordinances may be reported with amendments. In any event they have been held through the summer when the weather was favorable for prosecuting the work. One set of these ordinances simply provides for the vacation of certain dead ends of theoretical streets on the banks of the Monongahela river where the Baltimore & Ohio contemplates shop and yard improvements that will add more than a million dollars a year to the company's pay roll in this city. That work might have been well under way by now had the ordinances been promptly passed. Those street ends are of no present or prospective value to the city and there was no reason, except such as might be advanced to excuse any hold-up, for deferring action on that matter. There was not much more reason for delaying the plans for construction of the new passenger depot.

Elections of Senators.

In spite of the frequently expressed dissatisfaction with the United States senate and the demand for an amendment of the national Constitution to permit of the election of senators by the people, there is little prospect of such amendment, for the reason that the senate itself holds the key to the situation. Dissatisfaction with senate procedure reached a high water mark at the end of the last session of congress, when the chairman of the appropriations committee of the house, who was at the time, as now, all but elected speaker of the next house of representatives, gave voice to the popular resentment over the senate's blockade of necessary legislation. The senate was angered only and unconvinced, so far as the expressions of senators showed, that it had not a perfect right to do as it pleased, regardless of the people, of the popular branch of congress and of the president. Demands for reform of senate procedure and of popular election of United States senators fall on stony ground when addressed to the senate, for senators in the main are very well satisfied with the immunities and privileges of the senate and with the present method of senatorial election, in token of which they resolutely ignore or rebuff all complaints and pigeon hole all representations, from whatever quarter, that they ought to consent to the submission of a constitutional amendment requiring candidates for the senate to go before the people of their states at the polls the same as other candidates.

It is plain that if the people wish to reform the senate it is not to be done by mere criticism or demand for the submission of a constitutional amendment, but by such action as is open to them. In the matter of the presidency and the vice presidency they have entirely popularized elections by means of party organization and have succeeded in converting intervening agencies into mere devices for recording the popular will. They may accomplish the same result in the matter of the election of United States senators. There have been attempts at this here and there, but they were designed for special rather than general use, and have been for the most part appeals to the people by a candidate or candidates, such as Senator Quay has made with success in Pennsylvania. In Wisconsin, however, the popular choice of United States senators is to be attempted by means of a primary election law which passed the legislature last winter and which will be submitted to the people for their approval at the general election of 1904. The law is not specially designed for popular selection of candidates for the United States senate, but is inclusive of them. It does not rob the legislature of its electoral function, because it cannot, but it provides means by which the mandate of the party may be conveyed to the electors, much as in the case of elections for president and vice president of the United States.

If the people of Wisconsin adopt the new law other states will watch its workings with a view to acceptance of its principles for home use if it shall prove satisfactory. The system ought to work to the satisfaction of the people not only in the nominations for state officers, but in the nominations for senators, which will make the nominations of majority parties for the United States senate equivalent to elections. If it does work satisfactorily it will provide the means for satisfying the demand for the popular election of members of the upper house of the national legislative body.

The Business Situation.

There has been a decided change in sentiment in Wall street during the week, without any important change in general trade conditions. The stock market, which declined continuously for more than eight months, seems to have struck bottom, and is now on the mend. There was no warrant for the extreme shrinkage in values, but the market repeated the old experience of swinging as much too low as it had formerly moved too high. Perhaps an influence in checking the movement was the evidence furnished by two noteworthy deals—one in the banking and the other in the railroad world—that large financial interests had anticipated the general public in liquidating speculative accounts and were now in position to take advantage of the situation to carry out long-projected plans.

Such forced liquidation as has been witnessed in the stock market during the past six or seven months is usually compressed into six or seven weeks during the latter part of the year, when there is a double strain upon banking credit from the stock market and from the grain and cotton shippers. A source of apprehension has therefore been removed, or at least allayed for the remainder of the year. The effect of the decrease in exports and increase in imports of merchandise has been offset to some extent by foreign purchases of American securities, the result of which was a decline in sterling exchange to the lowest rates of the year. The prospects therefore favor gold imports this fall, and this will be realized if the exports of grain and cotton assume normal proportions. The value of our exports of agricultural products for July decreased $169,000, owing to a decrease of $3,419,000 in wheat and $785,000 in cotton, which more than offset the increase in corn, cattle and hogs and mineral oils.

The government crop report issued during the week indicated a yield of 2,245,000,000 bushels corn and 649,000,000 bushels wheat. This estimate is likely to be cut down in actual results, the weather since the figures were compiled being less favorable than could be desired. With this further allowance for depreciation, the total yield will compare favorably with the 10-year average, although being considerably below the record-breaking harvests of last year. Present grain prices are much higher than the average for the first half of 1903, so that the net profits to the farmers of the entire country will not be seriously reduced.

A firmer market is noted for pig iron, and large sales are reported to have been made during the past week. The weekly capacity of furnaces in blast on the 1st inst. was 361,903 gross tons. This is a decrease of 33,000 tons compared with the July output, but is the largest for any corresponding month on record, being an increase of 26,000 tons a week over the production in August last year and an increase of 58,000 tons a week over August, 1901.

The volume of trade is still remarkably well maintained. Bank exchanges do not show the same percentage of increase, however, for the reason that a general check has been applied to speculation. This is equally true of real estate speculation in the west and southwest, as of stock speculation in the east. Railroad earnings, on the other hand, which are an infallible gauge of the legitimate movement of commodities, continue to show gains over the corresponding period in all previous years, and these gains are well distributed throughout all sections of the country. Even the slow movement of wheat to primary markets has been more than made up by the increase in other kinds of traffic. While there is a marked improvement in sentiment in financial circles and a fairly confident feeling in commercial circles, there is at the same time an absence of the reckless buoyancy which characterized the situation last summer. This is not an unfavorable sign.

One Way Out.

Senator Cullom indicates one way out of the canal muddle and one that might be easily managed. Of course it would shock the "aunty" element if the United States should recognize an upstart government on the isthmus of Panama, negotiate a canal treaty with it and then defend its rights by force. Such a course might cause harsh criticism from our dear friends on the other side of the Atlantic, too, but it is precisely the way they would undertake to solve the problem. Some of them would probably not wait for the organization of a new government, but would simply seize the isthmus and proceed to build the canal.

It is well known that the province of Panama is on the verge of revolt against the Colombian government. It will be no great surprise if the killing of the canal treaty by unreasonable amendment shall prove the straw that will break the bond. If such should happen to be the case the United States would be foolish to overlook the opportunity to negotiate a treaty with the government of Panama without delay. It might be better form to wait until that government established its right to recognition by due process of successful resistance to Colombia, but, as Colombia is engaged in a disreputable attempt to bleed the United States, there is no occasion for the development of a superfine sense of honor. Colombia requested the United States to negotiate for the Panama company's property and indicated the terms on which fresh rights would be granted. It is not keeping its word. It is not entitled to the consideration accorded countries which fulfill their obligations. And so the United States would be fully justified in following the policy tentatively suggested by Senator Shelby M. Cullom, chairman of the senate committee on foreign affairs.

A Currency Plan.

While the president and other statesmen are conferring upon the subject of currency legislation, both as to the form of bill to be presented and the probability of securing prompt action, a Pittsburgh banker offers a suggestion worth considering. Mr. Clarence V. Tiers offers a plan for a bond secured emergency currency, if the country is so wedded to bond security that it will not willingly part with it.

Mr. Tiers proposes that any bank, including state banks and savings institutions shall be authorized to issue government notes, secured by the deposit of an equal amount of government bonds, or approved state, county or municipal bonds, the same to be cancelled by repayment to the government when the necessity for issue has passed. In order that this currency shall be certainly self-contracting he proposes that it be taxed at the rate of 6 per cent.

We believe a better system may be devised based upon bank assets. We do not think bonds absolutely essential as security, and when there are no longer United States bonds for the purpose the security will become in some degree variable. The proposed tax is unnecessarily high. It would tend to inflate interest rates. A smaller tax would suffice to contract the currency when business needs did not demand it and the process of contraction would be less violent. Still, as we said, this plan is worthy of consideration if none but bond security will satisfy the statesmen.

THE SUMMER OF 1903.

It will be a fine thing when the years have slipped by
And a new generation appears to the eye,
As happy as happy can be,
To tell, while young hearts are with sympathy warmed
Of the year when the summer got good and reformed,
The summer of nineteen-three.

The zephyrs that used to be parched were so mild
That they seemed like the sigh of a comforted child
As they swept o'er the blossoming lea;
And the sky overhead as it smiled on the bay
With a canopied cloud kept the sunshine away,
The summer of nineteen-three.

It was like some old rogue who is changing his mind,
And resolves to be generous, gentle and kind,
To atone for a life overfree.
And though some back slidings occurred now and then,
It cooled off and tried not to do it again,
The summer of nineteen-three.
—Washington Star.

The Quiet Observer.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

When Adam delv'd and Eve span
Who was then a gentleman?
—John Ball.

There is a question for the young man, and for the young woman, too, for between the lines we also read: "Who was then the lady?"

Adam was the gentleman then, no doubt, and Eve the lady, although both were compelled to work, he to delve in the earth for food to feed the family and she to spin that the family might be clothed.

It may have been necessity that drove them to it, just as it is necessity that drives most men and women to labor in order to live in these booming times of peace and plenty.

Would you work if you didn't have to?

At least, would you work as hard as you do? Supposing you didn't have to work, what would you do? Would you do as many others—do nothing but drift around and finally fall into mischief?

Maybe you will say you wouldn't do anything of the sort, but that won't answer the question. What would you do with yourself? If you had a barrel of money you might invest it in some good and profitable business; but that isn't the point. If you could live from day to day, as long as you cared to live, without doing a hand's turn, what would you do?

This may not strike you as a very deep, or profound, or even profitable question, but when you come to think it over carefully you may find there is something in it after all.

* * * * *

Adam was a farmer, of course, for farming was about all a fellow had to work at in his day, except fishing and hunting, picking berries and gathering apples, and doing nothing. There were no mills, stores, trolley lines, or anything to furnish him a job, even if a salary had been no object. It was Hobson's choice with him, just the same as it is with some of us. And, like some of us, he probably accepted the only thing within sight or reach, and made it his choice, the same as Riley's philosophic farmer, who complacently observes during a rainy season such as we are enjoying, or ending now:

"It hain't no use to grumble and complain;
It's jest as cheap and easy to rejoice.
When God sorts out the weather and sends rain,
W'y, rain's my choice."

Adam was something of a philosopher himself and disposed to make the best of things whether he liked them or not. And, in all probability, he sat around on fences and stumps, lounged in shady places when the sun was hot, and sat in sunny places when the air was chilly, the same as his sons have been inclined to do through all the long ages down to the present day and date.

Wonder if Eve had the same trouble in getting him to bring in wood with which to cook their bite, and to induce him to come to dinner when it was ready, that some good, industrious Eves of today have with their Adams, called by many other names?

* * * * *

Maybe you think you would like a job such as Adam had. It is natural, you know, for us to feel that we could have done better than the fellow who had the job, and that we would have liked it better than the one that has fallen to our lot.

At this distance Adam's job looks like a soft snap, but it may not have appeared so to him. Indeed, it is not altogether improbable that he envied satan's job, claiming that he could make more out of it and have a much better time than he was having.

If John Milton knew what he was writing about and was a reliable chronicler, Adam certainly had a good thing, particularly from a dyspeptic point of view, for he says:

"Now morn, her rosy steps in th' eastern clime
Advancing, sow'd the earth with orient pearl,
When Adam wak'd, so custom'd; for his sleep
Was very light, from pure digestion bred."

And then how happy and contented they must have been, or might have been, seeing that

"They eat, they drink, and in communion sweet Quaff immortality and joy."

But the devil was there, and he got in his work just as he is doing here and now.

It seems that Adam and Eve hadn't much of anything to do, so the devil thought they ought to get busy, and from all accounts they did, and their children have been busy—tolerably busy—ever since.

How has it been with you?

The devil doesn't mean to slight any of us, but if he should he will esteem it a favor to have his attention called to the fact.

* * * * *

And yet, taking everything into consideration, the old folks made out pretty well—at least not half as badly as some would have us believe. Like good, faithful Christians, they did what they could under the circumstances, and were thankful that things were not as bad as they might have been.

Indeed, it may have been for the best that the trouble came when it did, for come it must, seeing that man didn't have to do anything that looked like work. He was comparatively idle and do-less. Some call it independence, but idleness is a better name for it.

Suppose, for instance, that it was to be tried over again, and that you were Eve, clothed in her simple innocence and prompted by her woman's nature, would you take the apple? And if you did wouldn't you offer your Adam a bite, and pout and scold and frown if he refused it?

Or, if you were Adam, and your Eve beckoned you to her bower and there offered you a bite of the nice, tempting apple she was eating, wouldn't you take it, law or no law?

To be candid, haven't you done this same many a time and oft? That is, haven't you been led to do silly and unrighteous things by sweet woman?

About the fact of the matter is that human nature is much the same the world over, and ever has been, and ever will be, worlds without end.

Do you say amen?

* * * * *

However, you may want money, thinking that if you have plenty of the stuff all things else will be added, or at least come easy.

A great many think this way and instead of studying how to be useful they are bending all their energies in the direction of money and allowing the virtues to follow as best they can.

Among the many who have taken part in the discussion of the subject of riches, was an old-time writer by the name of Lyly, who gives this as a rule for those to follow who want to get rich:

"He that desireth riches must stretch the string that will not reach, and practice all kinds of getting."

He contended that naturally there are no rich strings longer than is necessary to reach the level of reasonable wants and needs, and to get more the string has to be stretched, and you can suit the manner of the stretching to your conscience. That is, get rich somehow, anyhow, but get rich.

In order to do this you will have to become possessed of the spirit of riches, set your heart on it, and if your soul does not consent turn a deaf ear to its protests.

You may gain wealth and keep your soul, even acquire millions, by fortunate investments and turns of the market. You may know whether you are rich or only wealthy by this: The rich desire to keep their money, the wealthy to dispose of it in a manner that will most benefit their fellowmen.

* * * * *

Surplus wealth is, as a rule, a source of great worry and annoyance to those who have it, as well as to those who live in expectation of getting it when its possessors have been compelled to give it up.

Waiting for dead men's shoes is sorry business and often fatal to those who wait.

It were better for all, perhaps, if children were not allowed to inherit fortunes, but required to work their own ways through life, earning their bread and butter as did those who acquired sufficient wealth to make the closing days of their lives comfortable.

Were the fortunes that are being squandered at present by children raised in comparative idleness, devoted to the education and general betterment of the ignorant and vicious, it would be better for the world, for then we might reasonably expect great and grand improvement everywhere, and among all classes, particularly the lower classes.

Tired Democrats.

The Democrats are sick of the nonsense of Populism. They are tired of Mr. Bryan and his sophomoric rhetoric. They are weary of leadership that spells defeat and issues that are reeking with fanaticism. They know that they have had enough of Bryanism, and if there is no harbor of refuge but Clevelandism they will beat into that.—Detroit Free Press.

Talked of in New York

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—One of the consequences of the mosquito plague from which New York has suffered this summer is the cleaning out of the ornamental lakes in Central park. Dredgers are hard at work and the quantity of filth they are removing is dreadful proof of the foul condition of the water. It is generally understood that mosquitoes are bred in damp spots where mud and water together aid in the propagation. In Central park this summer the mosquito has been more numerous than ever before. It may not have been due to the foul condition of the lakes; then again, it may. In all events the water has been run out of the various pools and men are scraping the bottom and carrying away the filth in wheelbarrows, to be hauled into the uncomplaining Atlantic ocean. Prof. Edwin P. Southwick, entomologist of the park department, is supervising the work and he hopes to exterminate the mosquitoes by the operation. Besides mosquitoes, there have been hordes of rats down by the water side and the professor thinks the cleaning of the lake beds will drive them away, too. Central park does not look as inviting as usual today, but it is pretty certain that it will smell much better in the vicinity of the water when the professor goes away with his workmen, leaving the lakes looking about as they always did.

Niches for Two Pittsburghers.

Two popular Pittsburghers have been chosen to fill the places of Herbert Smock and Bettina Girard in the principal roles of "Otoyo," on the roof of Madison Square garden. They are J. K. Murray and Clara Lane. The latter will sustain the title role, which is at present filled by Miss Girard, and Mr. Murray will succeed Herbert Smock in the leading baritone part. They will make their first appearance in the charming little opera on Monday night.

Belle Boyd's Daughter Coming.

Pittsburghers remember Belle Boyd, who was well known some years ago as the "Confederate Spy." She was a dashing, handsome woman, and the tales of her deeds in the war have been heard by every one. She is dead. Now her daughter Sarah, who is a miniature edition of her mother, goes out in a new drama, "Darkness and Daylight." It will be in Pittsburgh some time next week.

What Will Devery Say?

A man named Sylvester F. Wilson, who today pleaded guilty to a charge of abduction because he induced a young girl to join his basketball team, tried to bring Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany leader, to his relief. It seems that Murphy was interested in the management of basketball teams a dozen or 15 years ago, at which time he had some business dealings with Wilson. The latter would like the Tammany boss to lend him $50 or $100 at this time. Murphy does not care to do it. What Devery will say when he finds that Murphy is claimed as an acquaintance by so notorious a character as this man Wilson seems to be is what is interesting political observers here.

Great Night for the Sports.

It is almost like election night around the daily newspaper offices here. Interest in the fight at San Francisco is so great that the streets in front of the offices are as busy as if it were the middle of the afternoon, when the baseball extras begin to appear. Every item of news, however small, that comes from the scene of the battle is eagerly discussed. It is a great night for the sports.

This Fireman Deserves a Medal.

No one questions the bravery of New York firemen. The feat of one named Brown this afternoon deserves more than casual mention, however. In a burning building in Center street, which is in a congested neighborhood, a factory girl was cut off on the sixth floor. Almost strangled by smoke, she crawled out of a window and hung from the sill by the tips of her fingers. Brown straddled the sill of the window below with a policeman holding him by the leg and waist. The girl dropped into his arms. The shock was almost enough to hurl both to the street below, but the policeman and fireman held on and the girl was saved. The rescue was thrilling enough to deserve a medal for bravery and every one here hopes that Brown will get it.

President's Cousin Sued.

New York is talking about the suit of Edmond Kelly, a lawyer, against a cousin of the president for $35,000. The cousin's name is Samuel M. Roosevelt. The grounds of the suit are complicated, but in a general way they are that Kelly did a lot of work for Mr. Roosevelt for which he seeks to recover the sum named. The defense is that the services were for companies with which Mr. Roosevelt was connected and not for him personally.

Cupid as a Hypnotist.

Another of those hypnotic marriages turned up in the courts today. A girl was married to a young man at the Little Church Around the Corner and the husband wants his wife. Her parents say that she was hypnotized. The husband denies any hypnotic influence, except such as cupid is generally supposed to exercise. He got himself arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct, because he made too much noise in front of his bride's house demanding her society. The magistrate seems to believe in the hypnotic business, for he has adjourned the case until tomorrow, making the young man with the bad eye find bail in $1,500.

She Wanted the Last Word.

The big White Star liner Cedric got away today for Liverpool. The confusion usually attending the departure of an ocean steamer was augmented by a little woman who stood on the gang plank to bid some one goodbye and would not move. At last a stalwart sailor almost carried her down to the pier and then leaped aboard quickly as the gang plank was withdrawn. That woman is angry still. She had just six more last words to speak to her sister when she was hustled ashore.

Political Drift.

"But if Gorman is to be a Wall street, trust and high tariff candidate, Mr. Bryan can hardly with any consistency indorse him, although Gorman supported Bryan as a strict party man," says the Augusta (Ga.) Herald (Dem.). "We allude to Mr. Bryan, because, whatever we may think of him, or his policies, he has to be reckoned with, though his own candidacy is supposed to be out of the question. Senator Gorman is a rich man; a millionaire. His money is supposed to have come from railway and land deals in West Virginia, through the agency of his cousin, ex-Senator Henry G. Davis. He would, no doubt, put up a large sum personally if nominated and he would command great contributions from his opulent friends and associates; but can the Democracy win with him and his record? That is the question. We have simply stated the case as it presents itself to our mind."

+ + + +

Gorman's candidacy has not taken the west by storm. Says the Kansas City Journal (Rep.): "Gorman supported and voted for Bryan, but it was known to everybody that his support was lukewarm and was given only for 'regularity's' sake, that he indorsed scarcely a line in either the Chicago or Kansas City platform, and that he did practically nothing to secure Bryan's election and secretly expected and hoped for his defeat. It seems impossible, therefore, that the Bryanites could give him sincere and cordial support. Gorman is a skillful intriguer and political tactician, but he has seldom used his talents for good or commendable purposes."

+ + + +

Referring to the currency legislation expected at the coming session of congress, the Cleveland Plain Dealer (Dem.) says: "So far there are few indications of a division on political party lines and it is to be hoped partisan considerations will not interfere with the working out of a plan that will give the country the relief it demands. The problem is not a simple one, as is shown by the disagreement of skilled financiers as to its method of solution, and it is not likely to be solved satisfactorily unless the best thought in congress is concentrated upon it with no other purpose than the general welfare."

+ + + +

"There seems to be little or no difference of opinion as to the need of greater elasticity in the currency to meet the greater demand which arises when the crops are being moved, or in times of emergency," says the Philadelphia Press (Rep.). "If that is provided for it will relieve the treasury department from the necessity of watching the money market and determining what should be done to relieve a stringency. The treasury officials should have no such work to perform. But they have been obliged for many years to keep watch of the market and take action when found necessary. If the requirement, no longer necessary, for the deposit in the subtreasury of all receipts from customs is repealed that will be another gain."

+ + + +

A very long article appears in the Detroit Free Press (Dem.) on President Roosevelt's relations to Wall street, which reaches the conclusion that the power of the street in making presidents is greatly overestimated. In the opening it says: "When the complete narrative of Theodore Roosevelt's relations with Wall street, so-called, is written, it will form one of the most interesting chapters in the recent history of the United States. The writer will be unable to begin his authentic story with the accession of Mr. Roosevelt to the presidency, following the death of Mr. McKinley. This particular bit of American history has its origin in Mr. Roosevelt's administration as governor of New York, when he undertook to persuade the legislature to pass an act imposing a tax on franchises. The bill was denounced as Populistic by the financial interests of the state, and every effort was made to induce the governor to desist. Mr. Roosevelt refused to surrender, and even a servile legislature did not dare oppose the pressure of public opinion. The bill was passed, and it has since been sustained by the court of appeals."

+ + + +

"Kansas papers," says the Topeka Capital (Dem.), "have had some fun at the expense of the Folk boom, on the ground that there is nothing in it but unpopularity; and when popularity meets up with machine manipulation as it is handled in Missouri, there is only one result. Folk's case, however, is exceptional. Folk is not merely a popular Missourian. He is a national figure. His name is one to conjure with anywhere in the United States. The movement for Folk in Missouri promises to be something more than these ebullitions in behalf of a merely popular man commonly turn out."

+ + + +

"According to the political writers in Indiana, Capt. John C. Chaney of Sullivan, who spends a part of the year in this city as a lawyer, will be nominated for congress again from the Second district," says the Washington Post (Ind. Dem.). "No one is yet rising up to oppose him, and probably he will have it all to himself in trying to vanquish Representative 'Bob' Miers, the veteran Democrat. Judge Miers was saved last year, it is said, by Republican votes in two of the counties of the district. Populists and Democrats of Populistic tendencies got outside the Miers' fold because of dissatisfaction with his supposed conservative tendencies."

+ + + +

"The fine distinction that they did not mean 'criminal' lobbyism," says the Atlanta Constitution (Dem.), "was not made when the charges were given to the winds. Nor can those winds be caught up with and amended by their subsequent self-defenses. The winds have told their tale to the folk in every corner of Georgia and the only antidote for that sinister effort to damage popular confidence in their representatives, and to smirch the reputation of the state, must be administered by a searching investigation and a demand upon these accusers to prove their case, or perform the word-eating act on an official platform before official judges of the completeness of their auto-engulfment."

+ + + +

"Why do certain Democrats propose to inject race hatred into politics?" says the New York Evening Sun (Rep.). "The answer is said to be that 'riots in the north show the existence of strong prejudice against the negro in that section.' Well, let us see a moment. Outside of Delaware there has been no serious rioting; certainly no lynching in the north as distinguished from the west. In Southern Indiana and Southern Illinois there has always been more or less mob violence which has resulted from contiguity to southern states where race prejudice avowedly exists. But it has not been used as a political argument, and it would make a very poor one. Throughout the north and west generally it would be laughed at, where it did not arouse a bitter partisan spirit. To be called the black man's party would be equivalent to a challenge to declare for law and order, and the response would be prompt and enthusiastic."

Hobson's Ambition.

Capt. Richmond P. Hobson is going to run for congress. He himself has said it. It will not cause much surprise, because that was reported to be the principal reason why he desired to leave the navy. It does not require so much courage to run for congress as it did to take the Merrimac into Santiago harbor and sink her there. The reason Hobson gives for wanting to go to congress is "to push my ideas concerning a larger navy." He is a pushing man.—Boston Herald.

IT IS TO SMILE.

Caller—Your sister is a long time making her appearance, Johnny.

Johnny—Yes, she's gotter make it, of course, 'fore she comes down.—Chicago Tribune.

"I know the choirmaster will give me the—er—old Harry," said the basso, "if I flunk again on the low C in my solo."

"Ah!" exclaimed the tenor, "then you're really between the devil and the deep C, eh?"—Philadelphia Press.

Briggs—It's too bad about Winkle and the girl he is engaged to. Neither of them is good enough for the other.

Griggs—What makes you think that?

Briggs—Well, I've been talking the matter over with both families.—Life.

"Well, how much do you expect to get out of this deal?" asked the man who had been rounded up by the promoter.

"You haven't said yet how much you are willing to put in it," the promoter answered, not wishing for some reason to give a direct reply.—Chicago Record-Herald.

"If Mrs. Bounderby was so delightfully situated why did she leave home?"

"She left home for the same reason that so many other women leave home during the summer time."

"For rest and recreation?"

"No, indeed. To visit some women who would otherwise visit her."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

MILK CRUSADE ENDED BY MAYOR

Directs Alderman Anderson to Discharge Dairymen Upon Payments of Costs.

REASON SAID TO BE POLITICS

Protests Have Been Made to the Executive and He Was Asked to Stop the Prosecutions—Health Officers Go Out of Town on Vacation.

For supposed political reasons Mayor Hays terminated the crusade against the milk dealers yesterday. At the hearings of the 10 dealers before Alderman C. F. Anderson, Mayor Hays directed they should be discharged, but pay the costs of the prosecution. Politicians, it is alleged, conferred with Mayor Hays and asked to have the health officers stop the crusade. Mayor Hays is also alleged to have said that the inspectors were too severe in their prosecution of the dealers.

Director Harry Moore organized the crusade against the milk dealers. He instructed Supt. G. W. Moore to notify the health inspectors to secure samples from all dealers in the city and have them analyzed by City Chemist J. B. McTaggart. This was done, and many dealers were found to be using formaldehyde in the milk. Inspector Samuel P. Alder entered information against three dealers before Aldermen C. F. Anderson and C. F. Oyer. Some 30 dealers were prosecuted and fined. Most of the dealers arraigned for a hearing were from the Fifth, Eighth, Eleventh, Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Seventeenth wards.

Yesterday afternoon the following dealers were taken before Alderman Anderson and released on the payments of costs: J. P. Leonard, No. 1900 Fifth avenue; A. G. Helm, No. 59 Van Braam street; C. Glans, No. 2215 Fifth avenue; C. F. Murtz, No. 708 West Carson street; Frank Retenwald, Lower St. Clair township; M. Sinwater, No. 4906 Yew street; G. H. Beat, No. 52 Meyran avenue, and D. Donohue, No. 1611 Forbes street.

F. W. Smith, No. 113 South Thirteenth street, refused to accept the terms of Alderman Anderson, and insisted that the hearing be continued. Alderman Anderson would not go into a hearing yesterday, and continued the case until Wednesday. Smith says that his milk was not adulterated, and he will contest the case. Peter Hanes, No. 5 Hoit street, also refused to pay the costs. His case will be heard Wednesday.

Inspectors Alder and J. A. Friday left the city yesterday on vacations. These officers will be out of the city two weeks. During this time no informations are to be made against dealers.

"The milk crusade is about over," said a health officer yesterday. "The politicians have been protesting too strongly to Mayor Hays."

A number of dealers had hearings before Alderman Oyer yesterday afternoon. Three were fined and the balance were released on payment of costs.

J. J. Murphy, milk inspector of McKeesport, had two more milk dealers before Mayor Falkenstein yesterday. Louis Winklevoss and P. Auld were charged with selling adulterated milk. Fines were imposed.

BURNED LIVE KITTENS.

Humane Society Charges a Woman With a Horrible Act of Cruelty.

Mrs. Fannie Salmosky of No. 1534 Pike street is charged with cruelty to animals by Humane Agent Edward Thompson before Alderman G. F. Oyer. It is said that on Wednesday some boys put a grape basket in her yard containing five small kittens. The woman heard the kittens crying and after locating them in the basket ordered her little son to put the basket in a fire that was burning in the street. The boy took the basket and threw it in the flames. The kittens began to feel the heat of the basket burning and set up a loud cry.

A huckster wagon driven by a small boy came by at the time and he saw what was going on. Jumping from his seat he pulled the burning basket from the fire and took the scorched kittens from it. The woman's anger was aroused at the action of the boy, and picking up a brick she struck him on the head with it. She then took the burned kittens and threw them over a dump. Later three of the little animals were found dead and the other two so badly singed that they may die.

The woman was arrested and gave $300 bail for a hearing.

EXPLOSION BROKE WINDOWS

"Mud Shot" on Wabash Railroad Caused Considerable Excitement in the West End.

The explosion of a "mud-shot" in a cut on the Wabash railroad near Castor street, West End, last night caused a great deal of excitement and broke windows in a number of houses in the vicinity. The concussion of the shot was so heavy that windows several hundred yards' distant gave way under its pressure. The blast was also accompanied by a shower of stones that fell in the vicinity of the cut and added to the terror of the citizens. No one was injured.

The "mud-shot" is made by laying a quantity of dynamite on the portion of earth and rock to be blasted, and then a covering of several feet of earth is placed on top to compress the explosion and drive the force downward. The blast was made unusually heavy, but no damaging effects were anticipated.

Youtsey Was Cross Examined.

GEORGETOWN, KY., Aug. 14.—(Special.)—The cross-examination of Henry Youtsey in the Caleb Powers case was continued today by the defense. The attorney had the witness describe all of his actions on the day before the shooting of Goebel. Youtsey said he had seen preparation for trouble in the agricultural building.

GREENE COUNTY ROUTE HAS BEEN COMPLETED

Wabash Has Two Lines Surveyed East from Waynesburg to Connect With the Buckhannon & Northern Railroad.

Plans of two surveys for the extension of the Greene county railroad from Waynesburg, Pa., to a connection with the Buckhannon & Northern railroad have been filed with the clerk of Monongalia county, W. Va. Contracts are shortly to be awarded for the work from Pittsburgh to Waynesburg, after which bids will be invited for the line through from Waynesburg.

The first route submitted goes from Waynesburg by way of Rudolphs run to New Brownsville or Pentress, thence by a tunnel several thousand feet long to Mooresville. From that point the survey extends up Jacks run for about eight miles, where another tunnel will be required through the hill to McCurdysville and thence by Little Paw Paw creek to Rivesville.

The second location is from the mouth of Rudolphs run down Dunkard creek on the north side to a point below Brown's mills, where it crosses the creek to the south side and thence to the mouth of Jacks run and up Jacks run to Mooresville. From that point the same route is followed as in the first survey. Other plans have been filed, giving the route of numerous branch lines leading to the southeast to connect with the Wabash lines on the east side of the Monongahela river. One of these lines is presumably the one to connect with the Morgantown & Kingwood railroad at Morgantown.

The second survey is the longer by several miles, although it is free of tunnels. The grading, however, will be heavy. The first survey is nearer a "bee line." The tunneling will be frequent, and for this reason the longer route may be adopted. As soon as this is determined bids will be called for.

Real estate values have been unnaturally boosted since the Wabash engineers have been surveying through Monongalia county. Practically no right of way has been bought and will not be until the inflated prices drop. Property holders in that county successfully prevented the Black Bottle railroad in 1887 from constructing a line, and the Wabash is being subjected to about the same treatment.

THE DEATH ROLL

Mrs. John L. Feerst, Sr.

Mrs. Margaret K. Feerst, 83 years old, a resident of the Eleventh ward for the last 50 years, died yesterday at the family home, No. 2135 Center avenue, after an illness of 17 years. She suffered from rheumatism, and for 17 years had been unable to walk. Last Saturday she suffered a stroke of paralysis, and this caused her death. Mrs. Feerst was born in Kerkhave, Bavaria, Germany, and in 1853 she came to the United States with her betrothed. The couple came direct to Pittsburgh and were married here, settling in the old Eighth ward, now the Eleventh, when it was a village. Mr. Feerst embarked in the grocery business in Center avenue after his marriage and he has been in business there since. Mrs. Feerst was one of the best-known residents of the district, and one of the oldest members of the First German Trinity church, Sixth avenue, near Fifth, the Rev. William Broecker, pastor. Mrs. Feerst is survived by her husband, John L. Feerst, Sr., and one son, John L. Feerst, Jr., the latter being a member of the firm of Latshaw & Feerst, commission merchants, in Liberty avenue, Pittsburgh. One sister and two brothers who reside in Germany also survive.

Adam Brockie, Sr.

Adam Brockie, Sr., 60 years old, pay clerk at the Homestead steel works, died last night at his home, Fourteenth and West streets, Homestead. He was born in Clarkson, Scotland, and was the son of Adam Brockie of Alldire, Scotland, and a grandson of Adam Brockie, Parish of New Battle, Scotland. He followed the grocery business till he came to the United States. After coming to Pittsburgh he became bookkeeper in the Mellon bank and later went to Homestead. Mr. Brockie was precentor for 19 years in the Newarthill United Presbyterian church and held the same position for 10 years in the Longbridge United Presbyterian church. His last church was the St. George's Road United Presbyterian church, Glasgow. In 1865 he married Miss Agnes Hamilton at Chapelhall, who, with six children, Adam, Robert, John, Andrew, Alexander, and the Misses Annie and Isabella, and five grandchildren survive. The funeral will be held from his late home Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The Rev. Jacob Hinton.

The Rev. Jacob Hinton, 65 years old, one of the oldest colored ministers in Pittsburgh, is dead at his late home, No. 89 Fulton street. He had been a resident of this city for over 40 years, and first served the Wylie Avenue African Methodist Episcopal church. He later became minister of the Free Will Baptist church, and for many years was pastor of the church of that denomination in Fulton street. His last charge was at Brownsville, Pa. The Rev. Mr. Hinton was a native of Williamsport, Md. In 1863 he enlisted in Company B, Second regiment, Maryland volunteers, and served till the close of the civil war. During the war he received an injury to his stomach, which ultimately caused his retirement from active pastoral duties 11 years ago, and his death. He is survived by his widow and six children. He was a member of Post, No. 206, G. A. R.

Robinson J. Feltwell.

Robinson J. Feltwell, 60 years old, died suddenly of heart failure at his home, in Centennial avenue, Sewickley, yesterday. Mr. Feltwell had not been in good health for 15 years. He was born in Lawrenceville and had lived in Sewickley for 25 years. He had been in the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad company for 38 years, being in the general offices at Pittsburgh at the time of his death. He was a member of Haptasoph conclave, No. 93, of Sewickley, and of the St. James' Roman Catholic church, from which he will be buried Monday at 9 a. m. He is survived by his widow and four children—Max, Instan, Myrtle and Pearl Feltwell, all of Sewickley—also by two sisters, Dr. Sophia E. Feltwell of Philadelphia and Caroline Feltwell of Pittsburgh, and a brother, Joseph Feltwell of California.

Funeral of Clement Arenth.

The remains of Clement Arenth, who died while on a visit to his former home, at Beinertz, Germany, on July 18, arrived at his late home, No. 6324 Station street, East End, yesterday. Mr. Arenth, who was 37 years old, was for some time proprietor of the Hotel Arenth, in Station street. Funeral services will be held over his remains at SS. Peter and Paul's Roman Catholic church, Larimer avenue, East End, this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Albert Friedsam.

Mrs. Mary Belle Friedsam, wife of Albert Friedsam, a well-known Pittsburgh newspaper man, and Pittsburgh correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, died at noon yesterday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Simpson, at Akron, O. Mrs. Friedsam before her marriage was well known in Ohio religious circles. Funeral services and interment will be held Monday afternoon at Akron.

Obituary Notes.

James A. Bowen, an expert machinist and inventor, is dead at Pottsville, Pa., of paralysis, aged 68.

QUARANTINE PLACED ON LOCAL HOSPITAL

Employe Had Smallpox, but No Danger is Threatened—No Epidemic Next Winter.

Mrs. Sarah W. Sulter, assistant superintendent of nurses at the Homeopathic hospital, died at that institution of hemorrhagic smallpox on Thursday night. The hospital has been placed under quarantine, but merely to prevent those who have not been vaccinated from entering the wards. The quarantine will be effective for 16 or 18 days as a precaution.

In the early stages hemorrhagic smallpox is somewhat similar to typhoid fever, and the physicians at the hospital diagnosed Mrs. Sultor's case as typhoid. She was accordingly placed in the isolated ward. When she died City Physician B. A. Booth and Dr. Wilmer R. Batt, state quarantine officer at Irage, were called in and they diagnosed the case as hemorrhagic smallpox.

Dr. Booth stated last night that the quarantine is kept so that persons not vaccinated cannot enter the institution. Those who have been are admitted to the wards as usual. The isolated ward cannot be visited until the quarantine is lifted. Dr. Booth stated that no more danger can be possible from a victim in a hospital than anywhere else and he is not at all alarmed that in the Homeopathic hospital was found a case of the disease. He also said that hemorrhagic smallpox is not nearly so contagious as is smallpox itself.

Physicians of the bureau of health say they do not anticipate a serious epidemic of smallpox here next winter. This is attributed to the general vaccination enforced in Pittsburgh during the past few months.

Dr. B. A. Booth stated yesterday that about 100,000 persons were vaccinated in Pittsburgh last year, and probably the same number will be vaccinated this year. About 20,000 persons come to Pittsburgh to reside every year, and some of them naturally escape the physicians.

Six cases of smallpox were reported to the bureau of health yesterday. The Robson family of No. 6006 Beltler street, of which there are five members, were all taken to the municipal hospital suffering from the disease. They are colored. The names are Harriet, 32 years old; John, 28 years old; Lizzie, 9 years old; Samuel, 10 years old, and Will, 9 years old. The other case was Ray McNorton, 22 years old, of No. 16 Tecumseh street.

Burlington Route
To Colorado
ONE NIGHT ON THE ROAD.

The Burlington's famous limited trains from Chicago and St. Louis to Colorado are the best trains between these points. Leave one afternoon—arrive Denver the next afternoon.

There are reasons why. The sleeping cars, reclining chair cars and the buffet-smoking car with observation platform, were all built for comfort. The time is fast, but as our roadbed is in first-class condition, the trains make schedule time easily. Our dining cars with tables daintily dressed with fine glass and linen, and with service à la carte, are the equal of any in the world.

We have other good trains which leave Chicago and St. Louis in the evening and reach Denver at 7.30 the second morning.

Round-trip tickets from Chicago to Colorado (Denver, Pueblo or Colorado Springs) cost $30, and from St. Louis $25. They are on sale daily until September 30, good returning until October 31.

Let me send you a free copy of our "Handbook of Colorado." It tells all about the prices at hotels, boarding houses, ranches and resorts.

RAILROAD IS SOLD UNDER THE HAMMER

New York Capitalist Gets Altoona & Beech Creek Terminal Property.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HOLLIDAYSBURG, PA., Aug. 14.—J. William Thatcher, a New York capitalist, became the purchaser today of the Altoona & Beech Creek Terminal railroad, at a public sale. The railroad was sold to satisfy a judgment claim of $9,000 held by Mr. Thatcher. The nominal consideration for which the railroad franchise was sold was $75.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Mr. Thatcher is treasurer of the New York & Pittsburgh Central Railroad Company, and at his office today he said that the sale to him was doubtless a mere formality, and that he had had a judgment against the company whose franchises were sold. He said:

"I found a way to settle the matter and did so a couple of weeks ago; I do not know anything about the sale. My claim was a personal one, and I did not and do not represent any railroad interests in the matter. My attorney, Mr. Uhle, of No. 11 William street, represented me and understands the details. He will return to the city on Monday."

SLASHED BY A STRANGER.

A Washington Citizen Brutally Attacked in the Dark at His Home.

WASHINGTON, PA., Aug. 14.—(Special.)—Robert Johnson, a prominent citizen of the Sixth ward, was brutally slashed last night in his own home. He had retired, when he heard a knock at the door. On getting up and opening the door a peremptory voice demanded to know who was in the house. Johnson assured the stranger that he was alone, but, doubting his word, and seemingly trying to find some one, he tried to force himself into the house, pushing Johnson out of the way. Failing in this he pulled a huge knife and made an attack upon Johnson in the dark.

The first advance by the assailant almost severed Johnson's leg and he fell to the floor, while his assailant escaped. His cries brought assistance and he was carried eight blocks to the office of Dr. William Denney. The wound is a serious one. Officers are searching for his assailant.

PASSENGERS TERRORIZED BY TWO BAD NEGROES

WHEELING, W. VA., Aug. 14.—William Butler and John Staids, both negroes, were arrested at Moundsville this morning charged with rioting and terrorizing the passengers of a Baltimore & Ohio train, and held to the grand jury. The men boarded the train at Fairmont in an intoxicated condition and almost threw the passengers in a panic by flourishing knives and revolvers. The crew attempted to quiet the negroes, but were driven out of the coach at the point of pistols.

Big Price for a Patent.

WASHINGTON, PA., Aug. 14.—(Special.)—W. R. LeRoy, a machinist of this place, has invented and patented an air compression engine that promises to yield him an immense profit. He has been offered $475,000 for six-tenths of his interest in the patent. The secret test made was in charge of representatives of the United States Steel Corporation. Mr. LeRoy is 35 years old. He held the position of gunner's mate on the Oregon on her famous trip around Cape Horn.

President May Visit Coal Fields.

WILKESBARRE, PA., Aug. 14.—Louis Hammerling, a well-known Republican politician and labor leader of this city, returned today from Oyster Bay, where he invited President Roosevelt to attend the meeting of Republican clubs here next month. The president consented to see a committee representing the convention committee of arrangements. It is said the president is interested in the anthracite regions and is desirous of visiting this section of the state.

Molders' Strike Settled.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Aug. 14.—(Special.)—A settlement of the molders' strike was made here this afternoon between the molders and foundrymen. It provided for an increase of the minimum from $2 90 to $3. The proposition for the introduction of molding machines and the restriction of the output were refused by the molders. It was agreed that there was to be a straight nine-hour day.

Slander Suit Dismissed.

WASHINGTON, PA., Aug. 14.—(Special.)—The slander suit which was instituted here some time ago was dismissed today. Taylor Foreman, a merchant of Charleroi, brought suit against Mrs. Clara Thompson and F. S. Thompson, her husband, of the same place, for $10,000 for alleged slanderous remarks. The case was settled by Mrs. Thompson retracting the remarks attributed to her.

Oil Contractor Arrested.

FINDLAY, O., Aug. 14.—(Special.)—Sheriff James Bramin of Warren county, Pa., today arrested Albert Sechrist of this city and took him to Pennsylvania on a charge preferred by a girl 16 years old, prominent in Warren society circles. Sechrist is one of the most prominent oil contractors in the local field.

Foreigners to Build a Church.

BUTLER, PA., Aug. 14.—(Special.)—Ministers of the Greek Catholic church, after a canvass of this city, find there are 3,000 Greeks, Russians and Slavs, where a year ago there were scarcely a dozen. These have subscribed enough money to justify the building of a $10,000 church, which will be located on Pierce avenue.

Prisoners Liberated By "Pals."

MONONGAHELA, PA., Aug. 14.—(Special.)—Through the aid of "pals," three men who had been captured after a hot chase escaped from the city jail last midnight. A broken window and a bar in the jail corridor showed how the other members of the gang of five had entered and broken the cell lock.

Gunshot Wound Was Fatal.

GREENSBURG, PA., Aug. 14.—Robert Kuhn of Bolivar, who was shot by Chief of Police J. C. McClune on August 2, died this morning. The coroner's jury held McClune for the killing. He had been out on bail, but again surrendered himself today.

Congressman Kennedy Ill.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Aug. 14.—Congressman James Kennedy of the Eighteenth district was stricken yesterday with typhoid fever. His recovery is doubtful.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

ASHTABULA, O.—A. Reggs, a brakeman, was run over in the Lake Shore yards and killed.

JOHNSTOWN, PA.—In a fit of despondency caused by ill health Louis A. Fendelir, aged 56, fired a bullet into his brain and died in two hours.

SHARON, PA.—Charles Neff, whose residence is unknown, was struck by an Erie switch engine. He was taken to the office of a physician, where he died.

DUNBAR, PA.—A. J. Staub of Connellsville purchased 3,800 acres of timber land from Samuel Porterfield, Adam Bungood and others on Indian and Rock creeks.

WASHINGTON, PA.—The stockholders of the Union Trust Company, a local banking concern, voted to increase the capital stock from $500,000 to $1,000,000. The matter will now come before the directors.

GREENSBURG, PA.—The Greensburg school board elected Miss Frank Moore, formerly principal of the Derry high school, to a position in the faculty of the local high school. Prof. Orton Lowe was made principal.

WASHINGTON, PA.—Judge Taylor handed down an opinion in the matter of annexation of a portion of North Franklin township to the borough of Washington, approving the action of the grand jury in passing favorably upon the ordinance of Washington borough providing for annexation.

QUAY'S OLD REGIMENT RALLIES ONCE AGAIN

The Colonel Unable to Attend Reunion Because of His Wife's Illness.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., Aug. 14.—The reunion of the One Hundred and Thirty-fourth Pennsylvania Volunteers, Col. M. S. Quay's regiment, was held at Cascade park today, with 87 members present. A letter from Col. Quay was read, expressing his extreme regret that he could not be present by reason of his wife's illness. Col. J. M. Thompson, the second colonel of the regiment, was to have been present to deliver an address, but word was received that he was critically ill at his home in Butler, and not expected to live.

REV. FATHER PATRICK BRENNAN.

He is a member of the faculty of the Catholic University at Georgetown, Md., and was at the reunion of Col. Quay's regiment. He enlisted in the regiment when 16 years of age.

This regiment went through two of the bloodiest battles of the civil war, at Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville. The executive committee is as follows: J. G. Fulkerson, Josiah Braden, P. V. Brown, J. C. Mapes, Hiram McClain, C. M. Brown, Capt. J. M. Clark, Joseph Hunter, E. McCready and W. P. Kirkpatrick. The following officers were elected this year: President, John D. Graham, New Brighton; vice president, John J. McGarvey, Harrisville, Butler county; secretary, John D. Orr, Youngstown; treasurer, J. A. McMillen of this county. The meeting will again be held in this city at Cascade park, the second Thursday of September, 1904.

The Rev. J. J. Sharp of New Wilmington, Alderman R. S. Breckenridge and Assemblyman Robert P. Pomeroy, both of this city, composed the memorial committee which framed resolutions upon the death of the members during the past year, and were again appointed on the same committee. Speakers today were J. R. Kemp of Baltimore and Father Patrick Brennen of Washington, D. C., a member of the Georgetown university faculty. Father Brennen enlisted in the One Hundred and Thirty-fourth regiment when he was 16.

Alleged Pickpockets Held.

MEADVILLE, PA., Aug. 14.—(Special.)—John Thomas and Joseph Morris, the two alleged pickpockets arrested last evening at Exposition park, were arraigned before Justice D. W. Lockhart here this afternoon and were held under $800 bail for trial. Several witnesses gave testimony connecting them with numerous thefts at the United Presbyterian reunion.

Killed By a Cave-in.

FRANKLIN, PA., Aug. 14.—(Special.)—Emmett Stallsmith, a teamster, was loading sand on his wagon this afternoon, when a portion of the bank caved in. Stallsmith was buried under four feet of sand. He was dead when uncovered.

Mr. Claflin Corrects a Report.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Sir—In your issue of Thursday, August 13, referring to the recent destruction of the Gospel mission tent by fire, the following statement is made:

"Considerable bitterness has been manifested against him, it is said, by some of his old congregation, and the manner in which the fire evidently started yesterday has given rise to the report that the conflagration was not planned by boys, although they may have been guilty of applying the light that started the blaze. Mr. Claflin said last night that he was going to investigate the matter thoroughly."

Let me say, in regard to the above statement, that not the slightest credence is given to any such report, either by myself or anyone connected with me in the work, and we regret exceedingly that such a report should have found its way into your columns.

A. H. CLAFLIN,
Pastor Gospel Mission Church.

UNIVERSITY PROFESSOR KILLED WHILE HUNTING

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MORGANTOWN, W. VA., Aug. 14.—Charles Chollette, professor of French and literature at the West Virginia university, accidentally killed himself this morning while hunting. He went out with his dogs at 6 o'clock, and the accident occurred three hours later. A farmer heard the report of a gun, followed by groans, and hastening in the direction of the shot found Prof. Chollette dead.

The surroundings indicated that he had sighted some game, as the hammer to the undischarged barrel of the gun was cocked, and he attempted to cross a fence leading down a steep hill into the woods. While climbing the fence, two rails broke, and he fell over on his gun, causing the discharge of one barrel. The load entered the abdomen.

Prof. Chollette was 40 years old, and a native of Switzerland. He took his first degree from the University of Geneva. Leaving there he went to Harvard university, taking a bachelor's degree there. After teaching at different schools in Louisiana he took post graduate work at Columbia university, and was elected to the chair of French language and literature at the West Virginia university in 1899. He is survived by a widow and three children, besides his aged mother, who lived with him.

Doctor Tucker's New and Wonderful Mechanical Device With Which He Is Bringing About More Cures of Bronchial and Lung Troubles, Restoring to More Deaf People the Lost Sense of Hearing, and Curing More Catarrhal Diseases Than Ever Was Known in the Medical Profession.

This wonderful apparatus has revolutionized the treatment of all chronic diseases. It is composed of a number of glass cells, each of which contains a remedy for a certain diseased condition, the remedy being dissolved and incorporated in oil, so that when the instrument is put into use the mixture is converted into an oily, smoke-like vapor, which can be easily driven into every cavity of the body, and which will positively cure all of the diseases in the treatment of which it is applied. It cures

BRONCHIAL AND LUNG TROUBLES

by inhalation. The vapor is formed, the patient is instructed how to breathe, the medicated vapor is carried deep down into the lung cells, coating over the mucous surfaces, not only of the bronchial tubes but of all the tissues of the lungs, removing all mucus accumulations, killing all germs, and relieving pain, shortness of breath, coughing, and in fact all the symptoms attendant upon such diseases. It cures all forms of which are curable, by another oily medicant, which is forced through the Eustachian tubes up into the middle ear, and which positively cures suppurative discharges, head noises and partial or complete deafness. It cures of the entire system by being absorbed through the lymphatics and through the glandular structure of the mucous membranes.

Doctor Tucker will not increase his charges for services on account of this new and remarkable method of treatment, but will still continue to give to everyone the advantage of his low fee system which he, and he alone, has maintained throughout fourteen years of steady, successful practice. His charges will remain but which includes necessary medicines. Every new discovery adds to the expense of the workings of Doctor Tucker's office, but the people have appreciated his services in the past, and he is confident that he will increase his usefulness to chronic sufferers ten-fold by the use of this advanced form of application. This itself is sufficient to repay him for the extra effort and expense.

KAUFMANN'S

"THE BIG STORE"

Any straw hat in stock $1.00

When we tell you that you need pay LESS than half the marked price we mean in plain English that you can go through our entire stock, pick out any straw hat—no matter if the former prices were $3, $3.50, $4 or $5, any style, any shape or any braid, and it's yours for only 1.00

Fine news! Yes, for you, but it means a big loss for us.

We are shortening sail, to go into harbor for autumn stocks. So, overboard with all the spring and summer clothing we own.

Every ticket is the same as it was last week—but you need only pay one-half the marked price thereon. If a suit has been previously reduced it is now yours for half of the smallest price ever asked for it.

At the height of the season our clothing could always command a premium. We could easily get more than we ever asked. But now, that the selling season for summer wear is on the wane, we offer you a discount of 50 per cent from all marked prices to quickly clear out all men's last fall and spring top coats, all suits (including two-piece outing suits) and all men's pants. (The full dress suits, uniforms and coachmen's liveries are excluded.)

This one-half price offer means a sale propelled by honest motives, for we offer you 50 per cent discount from the present marked prices and not from figures marked high so they would stand a cut—without loss to the dealer.

Pass the good news along—all clothing to go at ½.

Some stores are merciful to themselves—and cut prices bit by bit. Nobody likes to lose money—yet we dare not let summer stocks lap over into the next season, so we are offering a clear and clean cut of 50 per cent on our entire stock of summer clothing. And, as we must lose, we lose to good effect—we cut prices right in two—the clearance will soon be over; and we'll have made friends in the bargain.

Yesterday a man said, "I was thoroughly disgusted"—and he had a right to be. He went into a clothing store to buy a suit. Some picked-over, make-shift garments were shown him. "But I don't want reduced stuff, let me see your regular lines." The salesman was compelled to admit that they had none. So from store to store he went and met with the same unsatisfactory experience. Then he came here—and found that we were selling our entire regular line of men's summer suits, top coats and pants at 50 per cent off the marked price.

Clearing sale prices on entire boys' suit stock

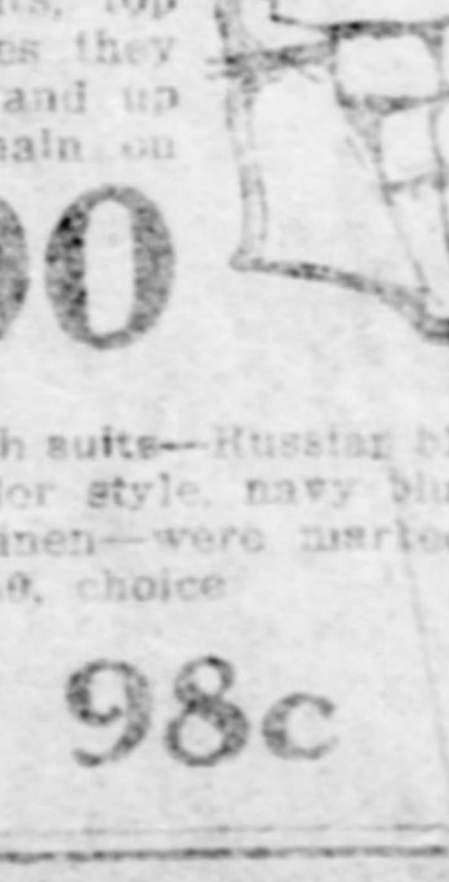
Of course the details of this sweeping clearing sale are of no concern to you, but you wouldn't understand nor appreciate the wonderful offerings if we didn't give you a bit of the inside workings—the summer selling season is practically at an end, and as we won't carry over a single suit we must waive profits and let you have the goods at cost.

Choice of any $4, $5 and $6 boys' fine all wool suits

Included in this assortment you will find fine medium weight serge and cheviot, Russian blouse, sailor collar Norfolk, single and double-breasted two-piece, Norfolk and three-piece suits. Many of the better lines of suits have been placed only yesterday into this assortment; sizes 2½ to 16—choice 2.75

Choice of any short pants suit, top coat or reefer in our stock

This means that you can choose from our entire stock of boys' short pants suits, top coats or reefers, no matter what prices they now bear (they're marked $7, $8, $9 and up to $12.) The original prices still remain on them, so that you can see the saving you realize. Many styles, all sizes, and you only pay 5.00



Special—boys' all-wool knee pants—former prices up to $1.25, choice today 48c

Choice of any young men's two-piece outing suit in stock—former prices, $10, $12, $14 and $16. Why, even the trousers alone of some of the suits are worth the sale price. Made of best materials, single or double-breasted styles, all go today for 4.75

Wash suits—Russian blouse or sailor style, navy blue or pink linen—were marked up to $2.50, choice 98c

It beats any shoe sale we ever held

An appreciative throng of men and women are keeping the salespeople busy as bees during this $1.90 shoe sale. We're looking for a repetition of the exciting scenes of the past week for today. We will expect to see your face among the crowd.

Plenty for all day today—but we make no promises beyond Saturday 10 p. m. The bulk of these shoes are worth $2.50; a large number are worth $3, and the $3.50 shoes are only in three or four styles—we want to be entirely fair in our statements. These shoes are all made by reputable makers whose guarantee to us stands as firmly and fully to the values they represent as does a bank note for the government security that lies behind it.

Choice of the men's or women's shoes or oxfords. 1.90

Any pair of shoes contained in this sale would be bargain enough at the original price—and it wasn't the intention of the makers to sell these shoes for anything near this sale price, you can depend on that. Well here's the list:

The men's shoes are made from Corona colt, French patent leather, velour and box calf and vici kid, lace and blucher styles, latest style lasts.

The women's shoes are made from imported ideal kid, vici kid and patent leather, latest style lasts, all sizes to fit all feet.

But we're beginning to shelve our fall stock and summer goods must go; we're satisfied to take losses here and there to dispose of all odd lots.

We can't give you another bidding to this sale, for this is positively the last announcement and tonight terminates this 1.90 sale.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Virgil Garvin, Hanlon's tall "Texas tarantula," shut the champions out in the last game of the season between these teams at Washington park, Brooklyn, this afternoon by the score of 2 to 0.

Opposed to Garvin was Fred Faulkenberg, who pitched equally as good as Garvin, except in the first inning, when he showed signs of weakening, but from this out the locals could do little with his offerings. Falkenberg's work on the slab far excelled that of any of the champion box men during this series and a little consecutive hitting would have made it three straight for Clarke's men, notwithstanding his wild pitch in the first inning, which let in one run, and his wild throw in the sixth, which helped to contribute another tally. Garvin held the champions down to four scattered hits, struck out nine men and refused to issue a pass, which is pretty near a record.

The game outside of the battle between Garvin and Falkenberg was featureless, save for Sheckard's base running in the sixth inning, the batting being extremely light on both sides. In the fourth inning Clarke took too much room off first and was caught between the bases. In trying to reach second he spiked Flood in the left leg below the knee, causing his retirement, Jordan taking Flood's place.

Not until the sixth inning did the Pirates get a man past first base, when, with two out, Beaumont hit to the right field fence for three-quarters of the route, but Clarke's weak fly fell in Doyle's glove. Again in the eighth inning Ritchey, the first man up, hit to center for two bases. Sebring could do nothing with Garvin and retired. Phelps drove a long fly to Dobbs and Falkenberg fanned.

Brooklyn won the game in the first inning. Strang, the first batter to face Falkenberg, got free transportation. Sheckard singled, Dobb's little fly was taken care of by Wagner. Doyle walked on four wide ones, the last being very wild, allowing Strang to score.

After this bad inning Falkenberg was invincible, only one Hanlonite reaching first base until the sixth inning. After Bransfield had put Strang out unassisted, Sheckard barely beat out a bunt. Falkenberg made a bad throw to catch Sheckard at first, the runner going to second. Dobbs hit to Bransfield, Falkenberg covering first, putting the batter out, while Sheckard by fast sprinting came all the way from second on the play, scoring the second and last run of the game. BRAKEMAN IS KILLED.

Panhandle Wreck Train Overturns Derrick, Scalding One Man Fatally.

While a wreck train on the Panhandle was running at top speed yesterday afternoon, near Bridgeville, a heavy derrick, anchored to a flat car, toppled over as the train struck a curve, bursting the steam pipes leading from the boiler. Galton M. Benedict, a brakeman, 29 years old, of Carnegie, was caught in the wreckage and scalded. His injuries were such that he died at Mercy hospital last night.

At the train dispatcher's office it was stated last night that the accident had caused very little damage and that no one was killed. Information brought to the morgue was to the effect that the car upon which the derrick was riding left the track, and that the accident was caused by excessive speed. It could not be learned whether anyone else was

FRED CLARKE LIKES PITCHER LEW MOREN

Young Millvale Twirler May Be Tried Out by Champions. He Works Today.

The excellent showing of Lew Moren, the young right-handed pitcher on Burgess Ed. Hickey's Millvale team, has caught the eye of Manager Fred Clarke of the Pittsburgh champions. Clarke is reported to have said in Brooklyn that he is looking out for promising youngsters for next year, and that Moren is a Pirate possibility. Clarke said he would look the youngster up when he returns home.

Moren is regarded as the leading right hand pitcher in the locality. This is his second year on the diamond as a pitcher. Last summer Lew Wentz, the old P. A. C. manager, discovered him pitching for a gang of boys his age on Mt. Washington, and Wentz immediately organized a team and had Moren as the principal pitcher. Burgess Hickey says he will be in the big league in a season or so.

Moren will pitch for Millvale this afternoon at Millvale against the fast Tarentum A. C. Tarentum will have Brucker, the former Our Boys pitcher, who was in the Cotton Belt League last summer on the rubber. Hickey looks for the largest crowd of the year out at the park.

Homestead being in the east, the patrons of the independents will be divided more than ever today. Another game that promises to be a fast one will be the argument between Waynesburg and Bridgeville, at Bridgeville. Waynesburg is captained by Frank Haller, the old leaguer, and in the lineup are "Buck" Kenney, the former Pittsburgh high school shortstop, who was at West Virginia and played on the Interscholastics this spring; Jim Ganier, the old Waynesburg College player, who came home from the New York State League recently to join the team; Kid Williams, who came into prominence as a pitcher at Millvale, and other well known players.

The Fairbanks will have the Northsides of Allegheny for their opponents at West Etna park today. Claffe will be on the rubber for the Germans and Draher will be his catcher. Watson, who is slated to occupy the slab for the visitors, is a very promising youngster and has been twirling a strong game this season. Sheets will do the catching for the Northsides.

Wilmerding and Manor meet at Westinghouse park, Turtle Creek, this afternoon. For Manor the battery will be Rankin and Cremer; for Wilmerding, Stotler or Stewart and Smith.

DICK WELLES SMASHES WORLD'S RECORD ON MILE

Leaves Grand Opera Far in Rear, Covering Distance in Time of 1:37 2-5.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—Dick Welles won the special match race with E. E. Smathers' Grand Opera today at Harlem, and in doing so set a new world's record for one mile on a circular track. The winner's time was 1:37 2-5, which is one-fifth of a second off the record made by Allan-a-Dale at Washington park this spring. Grand Opera was at no time near Dick Welles, the latter winning in a common canter. It was the universal opinion of horsemen who saw the race that Dick Welles could have run the mile in 1:37 flat had he been extended. Summaries:

First race, 6 furlongs—First Attempt, 85, S. Bonner, 10 to 1, won; Ocean Dream, 101, Pollak, 15 to 1, second; First Chip, 88, L. Wilson, 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:13 2-5.

Second race, 5 furlongs—Don Domo, 97, Farrell, 4 to 1, won; William Wright, 95, S. Bonner, 25 to 1, second; Flo Bob, 110, Wonderly, 7 to 10, third. Time, 1:00 1-5.

Third race, mile, special race—Dick Welles, 112, T. Knight, 9 to 10, won; Grand Opera, 115, Helgeson, 19 to 20, second. Time, 1:37 2-5.

Fourth race, mile—Talpa, 98, Adkins, 7 to 2, won; Sidney C. Love, 98, W. Robbins, 9 to 2, second; Gregor K., 96, Helgeson, 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:39.

Fifth race, short steeplechase course—Faiella, 134, Kelly, 6 to 1, won; Golden Link, 163, Carter, 13 to 5, second; Duke of York, 152, Owens, 6 to 5, third. Time, 1:31 2-5.

Sixth race, 1¾ miles—John McGurk, 109, Adkins, 3 to 5, won; Compass, 97, Wilson, 8 to 1, second; Little Elkin, 94, H. Phillips, 5 to 1, third. Time, 2:48.

Seventh race, mile—Our Bessie, 97, Knapp, even, won; Vestry, 92, Helgeson, 3 to 1, second; Mezzo, 100, Pollak, 6 to 1, third. Time, 1:39 2-5.

NEW CASTLE JOINS HANDS.

Labor Unions of That City Want Place in Pittsburgh's Labor Day Parade.

All committees of the Labor day celebration made reports last night to the general committee at a meeting at No. 225 Fourth avenue. Many arrangements have been completed, although most of the committees have only begun their duties. The question of finding speakers is causing no end of trouble, and cheap railroad rates is another perplexing thing.

A rate of one fare for the round trip has been arranged for the territory west of Pittsburgh, while the lines east have refused to give more than a one and one-half, or the usual party rate.

A communication was received last night from the New Castle trade unions asking for a place in line on September 7. The locals from that city will march with the Sharon delegation, and instructions have been sent in accordance. About 3,000 men are expected from the two places.

The colors selected for the parade are as follows: Chief marshal, purple; first division, blue; second division, gray; third division, red, and fourth division, purple.

The next meeting of the general committee will be held Friday night. The miscellaneous trades will have a mass meeting at No. 225 Fourth avenue Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

PLEA FOR GOOD PRICES.

President of a Window Glass Company Opposed to Any Cutting of Rates.

Two circulars on the window glass situation made their appearance yesterday. President J. R. Johnston of the Federation Window Glass Company has called on the manufacturers to sell high to keep up the tone of the market, and Simon Burns, president of the Window Glass Workers' association, again makes an appeal to the workmen to unite under one leadership.

"With less than 500,000 boxes salable sizes in first hands, it is estimated that stocks will be speedily broken, and President Johnston sounds a warning against slashing of prices. He refers to the introduction of the glass making machines by saying that they will play havoc with the production.

After Tube Workers.

John McDonough, one of the national officials of the Tube Workers' union, has arrived in the city to conduct an active campaign for new members. The international union was formed in this city about two years ago by T. H. Flynn, national organizer for the A. F. of L.

RAILROAD IS SUED FOR ALLEGED DISCRIMINATION

WHEELING, W. VA., Aug. 14.—Charles S. Evans of Zanesville, O., president of the Riverside Mining Company of Shinnston, W. Va., and J. S. Jones of Chicago, a heavy stockholder in the company, have brought suit in the United States circuit court at Columbus against the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company. Discrimination in the furnishing of coal cars is charged, and damages are sought in the sum of $75,000.

FINE REGATTA FOR THE ROWERS

Columbia Boat Club Has Poor Finish in Championship Races at Lake Quinsingamond.

JEFFERYS GETS KNOX CUP

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WORCESTER, MASS., Aug. 14.—With ideal weather conditions the nine events which constituted the first day of the thirty-first championship regatta of the National Oarsmen was most successfully run off today on Lake Quinsingamond. The feature of the day was the grand eight-oared contest for the Richard Knox cup, which closed the afternoon's program and the victory of the Jefferys Point crew, East Boston, Mass., was not only decisive, but rather disappointing to the local favorites, the eight of the Wachusetts boat club. The latter made a fine fight all the way down the course, but the Boston crew led from the start and was never headed. The rowing of the New York Athletic club's eight was also strong, but the crews of the Columbia boat club of Allegheny and the St. Alphonsus Athletic association of Boston made rather poor finishes. Summaries:

Intermediate single sculls, first heat: R. H. Jackson, Palisades Boat club, New York, won; C. E. Johnson, Arlington (Mass.) Boat club, second. Time, 10:22.

Intermediate single sculls, second heat: Harry Crowley, Wachusetts Boat club, Worcester, won; E. C. Asherton, Hartford (Conn.) Boat club, second. Time, 10:45¾.

Intermediate single sculls, third heat: W. Britt, Potomac Boat club, Washington, won; W. H. Hodgkins, East Boston A. A. Boat club, second. Time 11:24¼.

Association single sculls, first heat: L. F. Scholes, Toronto Rowing club, won; S. T. Paterson, East Boston A. A. Boat club, second. Time, 9:47¼.

Second heat: F. Vesely, Bohemian Boat club, New York, won; F. Demoruelle, Y. M. G. Rowing club, New Orleans, second. Time, 10:2¾.

Senior international fours: Winnipeg Rowing club won, East Boston A. A. Boat club, second. Time, 8:45¾.

Senior four-oared shell: Winnipeg Rowing club won, East Boston A. A. Boat club, second. Time, 9:04.

Intermediate eight-oared shells: Jefferys Point Rowing association won, Wachusetts Boat club, second. Time, 8:04¾.

Intermediate double sculls: Won by Potomac Boat club, Washington, D. C., H. E. Cox, S. S. Edmonston; Seawanhaka Boat club, Brooklyn, second, Handy, J. Ryan. Time, 9:35¼.

MRS. RODGERS WINS.

Beat Mrs. R. L. Barstow in Sensational Match at Cape May Yesterday.

CAPE MAY, N. J., Aug. 14.—(Special.)—The second round and the semi-finals in the ladies' match play tourney on the local links for the Harvey-Scott cups were played today, and leave Miss Esther Dougherty of Cape May and Mrs. Elliott Rodgers of Pittsburgh to fight it out in the finals tomorrow. Mrs. G. Howell Parr of Baltimore and Miss Rosa Dimond of Philadelphia will be the participants in the final match for the consolation cups.

The most sensational match of the day was the semi-final contest between Mrs. Elliott Rodgers and Mrs. R. L. Barstow. The latter had a handicap of four strokes on 18 holes, and by virtue of her good driving and careful putting she succeeded in holding Mrs. Rodgers off for nine extra holes before acknowledging defeat.

Irwin and Arona Today.

IRWIN, PA., Aug. 14.—(Special.)—The Irwin team and the Arona nine will play the third and deciding game of their series here tomorrow afternoon.

FISHERMAN TAKES A RUNAWAY WHALE

Playful Monster Wanders into the Nets Five Miles Off Atlantic City.

HE NOW OCCUPIES THE TANK

Lashes the Water With His Tail, Killing All the Other Fish—Two Pittsburghers Meet With Slight Mishaps—Lost Children Are Found.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Young's Ocean Pier,
ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 14.

The first whale ever caught in Atlantic City was landed on Young's Pier today and placed in a large tank, which was built early in the spring for the keeping of sharks caught in the nets attached to the fisheries conducted by Captain Young. The whale is not a big one. In fact, it is a baby whale that has strayed away from its mother, and being curious like everything that is young, it investigated the interior of the pound nets five miles at sea from the end of the pier. It is of the white species and is about seven feet long. Its sides are already beginning to turn from the dirty blackish color to a creamy white.

It was no easy task to get the whale to the pier alive and after it had been placed in the tank it was hours before it regained strength enough to move about in the water to investigate the place where it will spend the rest of its life.

The lashing about of the baby whale had killed all of the fish in the net, and he was very nearly played out when the fishermen went to the net at daybreak this morning. After much difficulty a rope was made fast to the tail of the whale and it was slowly towed to the landing on the pier, where it was raised with a derrick. Until placed in the tank it turned over on its back for a time, and Captain Young thinking that it was dead, took hold of its tail. This roused it to action and it went dashing about the tank. It quieted down after an hour and all day crowds of people stood about watching it spout an inch stream of water five feet into the air. This it does at intervals of five minutes.

Little Tots Lost and Found.

Three children were brought to the bureau for lost children in The Gazette bureau today, who were in each case called for by parents. They were William Oliver, aged 6, of Pittsburgh, who is staying at the Chalfonte; Ruth Haughty, aged 5, Philadelphia; Emma Hodgson, 7 years old, of West Chester, Pa.

Pittsburgher Has Fainting Spell.

Daniel Kelly of Pittsburgh, who is here with his sister, fell in a fainting spell this afternoon. He was carried to the Egg Harbor hotel and the police department was notified that a man had dropped dead. With his sister he had been to the joint railroad agency to deposit their railroad tickets, and when returning fell to the sidewalk.

Pittsburgher Bumps His Head.

Charles Spangler of Pittsburgh was painfully injured this afternoon. He had been in bathing, and when a heavy shower came up he made a dash for under the boardwalk. He struck his head with great force on one of the iron girders and was rendered unconscious. He was sent to the hospital by the life guards.

RECRUITS WON'T DO.

Detroit Surgeons Enlist Men for Marine Corps Who Are Physically Unfit.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—(Special.)—Naval medical authorities are dissatisfied with the work of surgeons in the west who examine recruits and it is proposed to appoint a board of survey to look into the matter and make a report to Washington.

Two men who enlisted in the marine corps at Detroit a few days ago arrived here yesterday. Through an error the man who was detailed to take them to the quartermaster for clothing took them to a navy yard surgeon for examination. The examining surgeon here declared both to be absolutely unfit for duty. The recruits were dumbfounded when told that they were unfit and could not be enlisted. It was only then that they announced that they were already regularly enlisted. They will again be examined, and if declared unfit for service a recommendation will be made that they be discharged.

LAW ENFORCEMENT REMEDY FOR MOBS

Chief Justice of Delaware Discusses the Subject at Chautauqua.

LYNCH LAW IS COWARDLY

Participants Do Collectively That Which They Are Afraid to Attempt Single-handed—Brutal Exhibitions Are Degrading and Demoralizing.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., Aug. 14.—The address today in the mob rule conference was given by Chief Justice Charles B. Lore, who has made a thorough study of the question and has opinions diametrically opposed to those of Mr. Graves, who created such a furore here a few days ago. The speaker said in part:

We are simply a government of law. Lawlessness means anarchy. Mob law is anarchy, pure and simple. Anarchy is the rock upon which all ancient republics have been wrecked and today is one of the most threatening evils of the country.

Strangely enough, just at this period of national development, when by unique victories over oppression the United States has taken a dominant place among nations, we have been disgraced by the most revolting exhibitions of mob violence recorded in history.

Lawlessness breeds crime, and when respectability and crime lie down together, respectability wallows in the mire. No self-respecting man can be a participant in mob violence and retain his moral integrity. He can never forget that he once joined a cowardly mob in doing a cowardly act that he as an individual and alone would not dare to undertake. Under the cover of the multitude he has become a fractional murderer, without the courage to become the whole murderer.

The effect of mob violence upon society is that it resolves society into original lawlessness. It breaks down the barriers which centuries of civilization have erected between brute force and human rights. The mob spirit is contagious. Every triumphant mob emboldens criminals in every community to riot more readily and for less reasons than before.

Mob violence does not prevent the repetition of the crime. Such savage punishment arouses the very spirit it is intended to repress. In the lurid light of the burning victim others of his class see him as a martyr. The spirit of vengeance is aroused in them and they hasten to repeat his crime in order to revenge it. The work of the mob in such cases not only brands the state and the nation with indelible disgrace, but tends to multiply crime, and if the question of color or race happens to be involved, it provokes race hatred and race war.

The claim that because the courts refuse to railroad the criminal to the gallows is an excuse for lynching is not worthy of consideration. Any court of justice that would listen to the mob and suffer it to prescribe its methods, time and action, would be a mockery of human justice. The very fact that the people are mad and frenzied, and that the mob is at the door, calls for a cooling time, that reason may resume her throne.

What is the remedy for mobs? Most emphatically, we say, the remedy is not in hasty and feverish action of the courts. The more brutal the crime, the more ignorant and degraded the criminal, the more widespread and intense the public rage, the more imperative it is that the courts of justice should secure a calm, just and fair hearing. When the mob spirit rules, the courts of justice should be unyielding in their stand for fair dealing.

Nothing is needed but the enforcement of the law. The mob is cowardly, and dares to act only when it has little to fear. A few sheriffs who would dare to do their duty would end once and for all the attacks of mobs on jails. The demand now is for sheriffs who will shoot to kill in defense of their jails, and for governors who dare to maintain the law at any cost.

PERSONALS

Several hundred people in Fairmont who recently bought building lots in the Fourth ward of that city, have discovered that valuable deposits of coal underlie the plan and the development company which first put the property on the market is now having a time to prevent outsiders stepping in and doing a general mining business. "The matter will probably be settled," said H. S. Houston of that city last night at the Monongahela house, "by the land company deeding the property to each of the owners. This has not been done, however. When the land was first sold, as lots, no one thought of the coal. A New York company got wise to the fact and got possession. Of course, before that the lot owners had every right to mine the coal underneath their allotment. The land company finally awoke to the situation and bought out the New York syndicate and the purchase has cost them a good amount."

"Vincennes," said O. L. Carter, a resident of that Indiana town, last night at the Anderson, "is making preparations to shine at the St. Louis fair. Some one has suggested sending an old fire engine and the engine house to the show, and this will likely be done. The engine is built almost entirely of wood and is one of the oldest belongings of the city. It is a hand machine. During the years it was in use it did good service, for Vincennes was not without many fires."

"The value of advertising in daily newspapers," said H. T. Levitt of Uniontown last night at the Henry, "has been forcibly illustrated by the experiment of Superintendent of Schools Carroll of Fayette county. Several weeks ago he wanted about two dozen teachers, and accordingly advertised for them. Since the first ad. appeared he has received no less than 200 applications for positions. The peculiar part of the thing is that most of the applicants, who were of course women, sent their photographs along. It is a beautiful collection of faces that the professor has."

The Pennsylvania limited on its trip last night to Chicago, was a veritable betting ring. The prize fight created no end of attention from New York to Pittsburgh. As night drew on the discussions as to the merits of Jeffries and Corbett reached the betting stage, and many high stakes were placed. On arrival here at 9 o'clock a grand rush was made for the waiting room for news, but the passengers were disappointed. They evidently had forgotten about the time. They probably didn't know which way the mill went until this morning, when the train got to Chicago.

PAID IN COUNTERFEIT.

Highwaymen Rob Victim of Watch and Thrust Bill in His Hands.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—(Special.)—Anton Lavowsky, a brass finisher, in the Tombs court today charged two men with practicing highway robbery in a somewhat novel manner. He alleged that the men held him up in Pearl street, one seizing his hands and the other stealing his watch and running away. The man who held him, he said, then thrust a bill into his hands, saying: "My friend liked the watch so much that he had to take it. Here is money for it."

Lavowsky rejoiced most of the afternoon in disposing of a $15 watch for $50, and then discovered that the bill was counterfeit. Both men were identified by Lavowsky and held in $1,500 bail each.

SOCIETY

The summer school season is now a thing of the past, the Allegheny schools having closed yesterday, the children leaving with regret. Closing exercises were held at all the schools in Allegheny, with the exception of the Twelfth ward, which closed last week, and the Eighth ward, which closed yesterday. At the Fifth ward, the largest school, the children were marched from the grounds into the room, where a box of candy was given to each one, together with their weekly bouquet. A farewell talk was made by the caretakers. In this school three cheers went forth from 500 little throats for all those who had aided the summer playground work.

One touching incident occurred. A little girl, holding in her arms a babe, had waited patiently for her box of candy, and was much disappointed when she found there would be none for her, as the school had averaged 300 children daily and 500 attended today. One of the boys was asked by the teachers to share his candy with the little disappointed mother, a request which was quickly and gladly granted by the gallant little lad.

Much credit is due the caretakers in the Sherman avenue and the Eighth ward schools, where there were no committees and where very successful mothers' meetings were held. The Twelfth ward school was under the direction of the Woman's club, with Mrs. Andrew Easton as chairman of the committee. Mrs. John M. Coleberry, assisted by the King's Daughters of Avalon, had charge at Irwin avenue, where a mothers' meeting of 41 was held on Thursday. At the mothers' meeting in the Fifth ward school, 27 mothers attended, the largest number in either city. At each meeting cake and lemonade were served by the caretakers and their assistants and informal talks were given. Mrs. Emma Locke, who has charge of the Fifth ward school, and who had declined the chairmanship of the committee, has done splendid work among the children there.

The basketry classes seem to have been exceedingly successful, the children showing their appreciation by little gifts of their work to the teachers. Large bunches of flowers were sent to each school by the flower committee. The appeal of the committee members has been responded to in a most generous manner. This week, among the contributors were Mrs. D. M. Clemson, Mrs. William Carr, Mrs. William Flinn, Mrs. Robert Pitcairn, Mrs. Alexander Peacock, Mrs. W. A. Lincoln, Mrs. A. G. Campbell, Miss Olive Bell, Gilbert Bell, Mrs. Luty and the usual number of florists. To the Sherman avenue school were sent 250 bunches, 350 to the Irwin, and to the Fifth ward 450, making a total of 1,050. The work in all the Allegheny schools, as well as in Pittsburgh, has been remarkably well done. There were no accidents, no need was occasioned for the officers of the law, the noisest little ones respectfully recognizing the authority of their instructors. The little lads and lassies are looking forward eagerly to the opening of the summer school season next year, a time for which they with their weary mothers will anxiously wait.

Wedded at Chautauqua.

At noon yesterday Miss Isabel Ambyr Rodgers of Pittsburgh and Marvin Harrison Lewis of Louisville, Ky., were married in the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Good Shepherd at Chautauqua, N. Y., the Rev. John A. Lewis, father of the bridegroom, officiating. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Rodgers. She wore white rose point, hung over silk and cut en train. Her hat was a Paris creation of lace and plumes, and her flowers were orchids. Her only ornament was a comb of pearls and gold. Miss Jean Montgomery of Easton was the only attendant of the bride. A gown of rose crepe de chene and hat of roses and plumes was worn by the maid of honor, and she carried lilies. A brother of the bridegroom, John Lewis, acted as best man. After a wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Lewis left for a Canadian tour. They will be at home for the winter at the St. James, in Louisville. The Rev. Mr. Lewis came on from his home in Meridian, Miss., for the express purpose of marrying his son to the woman of his choice.

Pittsburghers Wedded in Spokane.

An event of more than ordinary interest to many Pittsburghers was the wedding of Miss Sadie E. Burnett and H. D. Rankin, both of Pittsburgh, which took place on Saturday evening, August 8, in the Vincent Methodist Episcopal church of Spokane, the pastor of the church officiating. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. David Rankin of Maple avenue. After being graduated from the University of Michigan, Mr. Rankin practiced law in Pittsburgh, later turning to milling. He is now president of the Rankin Milling Company of the Rapid River district, Washington county, Ida. The bride is well known in educational circles of the city, having been a teacher in the Allen public schools. The only guests at the wedding were the party with whom the young couple were touring the west, composed of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Griffith and Sampel Stevens of Chicago; Charles Speigelmire of Pittsburgh and Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Brown of Rand, Ida.

Taquemenaw Club Outing.

The members of the Taquemenaw club of Wilkinsburg will begin their annual outing today. The members have been in the habit of spending a portion of the hot season in the mountains, and will this year go to Juniata Crossings, on the banks of the Juniata river. A special car has been engaged for the accommodation of the club and a short stop will be made at Huntingdon. The party includes Mrs. W. F. Brenner, Miss Laura Moore, Miss Alice White, Miss Georgia Pitcairn, Miss Jean Pitcairn, Miss Rose Russell, Miss Nannie Means, Miss Frances Moore, Miss Anna Skinner, Miss Elsie Bingham, Avery Waifel, Robert Fulton, Thomas C. Moore, Robert Scott, William H. Fulton, G. Paul Moore, William Cunningham and W. F. Brenner. The club will return September 1.

Gossip of Oakmont.

A number of beautiful summer gowns were seen yesterday at Mrs. Harry E. Kier's euchre and fancy work party. It was a porch affair, and the hostess was assisted by her two daughters, Mrs. Harry Garrison Budd and Mrs. Harry Rowand of Oakmont. The prizes went to Miss Condron, the house guest of Miss Mayin and Miss Cora Morris; Mrs. C. C. Arensberg, Mrs. C. P. Tires and (lone hand) Mrs. J. M. Hamilton.

Among the future events in Oakmont society are Mrs. Charles N. Agnew's euchre on Thursday, and Mrs. G. F. Tiers' fancy work party on Friday afternoon. Mrs. H. S. Paul entertains at luncheon for 20 this morning, and this afternoon Miss Lee and Miss Sue Paul will give a porch euchre.

Duquesne Fishing Club to Return.

The members of the Duquesne Fishing club, who left some time ago for Jubilee Island, Canada, are due in Pittsburgh tomorrow. The party is composed of the Hon. John S. Weller, the Hon. William Flinn, the Hon. George M. Hosack, J. F. Hunter, D. L. Davis, F. W. Edwards, Joseph G. Armstrong, Frank P. Booth, C. H. Pirsing, W. W. Murray, Thomas G. McClure, William Lyons, Archibald Mackrell, Henry Meyers, Dr. A. J. Barchfeld, T. O. Atkinson, F. J. Klumpp, W. D. Grimes, William Bell, Robert Ostermaier, William McClure and John Lewis.

Marriage Announcement.

Friends of the young couple will learn with surprise of the marriage of Miss Mary Richardson, daughter of Mrs. S. B. Richardson, of Wheeling, W. Va., and George H. Criss, of Pittsburgh. The wedding was an event of August 1, taking place in the Washington Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, the pastor, the Rev. Mr. Steffy, performing the ceremony. The bridegroom is a son of Dr. J. D. Criss, of Washington avenue, South Side.

Pittsburghers at the Seashore.

Frank J. Kerrigan, secretary of the Rock Run Fuel & Gas Company, accompanied by his wife and family, and Miss Mary Hanlon of Rose street, left recently for Atlantic City. They will make their home at the Grand Atlantic Hotel for a couple of weeks, going later to Newport, Cape May and Saratoga.

Kress-Kinsey.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Kress of Pennsylvania avenue, Allegheny, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Rose Kress, to Bertram R. Kinsey of the same city, formerly of Baltimore, Md. The date for the wedding has not been made public.

Pittsburghers Sail on Finland.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—(Special.)—On the Red Star liner Finland, which sails tomorrow for Antwerp, these Pittsburghers have engaged passage: Mrs. J. J. Lawrence, Miss A. M. Lawrence, Miss M. S. Lawrence, Miss Elizabeth Piper, Mrs. Wilson and Miss Wilson.

Bain-Scully.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of John Desmond Scully, Jr., and Miss Sophronia Bain, the wedding to be an event of early next month. Mr. Scully is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Scully, of Jenny Lind street, McKeesport, and Miss Bain is one of Fife station's accomplished young women.

An Approaching Marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Graham, of Dawson avenue, Bellevue, have formally announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Marie Alice Graham, and E. K. Foltz of Washington, D. C. The wedding is set for the early fall.

Social Notes.

Miss Margaret Bell of Wabash avenue has gone to Chautauqua for a few weeks.

Miss Maud McCormick of Williamsport is spending some time at the home of her sister, Mrs. H. N. Blank of Tioga street, East End.

Miss Ira M. Wilson and Miss Mintie Eberhart of Allegheny are home after a three weeks' visit to friends in Somerset and Stoystown.

Dr. George Knox and family of Pacific avenue are registered at the Hotel Scarborough, Atlantic City. They will remain at the seashore for a few weeks.

J. W. Cassidy of the National Transit Company, with his two children, Miss Florence and Paul Cassidy, is making a visit of a few weeks in New York and other eastern cities.

Miss Marie Keenan of Dealy street, Squirrel Hill, celebrated her eighth birthday anniversary recently. Little Miss Keenan was hostess at a lawn party, in this way entertaining about 45 of her young friends.

JETT AND WHITE WERE GIVEN LIFE SENTENCE

Second Trial of Two Murderers of Lawyer Marcum Ended at Last.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CYNTHIANA, KY., Aug. 14.—Curtis Jett and Thomas White were today found guilty of the murder of J. B. Marcum at Jackson May 4, and sentenced for life. At their trial, held in Jackson last month, one juror hung the jury to the last on the question of guilt, and this time one juror hung the jury for 24 hours on the question of sentence. The first ballot was 11 to 1 for conviction of both defendants and the second was unanimous for both. The first ballot on the sentence was seven for death and five for life imprisonment. The separate ballots on Jett's case stood 11 for hanging and 1 for life sentence, and this result was not changed in subsequent votes, Jasper King, a former deputy sheriff, voting alone until a compromise was reached for life sentence for both.

Charges have been preferred against Juror Jasper King for attempting to hang the jury. King lives in this city, and was until two years ago a deputy sheriff and a man who has been highly esteemed. The prisoners are still at the jail guarded by soldiers.

Elected Camp Meeting Officers.

Stockholders of the Sewickley Camp Meeting association yesterday elected Dr. Joseph Horner president; Charles S. Horner, secretary and treasurer, and including them William Rae, John Hamilton, A. D. Wilson, Charles Jones, John Johnson, Watson P. Phillips, Charles H. Mathews, D. Gaskill, John F. Leonard and James P. Pitcairn, directors; John Johnson, Charles L. Horner and James R. Pitcairn, executive committee. July 29, 1904, was selected as the date for the commencement of the next annual camp meeting.

TO WORKING GIRLS

FREE MEDICAL ADVICE

Every working girl who is not well is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice; it is freely given, and has restored thousands to health.

Miss Paine's Experience.

"I want to thank you for what you have done for me, and recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all girls whose work keeps them standing on their feet in the store. The doctor said I must stop work; he did not seem to realize that a girl cannot afford to stop working. My back ached, my appetite was poor, I could not sleep, and menstruation was scanty and very painful. One day when suffering I commenced to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and found that it helped me. I continued its use, and soon found that my menstrual periods were free from pain and natural; everyone is surprised at the change in me, and I am well, and cannot be too grateful for what you have done for me."—MISS JANET PAINE, 530 West 125th St., New York City. —$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

ESTATES OF DEAD AUDITED IN COURT

September List Contains 397 Accounts, the Largest in the History of the County.

SOME ARE OF GREAT VALUE

Man Accused of Demoralizing a Lumber Camp—Baking Company Asserts That Strong Drink Affected Their Plans. News of the Courts.

The September audit list in orphans court will be the largest in its history and estates, the aggregate value of which will reach the millions, will be before the court for settlement. The largest previous list contained 360 estates. The present list now contains 397 estates for audit with several weeks remaining in which to file accounts.

The account of the executrix of the estate of C. F. Haller was filed. She charges herself with $20,122 61, and has a balance of $15,122 61. The executors of the estate of Adam Reineman in their fourth account charge themselves with $89,434 74, and have a balance of $32,984 36. The final account of the executor of the estate of Elizabeth Reid shows there was received $12,644, and a balance of $10,983 12. The final account of the executrix of the estate of John C. Falck shows a balance of $11,229. The partial account of the executor of Henry Baumann was filed. He charges himself with $14,085 08, and claims credit for $12,150.

Large Balances Left.

In the final account of the administrator of the estate of John G. Mellon he charges himself with $25,044 22, and has a balance of $17,899 68. The executors of the estate of Henry Loxterman charge themselves with $28,350, and have a balance of $26,375 70. The account of the administrator of the estate of Oliver H. Stinson shows $25,368 20 was received, with a balance of $24,124 21.

The trustee appointed to make sale of certain real estate of Charles E. Hutchinson filed his report, showing that $90,000 was received from Frank McCann, of which there is a balance of $57,168 40. The executor of the estate of Mary J. Cooper charges himself with $30,033 39 and claims credit for $10,920 50.

Among the other accounts the following balances are shown: Estates of Thomas J. Stevenson, $101,831 24; Maggie A. Niser, $45,818 29; William Swindell, $260,325 21; Louis Giesenkamp, $48,327; John M. Rice, $11,069 78; Hubert Moore, $10,849 84; James B. Barr, $10,515 25; William A. Curling, $10,819 04; James Bowman, $22,063; Michael McCormick, $18,183 33; Elizabeth H. McDowell, $12,867 67; William J. Ruch, $41,878 61; Henry W. Wilkins, $82,212 15; A. M. Byers, $1,395,939 26; George W. Morris, $204,187 98.

Demoralized Lumber Camp.

In the equity case of George M. Cote involving the affairs of the Fort Pitt Lumber Company against B. B. Ferree, C. L. Walther and others, Walther yesterday filed his answer. It is claimed in the answer that when Cote went to West Virginia in pursuance of his employment with the lumber company, he behaved himself so badly that the whole lumber camp became demoralized and that the interests of the company, by reason of his conduct, were seriously damaged. Walther claims he was induced to go into the business by the solemn promises of B. Ferree and Cote to the effect that they would co-operate and help in the business, which, it is claimed, they failed to do.

In a bill in equity filed yesterday it is alleged that George Huger and Benjamin Eberhart, of Braddock, got Conrad Sepp intoxicated, and while in this condition they induced him to sign a lease. The plaintiff is the Braddock Baking Company, and the bill is directed against the three men named.

Got a New Agreement.

It is alleged that a representative of the company entered into an agreement with Sepp, by which the latter was to lease the concern a piece of property in Talbot avenue. Hager and Eberhart were employed by the company as foremen, it is claimed, and when they heard of the proposed lease they conspired to take advantage of the plaintiff. It is averred that Hager and Eberhart took Sepp with them from saloon to saloon and rendered him intoxicated to such an extent that he was unable to properly transact business, and while in this condition they obtained from him a written lease for the premises, and entered upon the property with the purpose of entering into the baking business for themselves. It is asked that the defendants be restrained from entering upon the premises and that Sepp be compelled to carry out his agreement with the company.

As a result of the elevator accident at No. 1026 Fifth avenue on May 22, last, in which three persons were killed and a number injured, Lulu M. Postlethwaite has entered a $20,000 damage suit in common pleas court No. 1 against Charles Donnelly, the owner of the building.

Went Down the Shaft.

The plaintiff was one of the passengers when the cage took its fatal plunge down the shaft. Negligence on the part of the owner of the building is charged. The plaintiff says her injuries necessitated the expenditure of $300 for medical attention, and that she will be permanently affected by them.

Morris Goldstein began suit for $5,000 for the alienation of his wife's affections against A. Sadosky.

Goldstein says the defendant was an employe of his when he resided in Bath, Me., and when Goldstein moved here to circumvent the attention being paid to his wife by Sadosky, the latter followed and resumed making love to Mrs. Goldstein. His wife, Goldstein says, no longer loves him and has declared her preference for the defendant.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

An execution was issued by Schuette & Co. against Edwin C. Haslett and others, for $1,892 50.

Jennie Albert has entered suit against Mary Schrader, charging slander, and asking $5,000 damages. A capias was issued and bail fixed at $500.

Simon Held sued William Metz for $1,500 damages. The former claims the defendant's wagon ran into his team, injuring the plaintiff and killing one of his horses.

Coroner Jesse M. McGeary appeals from the decision of the board of viewers in the widening and improvement of Shady avenue, Allegheny, and asks $1,000 damages.

Treasurer Blamed for Collapse.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 14.—W. E. P. Duvall, the expert appointed to examine the books of the suspended City Trust and Banking Company, has filed a report in which it is alleged that the troubles of the bank are due to loans made by Treasurer Frank J. Kohler to himself and personal friends. These unauthorized loans aggregate $154,000, of which $55,000 were loaned to Kohler. Kohler has left Baltimore.

SPECIAL SERVICES SCHEDULED FOR SUNDAY

Tomorrow's Church Events Which Have a Special Interest Attached to Them.

The Rev. E. H. Young, associate rector of the St. Andrew's Episcopal church, will leave next week for a two months' trip through the cathedral towns of England, and will also make an extended trip through the continent. Mr. Young will preach his farewell sermon tomorrow night at the Christ Episcopal church, Union avenue, Allegheny. Mrs. Young will accompany him on his travels.

An all-day meeting will be held in connection with the gospel mission church, the Rev. A. H. Chaflin pastor, tomorrow. The meeting will be held at the corner of Franklin and Chartiers streets, Allegheny, where Mr. Chaflin's tent was burned last Wednesday night. Another tent has been secured, and the meetings will be held as usual at 9:30, 2:30 and 7:30. Meetings will be held every evening during the week. The Rev. Mr. McGough of Philadelphia will assist.

There will be no services in the First United Presbyterian church, Fifth avenue, Oakland, tomorrow.

Dr. W. F. Silveus will preach the second sermon in the series on the subject, "Be Ye Holy," in the Second Cumberland Presbyterian church tomorrow morning.

Missionary Lois White McLeod, of Jamaica, West Indies, will occupy the pulpit of the Central Christian church, Pride and Colwell streets, tomorrow evening.

SOUGHT ELEPHANTS; BOYS SHOOT A WOMAN

Carroll Kenney and Albert Craig, Sewickley boys, were yesterday arrested on a charge of felonious shooting and wounding. They gave bail before Alderman James V. McMasters and will have a hearing on Monday afternoon. Winnie Washington, a colored woman, says the boys while out hunting with a flobert rifle on July 3, shot her in the back. She was discharged from a hospital a few days ago. The boys are members of prominent Sewickley families, and say they had been out hunting for elephants.

Sergeants for New Police Station.

Mayor Wyman yesterday appointed John Brown day sergeant and Walter G. Stark night sergeant at the new police station in Preble avenue. It will be opened on Monday morning, and Magistrate F. W. Harkins will commence holding hearings there. This will relieve Magistrate Samuel Abernathy of Central station of all the cases that for years have come from the Woods Run district.

WANTED by the Westinghouse Machine Company, East Pittsburgh, Pa., 150 competent machinists of all classes to operate planers, lathes, boring mills, milling machines, as well as fitters and erecting men—all on steam engine work of high-grade.

We operate an "Open Shop." We do not discriminate against union labor, nor do we permit the non-union mechanic to be coerced. Good place for the independent man of ability. We have the best shops in this country—best tools, best class of workmanship, most steady employment. We pay hourly wage rates as high as any other shops in this district, which is probably the highest paid district in the United States. Our hourly wage rate varies from 37½ cents per hour down to 27½ cents per hour, to be individually adjusted according to each man's ability. For certain larger machine tools we pay even higher hourly rates.

In addition we do much of our machine work at piece rates, which enables an active man to earn very large wages. During May and June just passed, 20 of our machinists averaged to earn $115.00 per month per man.

PUBLIC SALE.

SALE OF COLUMBUS BARRACKS, Columbus, Ohio. Pullman building, Chicago, Ill., August 6, 1903. Under provisions of act of congress of June 30, 1902, and by direction of secretary of war, there will be sold at public auction to highest bidder on premises, at 12 noon, October 6, 1903, the property known as Columbus Barracks, Columbus, Ohio, containing 71 acres, more or less, and embracing all the land pertaining to the United States military reservation not dedicated to the city of Columbus, Ohio, by joint resolution of congress, approved February 10, 1903, together with improvements thereon. Premises, maps and description thereof may be seen by applying to quartermaster at Columbus barracks. Conditions of sale: First, the property will be offered for sale as a whole; second, no bid will be received for less than $250,000, the duly appraised value of the land and improvements; third, if a suitable bid, equal to or in excess of the appraised value of $250,000 be not received, the offer for sale as a whole will be withdrawn, and the property will then be offered for sale in three parcels, separately, as described and indicated in maps and descriptions; and if the aggregate of the bids received does not equal or exceed the appraised value, $250,000, the offer for sale in three parcels will be withdrawn; fourth, a deposit of $20,000 will be required of highest bidder at time of sale if a suitable bid for the property as a whole is received as above stipulated; if sold in parcels, as herein provided, the highest bidder for each parcel will be required to make a deposit of not less than 10 per cent of the bid in each case; balance of payments must be made within 30 days of date of sale. W. H. Miller, quartermaster, U. S. A.

STOCKS WERE BUOYANT, CLOSING AT THE TOP

The Market Held Substantial Gains All Over the List—Bank Statement May Be Favorable. Local Market Dull.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The recovery in the eastern stock market yesterday continued, and the trading was again well distributed. The sales for the first two hours foot up 434,000 shares, and for the day were not far short of a million shares. Prices closed practically at the top. The strength displayed was a surprise to the street. A contribution to it was additional short sales by the bears, who cannot accept the belief that all troubles are over, and the recovery will last. It is just possible that they will be as much mistaken about the future course of the market as were the bulls last spring. The decline was continuous, with not a single reaction worthy the name during the last six months. There was no warrant for the extreme low prices, and if the latter were largely the result of influences outside legitimate business affairs, the removal of these influences may be followed by a more prolonged recovery than would otherwise be justified. At all events there are now two sides to the market, and manipulation for a rise may become as prominent a factor as was the manipulation for a decline.

London quotations were irregular, and foreigners were operating upon both sides, being buyers early in the session and later sellers. The market opened fractionally higher all around, and during the first hour added to the gains. Then an effort was made by the bears to check the movement, which was partially successful, but the buying power was sufficient to absorb profit-taking sales and overcome the efforts of the shorts. By 1 o'clock the market had recovered all the losses, and was again on the upturn. During the closing hour there was a scramble on the part of the shorts, and in some of the specialties there were noteworthy advances.

Amalgamated Copper was one of the strongest stocks on the list. It opened a fraction higher at 44¼, and with practically no reaction steadily advanced until within a few minutes of the close it reached 50, and the final sale was at 49⅞. United States Steel common rose steadily until it had placed a net gain of 1½ per cent to its credit, closing at 24¼. The preferred stock was a little slower in its movement during the greater part of the day, but in the final transactions it rose to 72⅝ and closed at 72½ bid, a net gain of 1½ per cent for the day. The new 5s opened higher at 78⅞, and closed at 80. Consolidated Gas crossed 180, and Peoples Gas, which was quoted ex-dividend of 1½ per cent, recovered all its dividend and a fraction besides. American Smelters advanced 1½ per cent to 46, and closed at the highest.

The coal stocks were all active, but the enormous transactions in Reading on Thursday evidently represented the covering of a large short interest. The withdrawal of the latter support was followed by a reaction in the stock, which sold off to 55 after touching 56¼ earlier in the day. The Eries were active and strong, closing at the top, the common stock crossing 29. Norfolk & Western advanced 1½ per cent, and Chesapeake & Ohio and Ontario & Western each 1 per cent. Delaware & Hudson crossed 165. Baltimore & Ohio, which was quoted ex-dividend of 2 per cent, opened at 81½, and in the late dealings crossed 83, more than recovering its dividend. Very favorable comment was made upon the July statement of earnings, the $2,322,000 net reported being calculated at the rate of 13½ per cent on the common stock. Pennsylvania railroad crossed 126, the highest since the subscriptions were closed for the new stock issue.

Missouri Pacific was the strongest of the granger group, opening at 93¾ and advancing steadily to the final sale at 96. Wabash preferred rallied 2½ per cent to 36⅜, and the minor Gould shares were all strong and higher. Rock Island common and preferred and Southern Railway common and preferred averaged 1 to 1½ per cent higher, and Louisville & Nashville rose 2½ per cent to 107⅝. St. Paul gained nearly 3 per cent, selling up to 144⅝, and Atchison also gained 3 per cent, selling up to 62⅞. Union Pacific scored a net gain of 2½ per cent, closing at 76¾. The traction stocks advanced 2@2½ per cent, and closed near the top.

There was a disposition to magnify all the favorable incidents that came to hand. Thus the report that the Colombian government had added several amendments to the canal treaty which were certain to be rejected by the United States, was construed as postponing this enterprise by the government, and therefore rendering unnecessary the immediate payment of $50,000,000 involved in the final settlement, and which had been taken into account in calculating the probable drains that would be made upon the money market the coming winter. A feature of very general comment was the absence of any large volume of selling orders on the advance. The general expectation was that the stocks bought last week and on Monday for the purpose of supporting the market would be sold on the first opportunity; but despite the fact that yesterday's prices represented an average rally of 5 to 8 points, the surplus stock accumulated while supporting the market did not come out. The inference was that there was less support than generally supposed, and that stocks went into the hands of investors.

Forecasts of today's bank statement generally were of a favorable character. In their operations with the sub-treasury the banks gained $956,000, as compared with a loss of about $3,000,000 last week. The receipts of currency from the interior were sufficient to bring the total gain in cash up to $3,334,000. The forecasters have ceased all attempts to gauge the fluctuations in the loan item, which for weeks past has received more attention than any other in the weekly statement. In the corresponding week last year there was an increase in loans of $2,653,000, bringing the aggregate up to $929,000,00, but during the last half of August, 1902, the reduction in loans was no less than $19,000,000. The surplus reserve at this time last year was down to $7,126,000. Last Saturday the surplus reserve was $21,587,000, and no matter what happens to the loan item today the showing as regards surplus reserve is bound to be more favorable than it was a year ago.

The local stock market yesterday was dull and rather uninteresting. The only active stock was Pittsburgh Coal common, which on sales of a little more than a thousand shares advanced a dollar and closed at 28, the top price of the day. There were no dealings in the preferred stock. River Coal common and preferred remained dull and unchanged. The steel stocks were firm and higher, in sympathy with the advance in the east. United States Steel common advanced 1 per cent to 24⅛, and closed at 24. The preferred recovered to 72. Crucible Steel common remained dull at 10¾@11, but the preferred advanced ½ to 72½. Philadelphia Company was strong, advancing 2 points to 40, and Manufacturers' Light & Heat was a fraction higher at 33⅝ to 34. Westinghouse Airbrake recovered $2 a share, selling at 147, and Electric was firm at 83½ to 83⅝, closing at a net gain of ⅛. National Fire Proofing was not affected by the declaration of the regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent on the common stock, only 8 shares of the latter changing hands all day. The only changes in the banking and trust company list were an advance in Home Trust to 128 and a decline in Iron City Trust, which was offered at 140. The bond market was quiet and unchanged.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

There are two good reasons why the recovery in the local stock market is not so rapid or pronounced as in eastern stocks. One is the condition of the local money market, which is still decidedly firm, and brokers are not yet in position where they feel disposed to accept new margin accounts. On the contrary, some of them have this week requested customers to lift their stocks, because of the expense attached to carrying margin accounts under present conditions. The other reason is the absence of any considerable short interest in local stocks. With the possible exception of the steel stocks and Westinghouse Electric there is no short interest in the market here. At least this is the opinion of brokers. There is, however, a much more cheerful feeling in local financial circles, and the purchase of odd lots of stocks by investors who buy outright continues a prominent feature of the trading.

There were no transactions in the Brewing stocks yesterday, and only one bond changed hands. These securities have withstood the recent decline better than almost anything else.

A small lot of Home Trust sold at 128, a rally of 2¾ per cent. The other bank and trust company stocks were quiet and unchanged.

The supply of floating stock in United States Steel is so large that it is more difficult to move the mass, but nevertheless the common shows a recovery of 4 and the preferred 5 per cent from the recent low price.

Word has been received from Washington that the case has been dismissed against James Kifer, who was charged with attempting to secure the names of stockholders of the Exchange National bank from an employe in the comptroller's office in Washington. Owing to the death of Mrs. Mary L. McCormick, the government's witness, the prosecution dropped the case.

Philadelphia common rallied $2 on purchases of a little more than 100 shares. Dealings in Manufacturers Gas were also light, but the stock was firm and slightly higher.

Only 100 shares of the common and 35 shares of the preferred River Coal changed hands yesterday, and prices were unchanged. The bonds sold at 113, which was also unchanged.

Masten & Co. were again the largest buyers of Pittsburgh Coal on the advance, which reached 1 per cent to 28 at the close.

The regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent on National Fire Proofing common is payable August 25 to stock of record August 20.

Colonial Trust was quoted at 450 bid for 100 shares, and small lots were offered at 500.

The gross earnings of Northern Pacific for July increased $269,053.

There are outstanding 1,538,879 shares Amalgamated Copper, but despite the great mass, the stock was buoyant yesterday. The net recovery from the recent low point represents an appreciation in market value of about $23,000,000.

There was no particular distinction between the kind of stocks that advanced yesterday. The Morgan, Harriman, Gould and Standard Oil securities were alike buoyant, indicating harmony of interests.

Equitable Trust was offered regular at 179, with 175 bid, but 180 was bid, buyer 60 days.

Whether the United States Steel Corporation took advantage of the recent low record price of the common stock to purchase a large amount of it for retirement will probably not be known until the next annual report shall have been published. The Steel Corporation has at present a surplus of over $100,000,000. The board of directors has the right to use a part of or all of this surplus to purchase its preferred and common stock for retirement. During the last 10 days the heavy buying of Steel common by A. A. Housman has attracted a great deal of attention. Housman, who is credited with acting for J. P. Morgan & Co., has made no effort to bid up the price, but has been quietly accumulating a large line of the stock whenever it showed any marked weakness. This has caused many traders to believe the Steel Corporation is using a part of its surplus cash to purchase the common stock for retirement. According to current rumors the plan is to retire $200,000,000 of Steel common, if it can be purchased at an average price of $22 a share. At this price the retirement of $200,000,000 of the common would cost the company only $44,000,000. The dividends on $200,000,000 of common stock amount to $8,000,000 a year, a saving equivalent to 18 per cent on the $44,000,000 invested. This would reduce the outstanding common stock from $500,000,000 to $300,000,000, and would reduce the dividend charges on the remaining stock approximately to $12,000,000. By this plan the corporation with $44,000,000 would reduce the contingent charges nearly four times as much as the bond conversion plan.—New York Commercial.

The New York bankers who charged 6 per cent interest and 10 per cent commission for a $6,000,000 loan to the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company owe an explanation to the public. Whatever may be thought of the financial management of this company, and especially of its issue of bonds in the same year that it increased its common stock dividend, no justification exists for charging it or any other industrial concern $960,000 for the loan of $6,000,000 for one year. * * * This is a fresh illustration of the weakness of many of our bankers. Eager to make money in dull times, they often add coals to the fire of speculation and augment the evil of over promotion by liberal advances of credit, just at the time when conservatism would do the most good, by preventing a dangerous expansion. But when the reaction sets in they take fright, just at the time when courage is demanded, and become "conservative" just when a liberal policy is most needed. It is not too much to say that the banks themselves, or at least many of them, create the very conditions of panic which they dread, and for which they are accustomed to blame Wall street. Is it any wonder that the prejudice against banks, a legacy of the aged, is so hard to get rid of, and that it is now one of the things which make currency reform legislation so difficult to obtain from congress?—Wall Street Journal.

THE MONEY MARKET

There is no change in local money market conditions. The rate on call and time loans is firm at 6 per cent. Clearing house comparisons:

	Exchanges.	Balances.
Yesterday	$6,632,740 04	$1,383,586 42
Last week	8,199,405 34	1,295,604 50
Last year	6,998,344 17	1,331,836 36

Foreign Money Market.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—Money, 2@2½ per cent. The rate for short bills is 2½@2⅝ per cent; the rate for three months bills is 2 3-16@2⅝ per cent; consols for money, 90⅝; consols for account, 91⅛. The stock markets were quiet. The Balkan situation, the illness of Lord Salisbury and the uncertainty in the monetary outlook, combined with the reaction at New York yesterday, were unsettling influences, though the undertone was steady and the outlook good. Consols were dull. Home rails declined slightly on realizations. Americans opened irregular, the advances predominating, upon the belief that the changed control of the Seaboard Air Line would prove beneficial.

BERLIN, Aug. 14.—A 10 per cent reduction in the output of the coke syndicate caused operators on the boerse today to take their profits in coal and iron shares, which consequently weakened several points. Government securities were neglected. The shares of the Trans-Atlantic steamship companies were higher.

PARIS, Aug. 14.—The bourse was dull throughout today. The closing was calm. Metropolitan Railroad shares continued their downward movement, but later recovered slightly. Rio Tintos moved steadily upward on New York advices.

Condition of the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Today's statement of the treasury balances in the general fund, exclusive of the $150,000,000 gold reserve in the division of redemption, shows: Available cash balance, $228,680,814; gold, $101,825,593; silver, $29,289,789; United States notes, $12,148,862; treasury notes of 1890, $91,126; national bank notes, $17,045,326; total receipts this day, $1,006,175; total receipts this month, $24,437,238; total receipts this year, $77,068,814; total expenditures this day, $1,120,000; total expenditures this month, $20,220,000; total expenditures this year, $77,318,180; deposits in national banks, $157,143,861.

AMALGAMATED COPPER LED UPWARD MOVEMENT

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—(Special.)—The rise in Amalgamated Copper stocks produced great interest during the afternoon. It was reported that the company had secured control of the Greene Consolidated Copper Company, a formidable rival of the Amalgamated, whose mines are located in Mexico. [illegible] in large blocks [illegible] in the final transactions. Boston has been a large buyer of it recently, and in addition the attitude of the Standard Oil interests toward the market [illegible] those who sold the stock during the panicky conditions that recently prevailed.

MOMENTUM CARRIES STOCK PRICES HIGHER

Professionals Continue Active and the Bull Position Was Strong.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, Aug. 15.

The stock market of yesterday was little more than a continuance of the preceding day, moving more as a result of the impetus gained in the early days of the week than from anything new or important affecting values. Professional activity burst out in new quarters—some to the mystification of the speculative rank and file—and was continued in aggressive fashion until the close of business. In many quarters the failure of the multitude of rumors concerning Reading to materialize would, it was thought, result in market recessions, but the bull contingent appeared too strongly intrenched to be driven from its position. Traders who worked for a reaction on this theory made but slight impression on the general list, which recovered so rapidly that they speedily abandoned their efforts.

News developments played only an insignificant part in the movement of the day and there was really very little in the way of actual news and nothing of a novel nature. Some of the railway traffic reports were of a favorable nature. Crop and weather advices were mixed, and the cotton and cereal markets moved irregularly, but generally staple prices were firmly maintained.

Speculative sentiment was favorably influenced by the suggestion that congress might be called in special session at an earlier date than was anticipated and might immediately consider a financial measure. But since the decline was not due to the money market the explanation of an advance based on legislative action looked rather strange. In the late trading much was heard of the prospects of a favorable bank statement.

AGREE TO SEPARATE.

Warring Interests in the Dominion Iron and Steel Company Decide to Part.

TORONTO, ONT., Aug. 14.—There is a great deal of talk about dissension in the Dominion Iron & Steel Company. The difficulty has been to arrange a basis for the separation. This has practically been accomplished and provides for Dominion Coal supplying the steel company with all the funds necessary for establishing plants to take advantage of the new bounties.

Leading interests in Dominion Coal are willing to pay for the privilege of divorcing the two concerns. It will be a cash arrangement and the large sum which Dominion Coal will put up has been facetiously referred to as alimony. There is talk of Dominion Steel taking in Nova Scotia Steel and Coal, getting in this way the advantage of a splendid staff of practical men fully acquainted with domestic ores and their treatment.

ASKS FOR RECEIVER FOR STEEL COMPANY

LANCASTER, PA., Aug. 14.—The bill in equity for the appointment of a receiver for the Susquehanna Iron & Steel Company was served on J. W. Steacy, general manager, at Columbia, today. Steacy has 15 days in which to file an answer. John Q. Denny, who filed the bill, alleges that high salaries are paid the president, secretary and treasurer and $6,500 annually is wasted on them.

PACKET ISAAC N. MASON SOLD.

Sale of Gertrude Pending—M. & O. Line Still Own Francis J. Torrance.

The packet Isaac N. Mason was sold yesterday by the Pittsburgh & Morgantown Packet Company to Capts. John Britton and John Crawford of Brownsville for $5,000. The deal was closed by J. M. Davis, a local steamboat broker. She will be used in the excursion business in the upper pools and in towing. Capt. Thomas Hoge will be her master and William Britton will be engineer.

The Gertrude, which was bought at public auction recently by S. W. Carpenter of Allegheny, has been considerably repaired and it is said that negotiations for her sale are about closed. The rumor that the Francis J. Torrance had been sold and would leave the local rivers at the end of the excursion season was denied yesterday by Theodore A. Miller, manager of the Monongahela & Ohio Transportation Company. It was said that the Torrance had been purchased by the Acme Packet Company of Rock Island, Ill., and that she would be taken to western waters and placed in the excursion business there.

At 9 o'clock last night the marks on the gauge at the Davis island dam indicated a stage of 3.6 feet, and the river was falling.

News of the Rivers.

The barge sunk in the channel near the tube works at McKeesport was raised yesterday by the Dilworth Coal Company, the owners.

The big Sprague is repaired at Cincinnati, but the water is too low to allow her to start on her trip for New Orleans.

Capt. John Moren, manager of transportation of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company, has returned from his trip to New Orleans, Atlantic City and New York.

Paul E. Moren of the transportation department of the River Coal Company will sail for Europe next week on the steamer Cedric. He leaves Pittsburgh next Tuesday, to be gone one month.

The Little Cricket, which left late Thursday night, returned late evening with the freight of the Lorena and Greenwood, which got up the river as far as Rochester. The Lorena transferred her freight to the Cricket and started back. The freight of the Greenwood was placed on a lighter and brought into port by the same packet. The Cricket leaves today at noon on her return trip. The Greenwood leaves Rochester at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Capt. J. M. Hammett of Marietta was in town yesterday and signed a contract to complete the new towboat Rival in 90 days. The new boat for Capt. Watson was launched Thursday from Capt. Hammett's boat yard. She will probably be named Scout. The machinery of the old D. T. Watson will be placed on the new boat. Capt. Hammett confirmed the rumor that Marietta had offered him a site for a boat yard and a bonus of $5,000. He would not say whether he would start soon to erect a big boat yard at that place. The keel of the Rival was laid yesterday and the frame work is up.

Standard Investment Bonds.

The Colonial Trust Company, 317 Fourth avenue, Pittsburgh, offers for sale a variety of bonds, yielding the purchaser from 4½ to 5½ per cent, which it recommends as desirable investments.

SCHLESINGER BEYOND REACH OF THE STATUTES

Former Partner of Miller and Ammon Said to Have Died at Ostend, Belgium.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Persons who knew Edward J. Schlesinger, who was indicted for connection with the Franklin Syndicate swindle, regarded with doubt today the dispatches from London that he died of heart disease at Ostend, Belgium. It is not the first time that Schlesinger's death has been reported since he fled with $100,000 of the syndicate's funds, just before W. F. Miller was arrested.

The persons who throw doubt upon the truthfulness of the report point to the fact that Schlesinger's death should be announced almost at the same time that Col. Ammon, his old side partner, began his sentence in Sing Sing for the Franklin Syndicate swindle. Schlesinger is now the only one of the principals in that swindle who has not been punished.

According to Miller's testimony against Ammon, Schlesinger originated the idea of offering 520 per cent on investments and paying the dividends out of the principal. After he fled from New York he was next heard of as a bookmaker on the Paris race tracks. He was suspected by the authorities of doing things that honest gamblers would shun and was barred from the tracks. The next heard of him was that he had gone broke and was working as a croupier at Monte Carlo. Now comes the announcement of his death under the name of Soley.

According to the cablegram Schlesinger's body is lying in the morgue at Ostend awaiting a claimant. Friends are said to have gone from London to get the body.

TROPICAL STORM CHURNS THE GULF OF MEXICO

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—A special bulletin was issued by the weather bureau tonight stating that the tropical storm is still in the Gulf of Mexico and apparently near the middle of western portion. The director of the Mexican central observatory reports that the storm is apparently in the center of the gulf and moving toward the coast of Tamaulipas with diminishing intensity. It is still considered dangerous for vessels to sail to or from West Gulf ports, but safe on the east coast for vessels sailing eastward.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at unchanged prices to an advance of five points on steadier cables and after ruling quiet but steady most of the session turned firmer after midday on reports of damage to the August flowering, as a result of unfavorable weather in the San Paulo district. The state department at Harrisburg yesterday issued the following charters: The Ohio Live Stock Commission Company, Pittsburgh, capital $50,000; Erie Coal and Coke Company, Myersdale, capital $150,000; the Woodland Water Company, Uniondale, capital $5,000; East End Sewer and Drainage Company, Altoona, capital $5,000; West Salem Water Company, Berwick, capital $5,000; Continental Rubber Works, Erie, capital $200,000; Iron City Realty Company, Pittsburgh, capital $5,000; International Savings and Trust Company, Pittsburgh, capital $25,000.

Dollar Wheat Once More.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 14.—"Dollar wheat" was at last seen on 'change today for the first time since the Leiter corner in 1898. It was cash wheat and there were sales at that figure. Later $1.02 was asked and $1.01 bid with no sales. The September option touched 85, the highest point in 14 years.

ANOTHER HEAD DROPS.

Division Chief Louis of the Post-office Department Said to Be Extravagant.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—(Special.)—It has been decided to dismiss M. A. W. Louis, chief of the division of supplies in the postoffice department, in the interest of better administration.

Louis has been shown to be extravagant in the purchase of ink, paying 50 cents a pound to a Cincinnati firm when the market price was 20 to 24 cents. He says it was of a superior quality. He bought much larger quantities than the postmaster general thought necessary.

Vanderbilts Home Again.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—(Special.)—Cornelius Vanderbilt, who went abroad six months ago, convalescent from an attack of typhoid fever, returned today fully restored to health on his yacht, the North Star, after a sojourn in Europe made memorable by the unprecedented honors paid to him by royalty and nobility of several continental countries.

HERRON BUILDING SOLD FOR $80,000

It Is Located at Federal and Erie Streets, Allegheny, and Went to Thomas R. Pittock.

FIFTH WARD DEAL OF $40,000

Bellevue Residence Bought for $16,000. Demand for Houses Is Equal to Last Winter—Building Contracts Awarded. New Contracting Firm.

The Land Title & Trust Company, successors to Gault & Giffen, has the distinction of making the only deal of importance this week and the largest sale with one exception, that has been made for two weeks. For S. W. Gault and W. W. Giffen they sold to Thomas R. Pittock the Herron building at Nos. 826-828 Federal street, Allegheny, for $80,000. The property measures 31x110 feet, and is at the southeast corner of Federal and Erie streets. The building is a six-story pressed brick structure, one of the best in Allegheny. The entire first floor is occupied by the wall paper store of Miller & Douglass and the five upper floors by flats. The building was erected only a few years ago and is always well rented so that it is regarded a good investment, for which purpose it was bought. At the price paid the property stands the purchaser $2,580 a front foot, or $23.46 a square foot.

Hill Property Changes Hands.

Three parcels of real estate in the Fifth ward have changed hands for $40,000. The former owner was William B. Knolle of McKees Rocks, who conveyed the property to Cassel B. Goorin. The plot is in three pieces, 20x91 feet and 20x95 feet facing in Tunnel street, 21x80 feet facing in Chatham street and a similar plot fronting on the south side of Wylie avenue, near Tunnel street. The plots are improved with two-story brick buildings and were bought for an investment.

The largest residence deal made in Bellevue for some time was closed yesterday by W. L. Alexander of the Bellevue Trust Company. For W. E. Marquis he sold to Katherine D. McKeown of No. 22 Thomas avenue, a 14-room modern brick house on lot 100x157 feet, for $16,000. The purchase was made for a home.

No Houses in Sight for Fall.

With the approach of fall it is evident that the supply of houses either for rent or sale will be as limited as ever. At the opening of the building season the outlook was good for a large amount of house building that would have relieved the situation considerably. The numerous labor disturbances and the "tight" money market, however, combined to curtail the projects, and not more than one-half the building first contemplated was started. This, too, was much later than usual in starting, and as a result hundreds of houses are now only fairly under way, instead of being under roof, as they would otherwise have been. The return of people from their summer vacations is starting the hunt for houses, and brokers report almost as brisk an inquiry as in some of the renting months last winter. The great cry is for houses that will rent for from $20 to $30 per month, of which there will be practically none ready by September 1. Where brokers have in charge bunches of houses that will be completed this fall, they have been able to rent them weeks in advance at high rates. New houses in prospect have also been sold on long-time agreements or options, in a number of cases the buyer paying down from $50 to $100 and agreeing to settle the balance in cash or mortgage when the house is completed.

The Nicola Building Company has under way 120 houses at Peters creek on the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad. The dwellings are to contain four rooms each and are for coal miners who will man the works being put in at this point. The total cost of the houses will be about $150,000. The same contractors have 150 frame houses started at Grove station and Castle Shannon, which will cost $1,500 each and be finished by January 1.

Architect Sidney F. Heckert has awarded the contract for the excavations for the Holy Family Orphan asylum at Clifton, Pa., to Frank Gallant. Two buildings will be erected this year, a main hall, 100x90 feet and four stories high, and a one-story power house 60 feet square. The cost of the buildings will run considerably over $100,000.

Architect Heckert has also awarded the contract to Thompson & James for a residence for Mrs. Martha Sankey in Trenton avenue, Wilkinsburg. The house will be of the colonial style, finished in hardwood, and will cost $11,000.

A new building company to be known as the Standard Contracting Company has applied for a charter. The company will be an outgrowth of the well-known firm of C. R. Miller & Co. of the East End. The incorporators are C. R. Miller, Southard Hay and C. R. Miller, Jr. The old firm is now building about 30 high-class houses on the old Charity hospital site in the Nineteenth ward, a dozen or more on the boulevard near Hazelwood avenue, and nearly 150 at Monessen and Vandergrift.

Renova street: Samuel W. Black & Co. sold to Jacob Lane, superintendent of the Keystone car wheel works, No. 266 Renova street, Twenty-third ward, a seven-room brick house, lot 21x130 feet, for $4,400.

Avalon: E. A. Hess & Co. sold for William A. South to William O. Harrison No. 214 Harrison avenue, Avalon, a seven-room frame house, lot 35x105 feet, for $4,000.

Race street: William J. Hutchinson sold to Caroline A. Shorts an improved lot 25x125x95 feet at the southeast corner of Race street and Homewood avenue, Twenty-first ward, for $4,800.

Lydia street: Robert R. Woodburn sold to Elizabeth A. McHale an improved lot, 30x103 feet, in the east side of Lydia street, Twenty-third ward, for $2,800.

Malvern street: Isaac Orne of Derry, Pa., sold to Judson R. Knotz an improved lot, 35x120 feet, in Malvern street, Twenty-first ward, for $2,500.

Industry street: James A. Griffith sold to L. A. Carter an improved lot, 25x100 feet, in the south side of Industry street, Thirty-eighth ward, for $1,800.

Pacific avenue: Frances B. Torley sold to James F. Haney a lot 34x100 feet, in the east side of Pacific avenue, Twentieth ward, for $8,500.

Edgewood: J. S. Scobey & Co. sold for E. S. Guthrie to J. D. Decersey a modern brick house, lot 30x100 feet, in the south side of Elm street, Edgewood, for $6,000.

Allegheny: T. C. Allison sold for Gottlieb Aldinger to David P. Hopkins five and a quarter acres with a five-room frame house, near Perrysville avenue, for $9,000.

OATS MARKET FIRMER WITH PRICES HIGHER

Concord Grapes Now Offering. Apple Supply Heavy and Quotations Again Decline.

A slightly firmer feeling in the oat situation caused prices to move forward a half cent yesterday, with sellers holding firm at the advanced figures. Receipts for several days have been very light, and demand is steady. Hay is unchanged, with arrivals moderate. Corn is strong, with shelled higher, bidding yesterday showing a willingness on the part of buyers to pay more for their corn. Middlings were more firm and prices moved forward.

Flour is steady at the advance of Thursday, and concessions are all withdrawn. Notwithstanding the higher quotations now ruling the local trade is buying freely and consumption is heavy. According to the Northwestern Miller, the stock of wheat in Minneapolis is reduced to the unprecedented point in recent years of less than 2,000,000 bushels, and it is not an easy matter to secure enough wheat for the mills to grind; it is a problem how they are going to maintain the current output and get the necessary wheat. The policy of holding for certain prices and not deviating therefrom is being observed more than heretofore, and, should it be persistently stuck to, cannot fail to prove of benefit to flour makers. Coffee is unchanged from its former condition, and prices are steady. Sugar was not changed yesterday, and prices continue as they have been for two weeks. Although the demand for refined sugar is not so heavy as usual at this time of the year, selling prices are so close to cost that jobbers are forced to maintain as strong a front as possible, having no room to drop.

Apples are in heavy supply, and prices are lower. The first Concord grapes of the season made their appearance yesterday and sold at 25 cents to 30 cents a basket. The outlook for grapes this year is not encouraging, and the probability is that there will be higher markets than ruled a year ago. California pears are selling at quotations somewhat above those of Thursday, and bananas have advanced. Tomatoes are still scarce and firm, while other produce is unchanged.

There is no change of any kind in the butter and cheese market, quotations ruling which have prevailed all week. Demand for butter is good, but the supply is large enough, and there is no shortage. Cheese is not quite so active as it was a week or two ago, but prices are steady as quoted. Eggs are coming in fair quantities, and the market is quiet. Poultry is quoted as it was yesterday, although there are reports of cutting prices.

HAY, GRAIN AND FEED.

In the Oil Fields

Developments in the lower southwest fields were light yesterday. Aside from the strikes reported recently in Ritchie county, W. Va., there is little interest in the various fields. There is very great activity in some of the older districts, but the wells are nearly all located inside of defined limits.

North of Cairo, Ritchie county, the Indiana & West Virginia Oil Company has drilled its No. 2 on the Harkness tract through the salt sand and has a natural producer good for 90 barrels a day. The location of this well is considerably in advance of developments and makes quite a stretch of territory look good which had attracted but little attention in the past. On the same tract the Hudson Oil Company's No. 22 is still holding up at 200 barrels a day. The same company has started to drill at its No. 25.

In the Whisky run extension the Carter Oil Company's No. 3 on the J. J. Mahaney farm is holding up at 200 barrels a day.

In the Fink district, Lewis county, the South Penn Oil Company has completed its test on the W. B. Maxwell farm and has a three-barrel pumper. In the Salem district, Harrison county, the same company has drilled its No. 16 on the Luther Haymond farm through the Gordon and has a very light gasser. In the same district the South Penn has completed its No. 2 on the Phineas Clark farm and has an eight-barrel pumper. The same company has drilled its test in the George Nuzum farm through all sands and has a duster.

In the Penn Grove field, in Wetzel county, the same company has given its No. 5, on the L. E. Dulaney farm, a shot, and increased its production to 80 barrels a day. When drilled into the sand it showed very little oil, and no gas. On the east side of the Folsom district the South Penn has drilled its No. 3 on the A. H. Heldreth farm into the pay in the stony sand, and the well produced 180 barrels the first 24 hours. It is still drilling. The same company's test on the Higgins-Porter farm is drilling in the Gordon, but is not showing any oil or gas.

In Tyler county, near Stewart station, J. Flack & Co. have drilled their test on the Fonner farm through the second Cow Run sand and have a duster.

Two miles south of Burton, Wetzel county, the Carter Oil Company is drilling at 2,000 feet at its test on the S. M. Shriver farm, located in Church district.

At St. Leo, Wetzel county, the Ft. Pitt Gas Company has made the location for a second test on the E. E. Hall farm. In the Cairo district, Ritchie county, the Pittsburgh & Parkersburg Oil Company has drilled its No. 4 in the Harkins tract through the salt sand, and has a show for a 10-barrel pumper. They will drill to the Keener, and if nothing better is found will test in the upper sand.

In the Smiths Ferry district, in Beaver county, Pa., H. M. Stewart has completed his No. 12 on the F. M. Ramsey farm, and has a small gasser.

In Wayne township, Greene county, the People's Gas Company has drilled its test on the L. D. Maple farm into the sand, and has a fair gasser.

In the Callery district, Butler county, the Sharpsburg Oil Company has drilled in a well on the Kaufman farm, showing for 15 barrels a day in the 100-foot.

In the Graysville district, in Monroe county, O., the Pure Oil Company has completed its No. 2 on the Louis Willison farm, and has a fair gasser in the Keener.

In the Graysville district, in the same county, the Fisher Oil Company has completed its No. 3 on the Daniel Compson farm, and has a 10-barrel pumper in the Keener sand.

In the Wolf Creek district, in Washington county, Charles E. Cameron has completed his No. 23, on the N. E. Stumell farm, and has a show for a fair producer.

In the same district, A. J. Lockard & Co. are drilling a second test on the Charles Mosier farm, and Zinn & Co. are drilling a test on the Daniel Solomon farm.

In the south end of the Temperanceville development and just west of Temperanceville, the American Oil Development Company has drilled in a second test on the John J. Jeffers farm, and has a show for a five-barrel pumper in the Berea grit.

WHEAT CLOSED HIGHER, CORN AND OATS LOWER

Continuation of Thursday's Bullishness Responsible for Advance in Wheat Pit.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—Trading was again active in wheat and the market was very strong most of the day. The opening was firm on higher cables, but a little reaction set in, due to the impression that the claims of big export demand made yesterday were somewhat exaggerated. The more favorable harvesting weather in the northwest was also a depressing influence early. The depression was only momentary, however, and the market again turned strong. As the session advanced the strength became more pronounced. Shorts became alarmed at the cash situation in the northwest, where a car of No. 1 northern was reported to have sold at $1 per bushel at Minneapolis, and covered freely toward the noon hour. The close was strong. Primary receipts were 695,000 bushels, against 1,188,237 bushels a year ago. Bradstreets' exports of wheat and flour for the week were 3,413,000 bushels. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 114 cars, which, with local receipts of 110 cars, 21 cars of contract grade, made total receipts for the three points of 224 cars, against 264 cars last week and 46 cars a year ago.

Trading in corn was quiet and the market on the whole was featureless. Excellent weather in the corn belt, with predictions of a continuation of the same conditions, caused general selling and but for the strength in wheat the market would have become demoralized. As it was, the market ruled about steady, with a tendency to weakness. Local receipts were 347 cars, with 17 cars of contract grade.

Favorable weather and increased receipts were responsible for an easier tone in oats, and the weakness in corn was also a depressing influence. Local longs were the best sellers, while the demand was scattered. Local receipts were 261 cars.

Provisions were firm early on a better tone in the hog market, but later the market eased off on selling by brokers. The feature in the trading was changing from September ribs to October. September pork closed 7½c lower, at $13 17½. September lard was off 2½c, at $8 02½, while ribs were down 5@7½c, at $7 77½@7 80.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 75 cars; corn, 180 cars; oats, 255 cars; hogs, 12,000 head.

Herrs Island Stockyards To Be Opened September 1

Orders have been issued for the opening of the Herrs Island stockyards September 1, and, if possible, several days previous to that date all freight consigned to the Pennsylvania stockyards will be sent to the new quarters on the island. Second Vice President C. E. Pugh and General Manager W. W. Atterbury, with division officers, yesterday made an inspection of the yards and later left for the east over the West Penn.

Much importance is attached to their trip over the West Penn, as all through stock will be handled via that division when Herrs Island is opened. President A. J. Cassatt, on his annual inspection tour last fall, rode over the West Penn with a view of authorizing more tracks, and since that time much new work has been done.

Simon O'Donnell, superintendent of the stockyards, said yesterday that every indication pointed to a transfer on September 1, although he said there may be some delays. Both Mr. Pugh and Mr. Atterbury were pleased with the progress of the work on the island, and expressed a desire that the yards might be transferred from East Liberty as soon as possible.

The present location of the stockyards, it is said, will be used for a freight classification yard between the Pittsburgh division, the Allegheny Valley and the West Penn. The Pennsylvania has been purchasing additional property in that section. Robert Pitcairn, resident assistant to the president, said yesterday that yards of some kind would be built at East Liberty. He was inclined to think that the tracks might be used for passenger cars.

Investigating Shortage.

Officials of almost all degrees of authority of both the Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio were either here yesterday or are expected today. The shortage of cars is claiming their attention and they are flocking here to get at the bottom of the complaints made by the shippers. C. E. Pugh, second vice president, and W. W. Atterbury, general manager of the Pennsylvania, who arrived here Thursday morning, were particularly active during the morning. Mr. Atterbury had a long talk with General Manager G. L. Peck of the lines west, and later G. L. Potter, third vice president of the Baltimore & Ohio, was admitted. Mr. Potter, in addition to the car shortage, was arranging for an entry to Herrs Island. The Pennsylvania officials went east during the afternoon. Mr. Potter left the city last night at 9 o'clock.

L. G. Haas, assistant general manager of the Baltimore & Ohio, spent an hour yesterday with Mr. Potter. He was on his way to Ohio and will pass through here next week. General Manager C. S. Sims, with General Supt. W. C. Loree, is at Cleveland and will be here this morning.

Wellsville Yards.

The capacity of the Wellsville, O., yards of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh is to be almost doubled. Contracts have been awarded by the engineering department to Rinehart Bros. of East Liverpool. The work will cost about $200,000. When the additional work is completed the Wellsville yards will be rivaled only by the mammoth yards at Conway.

Railroad Notes.

Thomas Trainer has been made agent of the Union Star Line at Columbus, to succeed A. H. Huston.

T. H. Noonan, general manager of the Continental Line and Central States Dispatch, is in the city.

J. E. Muhlfeld, general superintendent of motive power of the Baltimore & Ohio, was here yesterday.

Officials of the Pennsylvania lines denied yesterday that men are being laid off at Conway or that there has been a reduction in wages on the Cleveland & Pittsburgh division.

P. D. Barry, general yardmaster of the Baltimore & Ohio at New Castle, resigned that position yesterday morning. He will become trainmaster of terminals for the Illinois Central at Cairo, Ill.

The Western Passenger Association has served notice that it will not offer St. Louis Fair rates until some assurance is given by the citizens of that city that they will be protected against the methods of scalpers.

A financial bulletin issued yesterday, as a comment on the July earnings of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, says: "With a gross increase of $685,955 in the July statement there is a net increase of $381,625, despite heavy advances for fuel, wages and supplies over last year. The fuel will cost the road this year about $900,000 more than last year and wages have been increased over $200,000 a year. Much of the Baltimore & Ohio's business is handled over grades of 100 feet to the mile, but many of the lighter grades have been eliminated, and heavy trains, large cars and intelligent operation have served to minimize the cost of handling business on divisions where the grades are comparatively few, thus reducing the average cost."

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

"Tonopah has a population of 4,500 people," said John C. Ralston, M. E., who is back from a trip to the new Nevada mining center. "It has been growing quietly, but very rapidly and has four or five big mines. It is still without transportation, although the Southern Pacific is keeping closely in touch with developments there with the view to building."

The Salmon River Copper Mining and Milling Company and the Idaho Copper Mining and Smelting Company are working full crews of men and making good progress. The latter property is superintended by Fred A. Davis, a mining man of extensive experience from British Columbia. The main tunnel is now close to 400 feet and has already encountered a splendid body of smelting ore.

The White River Zinc Mines Company has filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state for Arkansas, placing the capital stock at $30,000, with $30,000 paid in. George L. Mallory of Little Rock is president.

H. Stanislawsky, manager of the Mt. Baker and Yale Mining Company, was in Spokane last week from Yale, B. C. He is accompanied by A. P. Gillis, a mining machinery contractor, who says: "I will put a 60-stamp mill and concentrator, costing $75,000, on the company's property, five miles south of Yale, B. C."

An eight-foot body of ore averaging $30 has been discovered on the property of the Elkton company at Cripple Creek.

C. C. Titus, manager of the Wallace Sampling works, reports that the sampler handled 12,000 tons of ore for the different Coeur d'Alene mines in July. Figured at $50 per ton, which is a low estimate for the ore, the product shipped by the sampler for the month amounts to $600,000.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Spot tin was 5s lower in London at £126, but futures advanced 5s 4d to £124 10s, and the local market ruled steady at $28 30@28 50. Copper was rather irregular in London, spot there being 7s 6d lower at £57 15s, while futures were 2s 6d higher at £56 10s. Locally, copper continues quiet, but was slightly higher. Lake is now quoted at $13 12½@13 25; electrolytic at $13 12½, and casting at $12 87½. Lead was steady and unchanged at $4 20 in New York, and is 3d higher in London, at £11 3s 9d. Spelter was unchanged in London at £20 5s, and a little firmer here, where it closed at $6 00. Iron closed at 51s 9d in Glasgow and at 45s 9d in Middlesboro. Locally, iron was quiet; No. 1 foundry northern is quoted at $17 50@18 00; No. 2 foundry northern at $16 50@17 00; No. 1 foundry southern and No. 1 foundry southern soft at $16 75@17 00.

THE WAITING TENDONCY CONTINUES DOMINANT

Purchasers of Iron and Steel Do Not Seem to Anticipate Future Requirements.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say:

Earnings of railways for August thus far show an average gain of 7.7 per cent over last year's figures, and 16.3 per cent compared with 1901. Distribution of merchandise is very heavy, more interruption to traffic being recorded, and in staple lines prices are steady. Preparations for fall trade are vigorous, many manufacturers working over time to fill important orders. Collections are fully as prompt as usual for the season, although in some lines there is less inclination to discount bills. Crop news is reassuring. Foreign trade at this port for the last week showed a loss of $1,161,049 in exports, as compared with the same week last year, and imports decreased $2,127,575.

Hesitation in certain branches of the iron and steel industry, incident to the season and aggravated by labor controversies, is indicated with some degree of definiteness by the monthly statistics just published by the Iron Age. A vast amount of business is being done, but there is no indication to anticipate requirements of the future beyond contracts already placed. The week has brought no developments in the price situation, but there is a steady gain in purchases of pig iron, although the meeting of the leading concerns' committee failed to decide upon placing new contracts, which was a disappointment to some prospective sellers. Merchant steel and pipe show improved demand, but in plates and structural material the waiting tendency is still dominant.

A slight increase in the volume of business in cotton goods is confined to small orders for quick delivery. Quotations for cottons are firmly held and advance in staple prints occurred this week, but the ratio of the product to the raw material is far from such as to encourage manufacturing. A steady demand for men's wear woolens sustains prices and business in dress goods is improving. Dry-goods jobbers report fairly good buying, the feature of the week being some special drives in dress fabrics. The feature this week has been the liberal purchasing of heavy shoes for next spring by local jobbers.

Failures this week numbered 174 in the United States, against 196 last year, and in Canada 22, compared with 21 a year ago.

PRESIDENT THE COMMANDER

Head of War Department Forms Connection Between Chief of Staff and the President and Is Superior to the Former—Transmission of Orders.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Secretary Root tomorrow will promulgate an order defining the duties of the general staff of the army, under the law which goes into effect August 15. The most important feature of the order is that in relation to the selection and duty of the chief of staff. On this point the secretary says:

"The command of the army rests with the president, who will place parts of the army, and separate armies whenever constituted, under commanders subordinate to his general command; and he may place the whole army under a single commander, but under ordinary conditions control of the army will be effected without a second in command.

"The president's command is exercised through the secretary of war and chief of staff. The secretary of war is charged with carrying out the policies of the president in military affairs, and acts in conformity to the president's instructions. His acts are the president's acts, and his orders the president's orders.

"The chief of staff reports to the secretary of war, acts as his military adviser, receives orders from him given in behalf of the president.

"The chief of staff is detailed by the president from officers of the army not below the grade of brigadier general. The successful performance of the duties of the position requires a relation of confidence and sympathy between the chief of staff and the president, and between the chief of staff and the secretary of war. For this reason without any reflection whatever upon the officer detailed, the detail will in every case cease, unless sooner terminated, on the day following the expiration of the term of the office of the president by whom the detail is made, and if at any time the chief of staff considers that he can no longer sustain toward the president and the secretary of war the relation above described, it will be his duty to apply to be relieved."

Two general orders will be issued by General Young tomorrow as chief of staff of the army under the new law. The first states that in compliance with the instructions of the president, he, General Young, relinquishes command of the army and assumes the duties of chief of staff. The second order announces the assignment of officers of the general staff.

Heretofore all army orders have been issued from the headquarters of the army adjutant general's office, by command of lieutenant general, but signed by the adjutant general. Hereafter orders will be issued direct from the war department, signed by the chief of staff and inscribed, "official, W. P. Hall, acting adjutant general."

SCHOOLS WERE DISCUSSED.

Joint Synod of Lutheran Church of Ohio and Pennsylvania Had Busy Day.

The discussion on the parochial schools and the relation of the teachers to the ministers was continued yesterday morning at the third day's session of the meeting of the joint synod of Ohio and Pennsylvania of the Lutheran church at St. Paul's church, Allegheny. The discussion lasted until noon and much interest was manifested among the visiting teachers of the Lutheran parochial schools of this vicinity.

It was generally agreed that the ministers should not interfere in the work of the teachers, but might advise them from time to time. Dr. E. Cronenwett of Butler, Pa., said that the ministers and teachers must work in harmony to accomplish much in the schools.

During the afternoon reports from the secretaries on home and foreign work were made. In the evening an address was made on "How to Bring Up Children" by the Rev. W. H. Shoman.

WOMAN FIGHTS ALONE FOR A LARGE FORTUNE

Mrs. J. P. Sellers of Sharpsburg Expects Big English Estate to Pass Into Her Hands Soon—Contest Has Lasted Seven Long Years.

For seven long years a plucky Sharpsburg woman has fought to secure a large fortune in England which she claims rightfully belongs to her. A settlement of the contest is expected soon and the modest home in the pretty suburb of Sharpsburg will soon be transformed into a palace.

The woman is Mrs. J. P. Sellers of Twenty-first and Noble streets, Sharpsburg. She claims she is a granddaughter of Joseph Walker, who died in Lincoln, Stoneboro, England,, many years ago leaving an enormous fortune, including much real estate. Mrs. Sellers was born at Lincoln and came to this country 29 years ago. Since then she has resided in Sharpsburg.

While she was in this country her grandfather died and relatives kept it a secret from her. In some manner they secured charge of the estate and she never received a penny of the money. When she learned of her grandfather's death she made an investigation and discovered she was being wronged.

A large part of the estate is made up of houses and real estate. These have been bringing in an enormous rental to those whom Mrs. Sellers claims have been robbing her. Mrs. Sellers is suing for the bulk of the estate now, and if she wins her case she will begin suit for the sums collected while they held the estate when she should have had it.

Mrs. Sellers claims that the entire estate should have passed into her hands when her daughter became of age. Her daughter reached that period seven years ago, but those who held the estate refused to turn it over to her. She had suit entered at once and since that time it has dragged slowly through the English courts.

Mrs. Sellers is singularly uncommunicative concerning the suit, but she admitted that she expects a settlement in her favor soon. She said that if she received what belongs to her she would be a wealthy woman and would always make Sharpsburg her home. She will build a home for herself and daughter where the small frame house now stands. She stated that there were other heirs to a portion of the estate in America, but that she had been compelled to go through the fight alone.

STEEL CORPORATION HAS PLENTY OF PIG IRON

Will Need 100,000 Tons for Fourth Quarter—Buyers Are Unaccountably Offish.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—The action of the pig iron committee of the Steel Corporation in deciding not to purchase any more pig iron at this time was due more to the corporation's present supply of pig iron than to a belief that the market will go lower. It is stated that the corporation has enough iron to last it through the third quarter, but that it will need fully 100,000 tons for the last quarter.

Representatives of the corporation state that the decrease of pig iron production during July is one of the best features of a constantly improving situation, as it will prevent accumulation of an unwieldy surplus. The decrease in pig iron output for the month is estimated at 150,000 tons. The improved feeling in the pig iron market, which has been noticed for several days continues. There has been rather more business and there are some signs of further improvement.

The attitude of buyers is still offish and considering what is believed to be their actual necessities the apathy is unaccountable. It is now hoped that by the first of next month the large interests will come into the market and bring about the change which has been so long looked for.

CANADIAN BIDDERS LOSE TO PITTSBURGH.

Westinghouse Co. Secures Large Equipment Contract Under Their Very Noses.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—The Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company has secured another important Canadian contract. Notwithstanding that such machinery has to pay a duty of 20 per cent ad valorem on entering the Dominion, the Westinghouse concern quoted a price for the equipment delivered in Canada considerably less than that submitted by Canadian manufacturers.

The contract was awarded by the Peterborough Hydraulic Power Company, which is to build a large plant on the Otonabee river in the town of Peterborough, Ont. The power house will be one of the finest in North America. Energy is to be generated for the Peterborough mills of the American Cereal Company. Power will also be furnished for several other manufacturing plants. The Peterborough Light and Power Company, which does the electric lighting and small power business in Peterborough, will also be supplied by electricity from the Otonabee river plant.

The initial equipment will include a 1,500-kilowatt, 2,240-volt, 60-cycle generator to operate at 750 revolutions per minute, and to be directly connected to water wheels; also two 125-volt, direct-current, direct-coupled exciters of 75-kilowatt capacity, each, together with switchboard, consisting of a large generator panel and two exciter panels.

INDIANS CANNOT BE RESTRAINED

If Kickapoos Wish to Emigrate to Mexico Government Will Not Stop Them.

CANNOT SELL THEIR LANDS

Neither Can They Take With Them Any Portable Property Issued to Them by Uncle Sam—They Emigrated Once Before from Kansas.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 14.

The government took no steps today to prevent the Kickapoo Indians migrating to Mexico. The government will not interfere so long as they do not attempt to take property received from the government. There is no regulation under under which they could be restrained from leaving the country. Commissioner Jones of the Indian bureau said if the Kickapoos knew what was good for them, they would stay where they are, as congress would hardly authorize an appropriation to pay their expenses back to their reservation if they became dissatisfied in Mexico.

The Indians in 1894 under the general allotment act received 80 acres each, but the lands are to be held 25 years, or until 1919. Then the president can extend the time so that the Indians may have to retain their holdings indefinitely.

It cost the government $65,000 to bring the Kickapoos back from Mexico when they migrated years ago. They had been living in Kansas. Dissatisfied with the provisions of a treaty, they left the state and started south. They reached Mexico, but soon became a source of annoyance on the frontier, and congress passed a bill appropriating $25,000 to be used in collecting them and other Indians roving on the Mexican border and locating them in the Indian Territory. Later another appropriation of $40,000 was made for this purpose.

HEAD SOLID SORE

Another Wonderful Cure by Cuticura.

"I herewith write out in full the beginning and end of that terrible disease Eczema, which caused my babe untold suffering and myself many sleepless nights.

"My baby was born seemingly a fair, healthy child, but when she was three weeks old a swelling appeared on the back of her head, and in course of time broke. It did not heal but grew worse, and the sore spread from the size of a dime to that of a dollar. I used all kinds of remedies that I could think of, but nothing seemed to help; in fact, it grew worse. Her hair fell out where the sore was, and I feared it would never grow again. It continued until my aged father came on a visit, and when he saw the baby he told me 'to get Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment right away.'

"To please him I did so, and to my surprise by their use the sore began to heal over, the hair grew over it, and to-day she has a nice head of hair, her skin is as fair as a lily, and she has no scar left to recall that awful sore, and it is over eight months and no sign of it returning."

Mrs. WM. RYER, Elk River, Minn.

CURE PERMANENT

Mrs. Ryer writes Feb. 25, 1903, Six Years Later, That Cure is Permanent.

"Your letter of the 19th inst. received asking in regard to the cure of my baby some six years ago. Well, the disease has never returned to her head which at that time was a solid sore on top and down the back. Once or twice since then a patch has come on her hand near the wrist but it finally disappeared after proper treatment with Cuticura."

Sold throughout the world. Cuticura Resolvent, 50c. (in form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c. per vial of 60), Ointment, 50c., Soap, 25c. Depots: London, 27 Charterhouse Sq.; Paris, 5 Rue de la Paix; Boston, 137 Columbus Ave. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props. Send for "How to Cure Eczema."

Half Off on Men's Suits.

This liberal offer still continues, and every day adds to the popularity of this great sale. Thousands have already been benefited and thousands more will reap the benefit today. True, we are sacrificing hundreds and hundreds of suits that could easily be left on our tables and be sold for early fall wear, but, as usual, we are not doing things by half. When we told you that the half-off offer included every men's suit, made of fine light weight homespuns, wool crashes, fancy cheviots, unfinished worsteds, and many other materials, we were sincere. Although many of the suits are well adapted for early fall wear, they go, together with all the outing and light-weight suits. Every garment is up to our well-established standard of excellence in workmanship, quality and fit, and none but the best makers of men's clothing are represented. At the rate the suits are going now, it will be but a very short time until we will be compelled to discontinue the sale, and we would urge you to take advantage of the few days that remain and secure one of these splendid suits at ½ MARKED PRICES.
